Getting Built:

To Build a Home Kate Warner, 2024-11-22 A LOVE STORY A TRAGEDY An emotional story about unconditional love grief and the complexities of human nature When senior university student Hiro Akiyama took a job at his campus library the last thing he expected to find was love When Jesse Cowan a student of the same university sat alone in the library the last thing he expected was to find someone who would remind him what love meant Within a few months the two of them make their way into each others hearts Hiro shows Jesse that he is worthy of love and Jesse shows Hiro what unconditional love means But love is never easy Sometimes love finds its one last shelter in the soul of another Content warnings information This book contains violence e g physical assault gun violence and strong language which may not be suitable for younger audiences This book also contains LGBTQIA themes which are implied but not central to the discussion of the story Why We Build With Brick Felicity Cannell, 2023-07-31 This book focuses on the contemporary fired clay brick to explore themes of home and house homeownership materiality and sense of place It investigates why despite an increasing number of alternative materials brick remains at the forefront of what people in the UK in particular expect homes to be built of and how brick is indelibly entwined with what home means something materially stable and financially secure affording a located sense of place Through observation of the building process and interviews with bricklayers foremen planners developers and homebuyers in England Felicity Cannell traces the embedded meanings of a mundane ubiquitous artefact and reveals the tensions and contradictions in today s use of brick to signify the traditional home Although easing the planning process and leading to quick sales the way brick is used in mass market housing today considerably restricts its capacities notably decoration flexibility and strength the very qualities which have historically positioned this tremendously versatile material as the superlative building block Overall the book adds complexity to the study of home and prompts debate about why we build the way we do Accelerating Civilian Reactor Program United States.
