Finucan, 2019-04-18 Mental illness can be treated but stigma can be cured Part memoir and part how to this engrossing book is the culmination of a lifetime of unique personal experiences with illness by author Jason Finucan As someone who has experienced both a major physical illness heart defect leading to open heart surgery in 1988 and a major mental illness bipolar disorder leading to hospitalization in 2005 Jason realized that the stigma still surrounding mental illness was unnecessarily making his diagnosis of bipolar disorder far worse than it needed to be And this problem was happening everywhere Despite significant gains in awareness in recent years mental illnesses like clinical depression or anxiety disorder are still treated far differently than physical illnesses like cancer As a result of the confusion isolation and lack of support created by stigma there is an increase in the number of people suffering with untreated mental illnesses or tragically dying by suicide In this book Jason shares his alarmingly candid personal experiences with an engaging storytelling style and offers insight on how we perceive illness in our society today the important role of empathy and what we can all do to effect change His goal is for everyone to understand this important topic so they are empowered to make a real change and ultimately join his vision for future without stigma This is a mental health movement and Jason wants you to be a part of it divided over the reason Was she becoming a shaman possessed by a god Was she deranged in need of physical restraint drugs and hospitalization Or was she being cynically manipulated by her ne er do well husband to elicit sympathy and money from her neighbors In the end the woman was taken away from the area to her mother s house For some villagers this settled the matter for others the debate over her behavior was probably never truly resolved The first text is a short story written shortly after the incident which occurred almost thrity years ago the second text is a copy of the fieldnotes collected about the events covered in the short story the third text is an article published in 1990 in American Ethnologist that analyzes the incident from the author s current perspective Following each text is a Commentary in which the author discusses such topics as experimental ethnography polyvocality authorial presence and control reflexivity and some of the differences between fiction and ethnography The three texts are framed by two chapters in which the author discusses the genereal problems posed by feminist and postmodernist critics of ethnography and presents her personal exploration of these issues in an argument that is strongly self reflexive and theoretically rigorous She considers some feminist concerns over colonial research methods and takes issues with the insistence of some feminists tha the topics of ethnographic research be set by those who are studied The book concludes with a plea for ethnographic responsibility based on a less academic and more practical perspective
