Creating Wealth from Knowledge J. R. Bessant,Tim Venables,2010-01-01 This book illustrates that although innovation has always mattered in economic development simply increasing expenditure in creating knowledge may not be the answer we need to look at the whole system through which such knowledge translates to value creation The contributors explore the implications of the changing twenty first century context of networked global and increasingly open innovation a world in which knowledge flows become as important as knowledge creation In so doing they address four key questions what is the context within which innovation occurs in the UK How do new firms form on the basis of knowledge and its deployment How do established firms access and use knowledge to improve their current activities and generate new directions What technical and organizational infrastructures enable these activities Drawing out lessons for future research this book will be of great interest to academics concerned with science and innovation policy and its implementation Managers and policy makers involved in innovation and technology strategy and with developing responses to new challenges such as open innovation will also find much to interest them within this book

Innovation in Social Welfare and Human Services

Rolf Rønning, Marcus Knutagard, 2015-02-11 Innovation is an oft heard buzzword in both public and private sectors concerned with the organisation and delivery of services to vulnerable individuals This thoughtful volume explores what innovation might actually involve in the context of contemporary human services Highlighting both the importance and utility of innovation but also promoting a more reflective approach the book distinguishes between innovation and improvement and discusses the relevant differences between private sector public sector and non profit organisations It looks at how innovation is often as much a result of the power relations between the involved actors and the structural context as a result of popularly identified drivers and barriers Including numerous case studies the book illustrates and explains innovations in welfare services at different levels looking at the macro level innovations in social policy the meso level innovation at organisational level and the micro level user driven innovations Arguing the innovation is nothing new in human services the authors emphasise the importance of innovation being developed and supported by those working within those organisations New and creative solutions to problems encountered in everyday work by front line workers can be taken up to improve services provided and make a difference for the users rather than change being externally imposed upon them by those without insider knowledge Innovation in Social Welfare and Human Services is an important read for researchers and practitioners interested in the administration leadership and organisation of social services

Perspectives on Supplier Innovation Alexander Brem,Joseph Tidd,2012 Hardly anybody outside a company knows its products and processes better than its suppliers Research confirms that intensive integration of suppliers in the value creation process positively influences the success of the company particularly in highly competitive industries This is a result of the progressing reduction in the depth of value creation of manufacturers and the increasing transfer of know how towards suppliers In multilevel business to business relationships suppliers often have the best or the only access and comprehensive knowledge about the end users Therefore suppliers determine the scope of possible innovations which most companies do not actively use This unique volume provides a comprehensive overview of theories concepts and especially empirical results on open innovation and the integration of suppliers For this authors from all over the world present their latest research results offering fascinating insights into collaborative approaches with suppliers

Strategy and Communication for Innovation Nicole Pfeffermann,Tim Minshall,Letizia Mortara,2014-01-09 The innovation economy sets new standards for global business and requires efficient innovation management to plan execute and evaluate innovation activities establish innovation capability and coordinate resources and capacities for innovation on an intra and inter organizational level Communication has become a critical factor underpinning successful innovation As a new communication field innovation communication facilitates the successful launches of new products and services the establishment of stakeholder relationships and the strengthening of corporate reputation in the long run Consequently firms today need to develop a strong portfolio of communication tools as an integral part of their strategic innovation management activities This new edition mainly concentrates on emerging approaches and methods for integrating communication as part of strategic innovation management A key theme is the provision of an integrated perspective to bridge the gap between innovation management and communication management at both strategic and operational levels This book makes an important contribution to this evolving academic domain by providing multiple perspectives on the latest research on innovation communication and strategic open innovation It also provides guidance for managers seeking to understand the diverse ways by which they can leverage communication to support successful innovation

European Perspectives on Innovation Management Rob Dekkers,Laure Morel,2023-12-30 This book covers European perspectives on innovation management including new product and service development due to the inherent variety of socio economic perspectives and institutional settings in Europe The numerous settings and differing perspectives explored in the chapters exemplify diversity which ultimately leads to enhancing innovation Understanding such unique approaches will enable companies universities and other actors to more effectively create innovative products and services and policy makers to effectively stimulate growth and innovation The fragmented distributed economies in Europe also put a strong focus on internationalisation including innovation management new product and service development even within the internally open market of the European Economic Area European Perspectives on Innovation Management will be of help to researchers managers entrepreneurs practitioners and students working on innovation management and practices embedded in national and regional innovation systems thus fostering a more innovative Europe

Making Employee-Driven Innovation Achievable Justina Tan,Wing On Lee,2023-07-14 This volume guides workplace trainers in teaching the significance of Employee Driven Innovation EDI and recognising that each and every employee is capable of being the driver of innovation Given that innovation has become imperative to unlock competitive advantage and that employees are increasingly regarded as a quintessential aspect of innovation this focus on EDI and how to enable it is both necessary and opportune The book is split into three parts first focusing on helping trainers to address the challenges of getting employees to engage in innovative work besides their regular job tasks How can organisations instil this mindset in their employees who see themselves as stalwarts of status quo The book then turns to how organisations can engage employees in innovation with an accompanying emphasis that the enactment of EDI may not follow a prescribed or planned flow It then closes by offering real world examples of the unfolding of EDI in both the Finnish and

Singaporean contexts The book is aimed at educating enterprises both employers and workplace trainers and adult educators in the practices and approaches to engage employees in innovation It seeks to bridge specifically the theory practice nexus of EDI and nudge the enterprises and TAE training and adult education practitioners that have yet to involve or engage employees systematically in innovation to seriously consider it
