The Educational Practices and Pathways of South African Students across Power-Marginalised Spaces Aslam Fataar, 2018-08-03
The lived experiences of students educational practices are analysed and explained in terms of the book's plea for the recognition of the multidimensionality of students as educational beings with unexplored cultural wealth and hidden capitals. The book presents an argument that student lives are entangled in complex social spatial relations and processes that extend across family neighbourhood and peer associations which are largely misrecognised in educational policy and practice. The book is relevant to understanding the role of policy curriculum and pedagogy in addressing the educational performance of working class youth.

Handbook of Child Psychology and Developmental Science, Ecological Settings and Processes, 2015-03-31
The essential reference for human development theory, updated and reconceptualized. The Handbook of Child Psychology and Developmental Science, a four-volume reference, is the field-defining work to which all others are compared. First published in 1946 and now in its Seventh Edition, the Handbook has long been considered the definitive guide to the field of developmental science. Volume 4, Ecological Settings and Processes in Developmental Systems, is centrally concerned with the people, conditions and events outside individuals that affect children and their development. To understand children's development, it is both necessary and desirable to embrace all of these social and physical contexts. Guided by the relational developmental systems meta-theory, the chapters in the volume are ordered in a manner that begins with the near proximal contexts in which children find themselves and moving through to distal contexts that influence children in equally compelling if less immediately manifest ways The volume emphasizes that the child's environment is complex multi dimensional and structurally organized into interlinked contexts children actively contribute to their development the child and the environment are inextricably linked and contributions of both child and environment are essential to explain or understand development Understand the role of parents other family members peers and other adults teachers coaches mentors in a child's development Discover the key neighborhood community and institutional settings of human development Examine the role of activities work and media in child and adolescent development Learn about the role of medicine law government war and disaster culture and history in contributing to the processes of human development The scholarship within this volume and as well across the four volumes of this edition illustrate that developmental science is in the midst of a very exciting period There is a paradigm shift that involves increasingly greater understanding of how to describe explain and optimize the course of human life for diverse individuals living within diverse contexts This Handbook is the definitive reference for educators policy makers researchers students and practitioners in human development psychology sociology anthropology and neuroscience
