Illuminated Manuscripts Richard Hayman, 2017-09-21 Illuminated manuscripts are among the most beautiful precious and mysterious works of Western art Before the printing press was invented books were produced by hand and their illustration using brightly coloured pigments and gold embellishments was a labour of love and an act of piety in itself The results are stunning The works emanating from the scriptoria of monasteries were mainly religious texts including illuminated bibles psalters and works for private devotion known as books of hours Illuminated Manuscripts describes the origin and history of illumination in the Middle Ages covering the artists and their techniques and the patrons who commissioned them It explains the subject matter found in medieval works such as saints and Bible stories and the use of ornamental flourishes and is illustrated with many fine examples of the genre including the Lindisfarne Gospels and the Book of Kells

Medieval Illuminators and Their Methods of Work Jonathan James Graham Alexander, 1992-01-01 Who were the medieval illuminators How were their hand produced books illustrated and decorated In this beautiful book Jonathan Alexander presents a survey of manuscript illumination throughout Europe from the fourth to the sixteenth century He discusses the social and historical context of the illuminators lives considers their methods of work and presents a series of case studies to show the range and nature of the visual sources and the ways in which they were adapted copied or created anew Alexander explains that in the early period Christian monasteries and churches were the main centers for the copying of manuscripts and so the majority of illuminators were monks working in and for their own monasteries From the eleventh century lay scribes and illuminators became increasingly numerous and by the thirteenth century professional illuminators dominated the field During this later period illuminators were able to travel in search of work and to acquire new ideas they joined guilds with scribes or with artists in the cities and their ranks included nuns and secular women Work was regularly collaborative and the craft was learned through an apprenticeship system Alexander carefully analyzes surviving manuscripts and medieval treatises in order to explain the complex and time consuming technical processes of illumination its materials methods tools choice of illustration and execution From rare surviving contracts he deduces the preoccupation of patrons with materials and schedules Illustrating his discussion with examples chosen from religious and secular manuscripts made all over Europe Alexander recreates the astonishing variety and creativity of medieval illumination His book will be a standard reference for years to come
