Tony Sullivan,2022-07-20 The ninth century Historia Brittonum is the first source that mentions Arthur and lists twelve battles including the famous Badon Hill Much ink has been spilt debating the identity and location of Arthur This book will demonstrate that some of the battles can indeed be located with some confidence Rather than fit a specific theory as to his identity the battles are placed in the fragmenting provincial political and military context of the late fifth and early sixth century Britain At a time of rapid changes in cultural identity and a significant increase in Germanic material culture and migration These battles might be expected to be found along borders and in zones of potential conflict Yet this is not what is discovered In addition the simplistic idea of Romano Britons holding back invading Anglo Saxons is found wanting Instead we discover a far more nuanced political and cultural situation One with increasing evidence of continuation of land use and the indigenous population The most Romanised and urbanised regions of the south and east are the very areas that experienced the arrival of Germanic settlement The conclusion gives the reader a new insight into what sort of man Arthur was and the nature of the battles he fought

The Fallen Frederick Guttman, The ancient time is behind us the memory of old ages has disappeared Man lives in the present not knowing how he came to be and how great things set the guidelines for the future of the current era Already four ages of men have been left behind one culminates We wait for a different time full of big dreams but not before experiencing a hard passageway of desolation and death Destroyed by fire by cold and by water our ancestors perished leaving a record of what happened in stories that today we underestimate and experiences that we need as precedents in the future that and the end of this last catastrophic age that will culminate in physical psychic and spiritual earthquakes will be told The Nephilim arrived and subdued man until today they were an almost forgotten episode but one that substantially marked history history that must be remembered and reviewed Malevolent spirits were placed to mislead humanity but we also receive great divine virtues that counteract evil Following the battle for sovereignty between the gods the destruction reduced the population and changed the globe When the fight against the imposters allowed the development of the next part of a master plan our father Abraham began a mission whose magnitude would take time to glimpse until he was patriarch of the nations of those born in the True Law
