Get Out There And Do Something About Injustice:

Progressive Nation Jerome Pohlen, 2008-06-01 Nearly every progressive movement in American history can be traced back to a person who said This must change and then set out to change it This inspiring travel guide to over 400 markers of progressive politics in the United States celebrates those individuals their accomplishments and the movements and communities they inspired Visit the battlegrounds and celebrate the victories of the civil libertarians feminists African Americans gays lesbians environmentalists labor organizers and media activists who have worked to create a just peaceful society that respects all of its citizens With enthusiasm and humor Jerome Pohlen guides travelers to such landmarks of change as The home of abolitionists Levi and Catharine Coffin Grand Central Station on the Underground Railroad Alice s Restaurant Church the namesake of Arlo Guthrie s song protesting the draft The courthouse where Susan B Anthony went on trial for attempting to vote The site of the Haymarket Riot in Chicago where laborers protested working conditions The former camera shop where Harvey Milk launched his campaign to become America s first openly gay elected official Each entry features a listing of books films and Web sites for further information making this an essential lefty resource For adventurous travelers family vacationers and those who want a more complete picture of American history this book will inspire them to do more than just cast a vote

In Full Bloom Sharon Creeden, 1999 In Full Bloom is a celebration of mature women Sharon Creeden draws on folktales to illuminate female heroism and life issues women face Each folktale is paired with a vignette about a notable American woman

A to Z of American Women Leaders and Activists Donna Hightower-Langston, 2014-05-14 Presents biographical profiles of American women leaders and activists including birth and death dates major accomplishments and historical influence

Gray Panthers Roger Sanjek, 2012-02-28 In 1970 a sixty five year old Philadelphian named Maggie Kuhn began vocally opposing the notion of mandatory retirement Taking inspiration from the civil rights and anti Vietnam War movements Kuhn and her cohorts created an activist organization that quickly gained momentum as the Gray Panthers After receiving national publicity for her efforts she even appeared on the Tonight Show with Johnny Carson she gained thousands of supporters young and old Their cause expanded to include universal health care nursing home reform affordable and accessible housing defense of Social Security and elimination of nuclear weapons Gray Panthers traces the roots of Maggie Kuhn s social justice agenda to her years as a YWCA and Presbyterian Church staff member It tells the nearly forty year story of the intergenerational grassroots movement that Kuhn founded and its scores of local groups During the 1980s more than one hundred chapters were tackling local and national issues By the 1990s the ranks of older members were thinning and most young members had departed many to pursue careers in public service But despite its challenges including Kuhn s death in 1995 the movement continues today Roger Sanjek examines Gray Panther activism over four decades Here the inner workings and dynamics of the movement emerge the development of network leadership local projects and tactics conflict with the national office and the intergenerational political ties that made the group unique among contemporary activist groups Part ethnography part history part memoir Gray Panthers draws on archives and interviews as well as the author's thirty years of personal involvement With the impending retirement of the baby boomers Sanjek's book will surely inform the debates and discussions to follow on retirement health care and many other aspects of aging in a society that has long valued youth above all Secularism and the Pursuit of Transcendence, Volume I Stanley E. Porter, Wendy J. Porter, 2025-02-20 We live in a secular age or so we have been told Nevertheless the Christian church strongly believes that we still experience and in fact are surrounded by acts of transcendence encounters with God that often defy imagination and explanation And yet we do try to explain such phenomena whether theologically experientially biblically historically philosophically literarily or even or especially artistically These two volumes are more than just papers from a major conference on secularism and the pursuit of transcendence held at McMaster Divinity College in Hamilton Ontario They contain genuine attempts by people deeply engaged with their secular surroundings to explain what we mean by transcendence Transcendence has been a longstanding topic among the best thinkers of this and previous ages and the same is true for these volumes which include contributions by Charles Taylor Robert Wuthnow Merold Westphal and Christina Gschwandtner but also by a wide range of others who address the question from divergent vantage points The responses vary as much as the orientations of those involved in the pursuit of defining not only what it means to live in our secular age but to be involved in the pursuit of transcendence or even to perceive the Transcendent's pursuit of us
