Kinships And Other Values:

Kinship and Casework Hope Jensen Leichter, William E. Mitchell, Candec Rogers, Judith Lieb, 1967-12-31 Reaffirms the importance of the larger kinship network through analysis of extensive data on the clients of one social agency The authors show that the less kinship oriented caseworkers often attempt to change clients kin relationships in the direction of less involvement raising questions about value differences in therapeutic practice The book also points to the importance of concepts such as those dealing with family kinship that will enable the caseworker to appraise the client s social relationships more fully The authors emphasize the benefits to be derived from a closer liaison between social work and social science

Conservation Biology Fred Van Dyke, 2008-02-29 Fred Van Dyke s new textbook Conservation Biology Foundations Concepts Applications 2nd Edition represents a major new text for anyone interested in conservation Drawing on his vast experience Van Dyke s organizational clarity and readable style make this book an invaluable resource for students in conservation around the globe Presenting key information and well selected examples this student friendly volume carefully integrates the science of conservation biology with its implications for ethics law policy and economics

A Critique of the Study of Kinship David Murray Schneider, 1984 Schneider views kinship study as a product of Western bias and challenges its use as the universal measure of the study of social structure

The Metamorphoses of Kinship Maurice Godelier, 2012-03-03 With marriage in decline divorce on the rise the demise of the nuclear family and the increase in marriages and adoptions among same sex partners it is clear that the structures of kinship in the modern West are in a state of flux In The Metamorphoses of Kinship the world renowned anthropologist Maurice Godelier contextualizes these developments surveying the accumulated experience of humanity with regard to such phenomena as the organization of lines of descent sexuality and sexual prohibitions In parallel Godelier studies the evolution of Western conjugal and familial traditions from their roots in the nineteenth century to the present The conclusion he draws is that it is never the case that a man and a woman are sufficient on their own to raise a child and nowhere are relations of kinship or the family the keystone of society Godelier argues that the changes of the last thirty years do not herald the disappearance or death agony of kinship but rather its remarkable metamorphosis one that ironically is bringing us closer to the traditional societies studied by ethnologists

This monograph examines the Iranian and Shia legal debates on technologies of assisted reproduction including embryo donation and surrogacy and looks at the regulations and implementation of these technologies in Iran In particular it addresses 1 an analysis of the moral reasoning embedded in the Shia theological legal discourse on reproductive technology and how this tradition interprets assisted reproduction with a particular focus on underlying concepts structure and principles of kinship 2 the emergence and development of the relevant legislation regulations and administrative policies and how this might shape the relationship between civil and religious law in Iran and 3 the ways in which reproductive technology is used and understood with particular focus on underlying values local narratives and the resulting societal dynamics The methodological approach for this research is a combination of extensive ethnography and textual analysis of important academic and religious seminary publications in Iran from Shia jurisprudence fiqh and Persian histories to the analysis of laws and verdicts The Kinship of Men Henry Kendall, 1888 Kinship of God and Man John Jabez Lanier, 1910
