The Library of Paradise David A. Michelson,2022-09-15 Contemplative reading is a spiritual practice developed by Christian monks in sixth and seventh century Mesopotamia Mystics belonging to the Church of the East pursued a form of contemplation which moved from reading to meditation to prayer to the ecstasy of divine vision The Library of Paradise tells the story of this Syriac tradition in three phases its establishment as an ascetic practice the articulation of its theology and its maturation and spread The sixth century monastic reform of Abraham of Kashkar codified the essential place of reading in East Syrian ascetic life Once established the practice of contemplative reading received extensive theological commentary Abraham s successor Babai the Great drew upon the ascetic system of Evagrius of Pontus to explain the relationship of reading to the monk's pursuit of God. Syriac monastic handbooks of the seventh century built on this Evagriean framework. Enanisho of Adiabene composed an anthology called Paradise that would stand for centuries as essential reading matter for Syriac monks. Dadisho of Qatar wrote a widely copied commentary on the Paradise. Together these works circulated as a one volume library which offered readers a door to Paradise through contemplation. The Library of Paradise is the first book length study of East Syrian contemplative reading. It adapts methodological insights from prior scholarship on reading including studies on Latin lectio divina. By tracing the origins of East Syrian contemplative reading this study opens the possibility for future investigation into its legacies including the tradition's long reception history in Sogdian, Arabic and Ethiopic monastic libraries.
