Reconceiving the Second Sex Marcia C. Inhorn, Maruska la Cour Mosegaard, Tine Tjørnhøj-Thomsen, Helene Goldberg, 2009-08-01 Extensive social science research particularly by anthropologists has explored women's reproductive lives their use of reproductive technologies and their experiences as mothers and nurturers of children Meanwhile few if any volumes have explored men's reproductive concerns or contributions to women's reproductive health Men are clearly viewed as the second sex in reproduction This volume argues that the marginalization of men is an oversight of considerable proportions It sheds new light on male reproduction from a cross cultural global perspective focusing not only upon men in Europe and America but also those in the Middle East Asia and Latin America Both heterosexual and homosexual married and unmarried men are featured in this volume which assesses concerns ranging from masculinity and sexuality to childbirth and fatherhood

The Social Meaning of Children and Fertility Change in Europe Anne Lise Ellingsæter, An-Magritt Jensen, Merete Lie, 2013 Aiming to expand our comprehension of the complex structures and cultures that influence reproductive choice this book uses empirical studies from six nations France Scandinavia Denmark Norway Sweden Germany and Italy to show how different economic political and cultural contexts interact in young adults fertility rationales It will be of interest to students and scholars of sociology demography anthropology and gender studies

For Sociology John Eldridge, 2024-09-13 First published in 2001 For Sociology is not the dogmatic stand of a single discipline against the tide of interdisciplinarity Rather it is an attempt to explore the nature of sociological argument and the relationship of sociology both to the natural sciences and other social sciences as well as assessing its role in understanding the complexities of the contemporary world The essays in the collection were all presented at the British Sociological Association's annual conference in 1999 which sought to reassess sociology thirty years on from Alvin Gouldner's famous challenge to the discipline Through reflection on the continuities and discontinuities in the discipline and an exploration of some of the key themes and issues of our time the writers represented here pose new challenges to the sociological imagination through the formal channels of globalisation but also informally carried by individuals across cultural and social boundaries through sexual social and commercial interactions The volume brings together anthropologists sociologists and cultural studies scholars both senior and emerging from around the globe Offering an important and topical contribution to the developing global literature on sexuality sexual identity culture and health it is of interest to researchers and advanced students in these areas Cultural Dynamics of Women's Lives Ana Clara S. Bastos, Jaan Valsiner, Kristiina Uriko, 2012-12-01 This book explores the diverse landscapes wherein women struggle for their personal and social identities and lives between biology and culture destiny and choice shared and individual worlds tradition and modernity Their peripheral lives have central meaning Chaudhary this volume in any society and as such are approached as a primary subject in this book as the chapters traverse ten different countries on three continents North America United States Latin America Brazil Chile Colombia Asia India and Europe United Kingdom Ireland Portugal Finland Estonia Throughout these different places women's lives are an interesting stage for observing the interaction between biology and culture e.g. sex vs gender pregnancy and childbirth vs transition to motherhood The focus on the cultural variability of human experience opens the door for the search of commonalities so needed in psychological theorizing Here this search is directed by how cultural models of womanhood and motherhood constrain personal experiences especially through developmental transitions This book is ultimately an opportunity to approach women's lives from the perspective of the women themselves particularly making audible and explicit their voices and the axis of logic that structures their world Undoubtedly it is a valuable opportunity for women and men interested in understanding and constructing human experience inside better worlds Reproductive Agency, Medicine and the State Maya Unnithan-Kumar, 2005-11 Recent years have seen many changes in human reproduction resulting from state and medical interventions in childbearing processes Based on empirical work in a variety of societies and countries this volume considers the relationship between reproductive processes of fertility pregnancy childbirth and the postpartum period on the one hand and attitudes medical technologies and state health policies in diverse cultural contexts on the other Reproductive Technologies as Global Form Michi Knecht, 2012-07 In the thirty five years since the first test tube baby in vitro fertilization and other methods of reproductive assistance have become a common aspect of family life and medicine in affluent nations and increasingly throughout the world How do persons seeking treatment donors and medical experts make use of these reproductive technologies How in crossing borders between nations do they manage to evade legal and bioethical regulations And how do they make sense of these new modes of making kinship against the backdrop of diverse world views and social settings Women, Science, and Technology Mary Weyer, Mary Barbercheck, Donna Cookmeyer, Hatice Ozturk, Marta Wayne, 2013-09-11 Women Science and Technology is an ideal reader for courses in feminist science studies This third edition fully updates its predecessor with a new introduction and twenty eight new readings that explore social constructions mediated by technologies expand the scope of feminist technoscience

studies and move beyond the nature culture paradigm The State of Desire Lea Taragin-Zeller, 2023-08-08 WINNER 2024 Jordan Schnitzer Book Award Social Sciences Anthropology and Folklore Category given by the Association for Jewish Studies An intimate account of Orthodox family planning amid shifting state policies in Israel In recent years Israeli state policies have attempted to dissuade Orthodox Jews from creating large families an objective that flies in the face of traditional practices in their community As state desires to cultivate a high income tech centered nation come into greater conflict with common Orthodox familial practices Jewish couples are finding it increasingly difficult to actualize their reproductive aims and communal expectations In The State of Desire Lea Taragin Zeller provides an intimate examination of the often devastating effects of Israel s steep cutbacks in child benefits which are aimed at limiting the rapid increase in the ultra Orthodox Jewish population Taragin Zeller takes the reader beyond Orthodox taboos capturing how cracks in religious convictions engender a painful process of re orientating desires to reproduce amidst shrinking public support feminism and new ideals of romance intimacy and parenting Paying close attention to ethical dilemmas the book explores not just pro ceptive but also contraceptive desires around family formation when to have children how many and at what cost The volume offers a rare look at issues of contraception in the Orthodox context and notably includes interviews with men making the case that we cannot continue to study reproductive choice solely through the perspectives of women The State of Desire is a groundbreaking anthropological approach to the study of religion and reproduction and a remarkably intimate account of the delicate balance between personal desires and those of the state
