Leadership Varieties Alexander Styhre, Thomas Johansson, 2016-03-10 In all periods of time there is a perceived shortage of qualified credible and robust leadership skills At the same time what is regarded as skilled leadership is contingent on economic political institutional and cultural conditions specific for a period of time or a local setting Leadership in the era of managerial capitalism was focused on planning and administration and was seated in large scale divisionalized corporations In the 1970s this economic model started to wane and leadership was advanced as the solution to a series of economic and social concerns now being a matter of meaning making in the face of uncertainty and ambiguity With the expansion of the finance industry and the deregulation of finance markets in the 1990s and in the new millennium yet another leadership model increasingly prioritized economic value creation In parallel to the economic political and institutional changes the idea of leadership has been strongly informed by new ideas about individualism and masculinity adding to the understanding of leadership as what is anchored in widespread social beliefs about for example healthy life styles the virtues of physical exercise and novel gender relations Aimed at scholars researchers students and policy makers in the fields of Leadership Management History and Organizational Theory Leadership Varieties examines predominant ideas about the qualities and virtues of leadership in a historical and cultural perspective

NATO, Gender and the Military Katharine Wright, Matthew Hurley, Jesus Ignacio Gil Ruiz, 2019-04-18 This book examines NATO s engagement with gender issues through its military structures Drawing on newly declassified NATO documents this volume provides the first comprehensive account of NATO s long established engagement with gender issues These documents bring to the fore the stories of the NATO women and gendemen who have organised within NATO across the decades to advocate on gender issues and highlights the continued challenges to pursuing transformative agendas within resistant institutions The book argues that NATO is an institution of international hegemonic masculinity with gender norms and values learned by member and partner states through socialisation and the engagement of a masculinist protection logic It therefore provides an important context for NATO s recent implementation of the Women Peace and Security agenda encapsulated in UN Security Council Resolution 1325 and the seven follow up resolutions The volume interrogates how Women Peace and Security has mapped on to NATO s pre existing concerns as a global security actor providing impetus for further critical knowledge building of NATO which centres on gender This book will be of interest to students and scholars of NATO Critical Military Studies Gender Studies Critical Security Studies and IR in general

Words of Fire Beverly Guy-Sheftall, 2011-07-26 In this pathbreaking collection of articles Dr Beverly Guy Sheftall has taken us from the early 1830s to contemporary times Only since the seventies have black women used the term feminism And yet it is that concept that she uses to bring into the same frame the ideas and analyses of Maria Stewart Sojourner Truth and Frances W E Harper of the early nineteenth century and the work of women such as the late Audre Lorde Barbara Smith and bell hooks who stand on the threshold of the twenty first century She has refused to cut off contemporary African American women from the long line of sisters who have righteously struggled for the liberation of African American women from the dual oppressions of racism and sexism From the epilogue by Johnnetta B Cole President Spelman College The indefatigable Beverly Guy Sheftall has put together a breathtaking sweep of African American feminist thought in one indispensable volume Elizabeth Spelman Professor of Philosophy Smith College

Handbook of International Trade Agreements Robert E. Looney, 2018-10-03 International trade has for decades been central to economic growth and improved standards of living for nations and regions worldwide For most of the advanced countries trade has raised standards of living while for most emerging economies growth did not begin until their integration into the global economy The economic explanation is simple international trade facilitates specialization increased efficiency and improved productivity to an extent impossible in closed economies However recent years have seen a significant slowdown in global trade and the global system has increasingly come under attack from politicians on the right and on the left The benefits of open markets the continuation of international co operation and the usefulness of multilateral institutions such as the World Trade Organization WTO the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank have all been called into question While globalization has had a broadly positive effect on overall global welfare it has also been perceived by the public as damaging communities and social classes in the industrialized world spawning for example Brexit and the US exit from the Trans Pacific Partnership The purpose of this volume is to examine international and regional preferential trade agreements PTAs which offer like minded countries a possible means to continue receiving the benefits of economic liberalization and expanded trade What are the strengths and weaknesses of such agreements and how can they sustain growth and prosperity for their members in an ever challenging global economic environment The Handbook is divided into two parts The first Global Themes offers analysis of issues including the WTO trade agreements and economic development intellectual property rights security and environmental issues and PTAs and developing countries The second part examines regional and country specific agreements and issues including NAFTA CARICOM CETA the Pacific Alliance the European Union EFTA ECOWAS SADC TTIP RCEP and the TPP now the CPTPP as well as the policies of countries such as Japan and Australia

Reclaiming the Nation Vrinda Narain,2008-05-24 Living in pluralist India has had critical consequences for Muslim women who are expected to follow a determined and strict code of conduct The impact of this contradiction is most evident in the continuing denial of gender equality within the family as state regulation of gender roles in the private sphere ultimately affects the status of women in the public sphere Reclaiming the Nation examines the relationship between gender and nation in post colonial India through the lens of marginalized Muslim women

Drawing on feminist legal theory postcolonial feminist theory and critical race theory Vrinda Narain explores the idea of citizenship as a potential vehicle for the emancipation of Muslim women Citizenship Narain argues opens the possibility for Indian women to reclaim a sense of selfhood free from imposed identities In promoting the hybridity of culture and the modernity of tradition Narain shows how oppositional categories such as public versus private Muslim versus feminist and Western versus Indian have been used to deny women equal rights A timely account of the struggle for liberation within a restrictive religious framework Reclaiming the Nation is an insightful look at gender nationhood and the power of self determination
