Chakrabarty, 1995 The New World Politics of the Indo-Pacific Josukutty C A, Joyce Sabina Lobo, 2024-06-03 The book offers a vivid analysis of the new geopolitics in the Indo Pacific in terms of big power rivalry between the US China and country wise perspectives situating largely within the late 2000s and culminates with the developments of the COVID 19 period The great power shift marked by the rise of China and the relative decline of the US poses a serious challenge to the balance of power in the Indo Pacific region and the world order in general Ironically the play of realism in the region is stymied by broad partnerships of key countries that utilise the liberal approaches of cooperation with both rivals the US and China The book captures the mosaic of stakeholders rivals the US and China along with Russia other QUAD members Australia India and Japan key ASEAN members Indonesia Malaysia Singapore and Vietnam vulnerable states in East Asia viz Taiwan and South Korea and groupings including the ASEAN and QUAD that constitute the new world politics of the Indo Pacific The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of Indo Pacific studies global politics and international relations

The New World Architecture Jose Magone, 2017-07-28 The collapse of the bipolar world sustained by the United States and the former Soviet Union led to a power vacuum in the 1990s that the European Union has only reluctantly begun to fill It is under pressure to take over important international tasks and roles in order to develop a new equilibrium in the system of international relations After 2000 reforms were undertaken so that the European Union could deal more efficiently with the tasks the new political system had acquired since the early 1990s With respect to its international role reorganization of the EU's external relations department was high on the list The New World Architecture explores the contribution that the European Union is making to the emerging global governance system It discusses the theoretical and historical aspects of European integration within the framework of the emerging regional EU and global governance systems It explores three regimes of governance that are contributing to holding together the new emerging EU multilevel governance system None of these is complete all are partial They include the political regime of governance the socioeconomic regime of governance and the territorial regime of governance The author assesses the impact of the European Union on global politics The Mediterranean and Latin America represent regions in which the European Union is investing considerable effort in order to create new forms of cooperation Magone argues that within the next twenty five years global governance may and should emerge as the new and reconfigured stable system of international relations In this system the European Union is and will remain the most advanced regional system This volume will be of interest to specialists scholars and students of European Politics and the European Union

Baha'i and Globalisation

Annika Hvithamar, Margit Warburg, Morten Warmind, 2005-12-01 Globalisation has become a buzzword that typically refers to the intensifying integration of the world economy especially as midwived by technological advances It also implies a growing political and cultural sense that all humanity is globally interdependent There have always been individuals of course who have advocated such awareness one of them being the founder of the Baha'i faith who formulated a spiritual equivalent as the religion's central doctrine in the late 19th century Ye are the fruits of one tree and the leaves of one branch Its emphasis on global unification made Baha'i an obvious candidate for a case study on new religions and globalisation The chapters in this volume fall into two sections diachronic and synchronic The first part is organised chronologically beginning with the emergence of the globalist tendency in the messianic vision of Babism the precursor to Baha'i and concluding with an analytic history of its leaders changing attitudes to international politics The second part considers a variety of global themes in contemporary Baha'i practice including global thought in Baha'i writings the impact of the internet and the triumphalist and secular strains in Baha'i identity Though five million members make it one of the world's most successful new religions Baha'i has attracted little scholarly attention Most of the academics concentrating on Baha'i have contributed to this volume which will appeal not only to students of modern religious movements but to anyone interested in the ways religions can adapt to and embrace the modern world

Reason and Revelation Seena Fazel, John Danesh, 2002

Measuring Soft Power: A New Global Index Mr. Serhan Cevik, Tales Padilha, 2024-10-04 Soft power is difficult to measure directly and existing indicators mostly subjective and not always transparent fail to take into account the multidimensional nature of soft power In this paper we introduce a new comprehensive Global Soft Power Index GSPI composed of six dimensions for a broad sample of countries over a long span of time The proposed framework allows for comparisons not only at the headline level of the GSPI but also at the level of the sub indices which in turn helps identify and study how countries differ at a granular level of soft power In a final step of the analysis we present a possible macro financial application to investigate the relationship between soft power and exchange rates The results indicate that some dimensions of the GSPI play an important role in explaining exchange rate volatility Overall the composite GSPI presented in this paper provides a systematic approach to measure soft power along its multiple dimensions By capturing the matrix of soft power characteristics the GSPI offers significant advantages in comparative analysis of soft power across countries and over time

Emergence Charles Lerche,Charles O. Lerche,1991 Rethinking Environmental Protection Phillip F. Cramer,2000-01-01 Despite widespread popular support for environmental action Phillip F Cramer argues that current U S environmental policy approaches fail to address the real threat of environmental insecurity Cramer traces this failure to a reluctance to recognize and address the interconnectedness of natural forces just as all elements within the environment are linked so too should our perspectives on and responses to environmental degradation be linked In this book Cramer provides an innovative holistic approach to environmental protection that incorporates the best lessons learned from the fields of biology ethics philosophy political science law ecology and international relations He especially advocates local action and providing illustrative examples demonstrates how local action around the world is most effective when carried out within a global framework that supports information dissemination and international coordination This book will energize to thought and action any scholar student or general reader concerned with environmental issues and our current trajectory toward environmental decay
