Higher Education And Its Communities:

Higher Education and Its Communities Ian McNay, 2000 Universities and colleges have long been seen as academic communities This book explores how the nature of these communities is changing under pressure for autonomy to be balanced by accountability and from resource constraints from the state that is now a sponsor or client rather than a patron leading to competition rather than collegiality It also explains the positions of higher education institutions in relation to their regional communities minority groups the work of the European Community and links to employers and learning in the community at work and elsewhere The final section of Higher Education and its Communities looks at how new technologies open up the global community but also may affect relationships within the learning communities at the heart of higher education s core functions and looks at the danger of a control culture in a community where IT allows indeed requires a record of activities and transactions that are open to surveillance Nevertheless the values of the academic community live on even in societies with a historical oppression and that is the message of the book s final chapter Community

Engagement in Higher Education W. James Jacob, Stewart E. Sutin, John C. Weidman, John L. Yeager, 2015-06-17 There seems to be renewed interest in having universities and other higher education institutions engage with their communities at the local national and international levels But what is community engagement Even if this interest is genuine and widespread there are many different concepts of community service outreach and engagement The wide range of activity encompassed by community engagement suggests that a precise definition of the community mission is difficult and organizing and coordinating such activities is a complex task This edited volume includes 18 chapters that explore conceptual understandings of community engagement and higher education reforms and initiatives intended to foster it Contributors provide empirical research findings including several case study examples that respond to the following higher education community engagement issues What is the community and what does it need and expect from higher education institutions Is community engagement a mission of all types of higher education institutions or should it be the mission of specific institutions such as regional or metropolitan universities technical universities community colleges or indigenous institutions while other institutions such as major research universities should concentrate on national and global research agendas and on educating internationally competent researchers and professionals How can a university be global and at the same time locally relevant Is it or should it be left to the institutions to determine the scope and mode of their community engagement or is a state mandate preferable and feasible If community engagement or community service are mandatory what are the consequences of not complying with the mandate How effective are policy mandates and university engagement for regional and local economic development What are the principal features and relationships of regionally engaged universities Is community engagement to be left to faculty members and students who are particularly socially engaged and locally embedded or is it or should it be made mandatory for both faculty and students How can community engagement be better

Beyond the Campus David J. Maurrasse, 2002-05-03 The role of the university and its relationship to the community has long been a highly debated topic among educators administrators and local business leaders David J Maurrasse offers a passionate appeal for community partnerships Going further than a simple explanation of the problems at hand Beyond the Campus offers a road map for both universities and local institutions to work together for the good of their communities

Citizenship and Higher Education James Arthur, Karen Bohlin, 2005-03-16 This comparative text considers models of higher education in the UK and the US and individuals perceptions about the role of university in society

Community-Based Research and Higher Education Kerry J. Strand, Nicholas Cutforth, Randy Stoecker, Sam Marullo, Patrick Donohue, 2003-06-17 Community Based Research and Higher Education is the long awaited guide to how to incorporate a powerful and promising new form of scholarship into academic settings The book presents a model of community based research CBR that engages community members with students and faculty in the course of their academic work Unlike traditional academic research CBR is collaborative and change oriented and finds its research questions in the needs of communities This dynamic research model combines classroom learning with social action in ways that can ultimately empower community groups to address their own agendas and shape their own futures At the same time it emphasizes the development of knowledge and skills that truly prepare students for active civic engagement

The New American College Town James Martin, James E. Samels, 2019-11-19 A new perspective on the relationships among colleges universities and the communities with which they are now partnering Colleges and universities have always had interesting relationships with their external communities whether they are cities towns or something in between In many cases they are the main economic driver for their regions State College Pennsylvania or Raleigh North Carolina for example and in others they exist side by side with thriving industries In The New American College Town James Martin James E Samels Associates provide a practical guide for planning a new kind of American college town one that moves beyond the nostalgia tinged stereotype to achieve collaborative objectives What exactly is a college town in America today Examining the broad range of partnerships transforming campuses and the communities around them the book opens by detailing twenty characteristics of new American college towns Subsequent chapters invite presidents provosts planners mayors architects and association directors to share their views on how college town relationships are shaping new generations of students and citizens The book tackles urban and rural institutions as well as community colleges and closes with predictions about what college towns will look like in twenty five years Contributors include presidents from Lehigh Portland State New Jersey City and Connecticut College along with five college town mayors and the current or former executive directors from the International Town Gown Association the Association for the Study of Higher Education and others The book also traces how town gown relations are expanding into innovative areas nationally and internationally moving beyond familiar student life programs and services to hundred million dollar downtown developments The first comprehensive single volume resource designed for leaders on both sides of these conversations The New American College Town includes action plans lessons learned and pitfalls to avoid in developing transformative relationships between colleges and their extended communities Contributors Robert C Andringa Aaron Aska Beth Bagwell Katherine Bergeron Kelly A Cherwin Phillip DiChiara Lorin Ditzler Mauri A Ditzler Kevin E Drumm Erin Flynn Michael Fox Joel Garreau Susan Henderson Andrew W Hibbel Patrick Hyland Jr Jay Kahn James Martin Miguel Martinez Saenz Fred McGrail Kim Nehls Krisan Osterby Tracee Reiser Stuart Rothenberger Kate Rousmaniere James E Samels Rick Seltzer John D Simon Jefferson A Singer Allison Starer Wim Wiewel Eugene L Zdziarski II

Building Online Communities in Higher Education Institutions: Creating Collaborative Experience Stevenson, Carolyn N., 2014-02-28 Members of today's online educational settings are often isolated which can prohibit the sharing of ideas and best practices among individuals working and learning as a collective group Promoting collaboration across various disciplines and departments fosters professional development activities as well as creates strong connections to the entire online community Building Online Communities in Higher Education Institutions Creating Collaborative Experience cultivates knowledge on topics pertaining to the improvement of communication and collaboration in online learning communities Advancing the current scope of research in this field this book is designed for use by faculty students researchers practitioners and college administrators interested in strengthening communication and collaboration in virtual settings

Land-Grant Universities for the Future Stephen M. Gavazzi, E. Gordon Gee, 2018-11-15 Land grant colleges and universities have a storied past This book looks at their future Land grant colleges and universities occupy a special place in the landscape of American higher education Publicly funded agricultural and technical educational institutions were first founded in the mid nineteenth century with the Morrill Act which established land grants to support these schools They include such prominent names as Cornell Maryland Michigan State MIT Ohio State Penn State Rutgers Texas A that is they should work to more vigorously uphold their community focused missions through teaching research and service oriented activities Combining extensive research with Gee's own decades of leadership experience Land Grant Universities for the Future argues that these schools are the engine of higher education in America and perhaps democracy's best hope This book should be of great interest to faculty members and students as well as those parents legislators policymakers and other area stakeholders who have a vested interest in the well being of America's original public universities

Higher Education Collaboratives for Community Engagement and Improvement University of Michigan, National Forum on Higher Education for the Public Good, 2005 Individually and collectively institutions of higher education possess considerable resources human fiscal organizational and intellectual which are critical to addressing significant social issues Additionally these institutions are physically rooted in their communities Therefore investing in the betterment of their immediate environments is good for both the community and the institution However it is recognized that higher education institutions

often fall short of making a real impact in their home communities Therefore a conference was convened to examine the current and evolving role of higher education institutions particularly those operating within the context of coalitions consortia and state systems to catalyze change on issues affecting communities and society as a whole Specifically the focus of the conference was to develop and strengthen an understanding of how higher education might work more effectively with communities and it is believed that consortia or collaboratives of higher education institutions along with community partners can learn from one another The papers offered in this monograph are the result of the Wingspread Conference on Higher Education Collaboratives for Community Engagement and Improvement conducted on October 27 29 2004 in Racine Wisconsin The conference the second of a three part series was sponsored by the National Forum on Higher Education for the Public Good at the University of Michigan School of Education the Johnson Foundation Atlantic Philanthropies and the W K Kellogg Foundation The papers presented in this monograph are 1 Reflections on Community Campus Partnerships What Has Been Learned What are the Next Challenges Barbara A Holland 2 Reflections on the Wingspread Experience Bruce L Mallory 3 Higher Education Collaboratives for Community Engagement and Improvement Faculty and Researchers Perspectives Ira Harkavy 4 Challenges to Community Higher Education Partnerships A Call to Action David Cox and Sarena Seifer 5 Mission and Community The Culture of Community Engagement and Minority Serving Institutions Maurice C Taylor Brigid Dwyer and Sandra Pacheco 6 Research Universities Working Together to Serve Multiple Communities The Committee on Institutional Cooperation Engagement Initiative John C Burkhardt and Rachel Lewis and 7 Partnering with the Old North State Judith Welch Wegner Partnerships for Engagement Futures an introduction by Ryan E Smerek Penny A Pasque Bruce Mallory and Barbara A Holland is included Individual papers contain tables footnotes and references

Building Communities of Difference William G. Tierney, 1993-04-26 Higher education is in a time of crisis diminishing funds rising costs lack of student preparation for college work low morale among students and faculty strained relations between faculty and administration and confusion about curriculum and educational goals Tierney believes that the problems are moral He suggests that by following principles used by Gandhi and Martin Luther King institutions of higher learning can model themselves on communities of brotherly love and service to humanity Tierney presents several case studies of postsecondary institutions and shows how academic structures give privilege to some ideas and constituencies and silence others He weds critical theory to postmodernism to derive a workable orientation toward multiculturalism on campus Tierney's rare book embraces critical theory and honors postmodernism simultaneously It is about academe but it is accessible by the layman Through a series of ethnographic case studies of postsecondary institutions the author uses critical postmodernism to offer a series of practical solutions to some of the most vexing problems of education Tierney's goal is to orient college life toward multiculturalism Tierney takes the essence of critical theory and distills the core ingredients of postmodernism He makes them work together in order to identify the difficulties in perceiving and reacting to the inner and outer workings of the human psyche Critical postmodernism addresses five axes of contention boundaries versus border zones individual constraints versus pluralist possibility political versus apolitical hope versus nihilism and difference versus agape or generalized love Ethnographic studies follow the theory Deep Springs College in the California desert a school with 26 students and seven faculty gay faculty in academe a private liberal arts college with a student body of 2 000 and a faculty of 150 cast in the traditional mode of higher education private college engaged in strategic planning in the Northeast and the creation of the San Marcos campus of California State University The study concludes with a discussion of cultural citizenship and educational democracy and endorses the methods of ethnography as essential to refining perception and suggesting ways of improving the college experience Place-Based Community Engagement in Higher Education Erica K. Yamamura, Kent Koth, 2023-07-03 While an increasing number of universities have or are committed to engaging their campuses in their surrounding communities many recognize they lack the strategic focus and resources to maximize and sustain their impact on those communities Place based community engagement provides a powerful way to creatively connect campus and community to foster positive social transformation In developing community engagement strategies most universities and community organizations face significant challenges in deciding who to partner with and why Frequently this leads universities and community organizations to say yes to too many opportunities which significantly limit their ability to pursue long term impact Focusing on an established geographic area can make it much easier to decide where to deploy resources and which partnerships to prioritize and thus increase their ability to form strong and sustainable partnerships that are of greater value to all stakeholders This book presents the emerging model of place based community engagement as a powerful process for attaining more positive and enduring results in their local communities as well as stimulating wider engagement by campus constituencies Drawing upon the concept of collective impact and using data driven decision making place based initiatives build long term partnerships based upon a shared vision Done thoughtfully these place based initiatives have attained impressive results Drawing upon the case studies of five institutions that have implemented place based community engagement initiatives the authors provide guidance on the opportunities challenges and considerations involved in putting a place based approach into effect By sharing the experiences of these five institutions they describe in detail the routes each took to turn their place based initiatives from concept to reality and the results they achieved College Aspirations and Access in Working-Class Rural Communities Sonja Ardoin, 2017-12-20 College Aspirations and Access in Working Class Rural Communities The Mixed Signals Challenges and New Language First Generation Students Encounter explores how a working class rural environment influences rural students opportunities to pursue higher education and engage in the college choice process Based on a case study with accounts from rural high school students and counselors this book examines how these communities perceive higher education and what challenges arise for both rural students and counselors The book addresses how college knowledge and university jargon illustrate the gap between rural cultural capital and higher education cultural capital Insights about approaches to reduce barriers created by college knowledge and university jargon are shared and strategies for offering rural students pathways to learn academic language and navigate higher education are presented for both secondary and higher education institutions Global Higher Education Shared Communities Jian Li, 2019-05-16 This book offers an in depth investigation of the globalization of higher education at Chinese universities and colleges The proposed Global Higher Education Shared Community model reflects the globalization of higher education with Chinese characteristics in terms of its conceptual practical and strategic dimensions Generally speaking the book mainly conceptualizes and constructs a model of the specific type of globalization currently taking place at Chinese universities and colleges As such it offers a valuable resource for scholars and researchers who are interested and work in research on globalization in higher education from a comparative perspective for administrators and stakeholders in Chinese higher education management and for graduate students who are majoring or minoring in comparative higher education University Engagement With Socially Excluded Communities Paul Benneworth, 2012-11-13 This volume provides insightful analysis of the way higher education engages with socially excluded communities Leading researchers and commentators examine the validity of the claim that universities can be active facilitators of social mobility opening access to the knowledge economy for formerly excluded groups The authors assess the extent to which the Academy can deliver on its promise to build bridges with communities whose young people often assume that higher education lies beyond their ambitions The chapters map the core dynamics of the relationship between higher education and communities which have bucked the more general trend of rapidly rising student numbers Contributors also take the opportunity to reflect on the potential impact of these dynamics on the evolution of the university's role as a social institution The volume was inspired by a symposium attended by a wide spectrum of participants including government senior university managers academic researchers and community groups based in areas suffering from social exclusion It makes a substantive contribution to an under researched field with authors seeking to both shape solutions as well as better diagnose the problem Some chapters include valuable contextual analysis using empirical data from North America Europe and Australia to add substance to the debates on policy and theory The volume seeks to offer a defining intellectual statement on the interaction between the concept of a university and those communities historically missing from higher education participation the volume deepens our understanding of what might characterise an engaged university and strengthens the theoretical foundations of the topic Collaborative Learning Kenneth A. Bruffee, 1999-01-13 Advocates a far reaching change in the relations between college and university professors and their students between the learned and the learning Implementing Communities of Practice in Higher Education Jacquie McDonald, Aileen Cater-Steel, 2016-11-23 In this edited collection the authors pick up the communities of practice CoP approach of sharing practice in their reflection on the experience of taking their CoP vision from a dream to reality Their stories articulate the vision the passion and the challenge of working within and or changing existing institutional culture and practice The book discusses strategies that worked and considers the lessons learnt to inspire future dreamers and schemers The multiple perspectives provided in the case studies will assist higher education leaders as well as academic and professional staff in establishing or assessing CoPs The book offers insights into implementation strategies practical guidelines and ideas on how CoP theoretical underpinnings can be tailored to the higher education context Building Communities of Practice in Higher Education Camila Devis-Rozental, Susanne Rose Clarke, 2024-05-23 Drawing from a diverse range of expert voices within the field this key work explores how communities of practice are an effective tool for supporting successful collaboration whilst also creating the foundations for lasting institutional change By examining communities of practice through a variety of critical lenses this book encourages readers to consider how strategies may be applied within their own institutions to support feelings of belonging encourage teamwork and inspire learning Supported by both practical case studies and current research contributors suggest strategies that readers can use to create their own effective communities of practice Chapters explore topics including Communities as a method of regeneration within universities Cultivation of knowledge through community collaboration Questions of power in transdisciplinary communities Mapping career pathways through communities of practice Bringing together theory and practice this is an essential resource for all involved in strategic planning organisational development and fostering a positive organisational culture within higher education

Researching Higher Education Malcolm Tight, 2012-08-16 The first edition of Researching Higher Education has been a very helpful resource for those trying to make sense of the field of higher education Malcolm Tight has accomplished a tour de force by updating and expanding that edition This volume includes up to date analyses of recent higher education publications and thoughtful reflections on methodology and theory in higher education research Requisite reading for novices to the field but also for the experienced researchers trying to keep abreast of the developments in the field Professor Jeroen Huisman Director International Centre for Higher Education Management School of Management University of Bath UK The most comprehensive overview of research on higher education available Researching Higher Education provides a multidisciplinary perspective of the field This book will be valuable for students thinking about research as well as anyone wanting a perspective on research directions on higher education Philip G Altbach Monan Professor of Higher Education Director Center for International Higher Education Boston College USA This authoritative book couples an overview of the principal current areas of research into higher education with a guide to the processes involved in undertaking such research Comprehensively updated throughout this new edition examines the current state of higher education research with brand new case studies and has been expanded to include North American work The book also includes Analysis of published research by topic method theory and level Detailed discussion of selected examples of published research Suggestions on under researched topics Guidance on publication outlets Consideration is given to research design and questions funding

The Stewardship of Higher Education David M. Callejo Perez, Joshua Ode, 2013-10-30 Understanding the entrepreneurial nature of universities in particular the relationship between education and health in relation to development and wellness of communities this volume provides a description narration of the efforts in how universities can address their shifting contexts while engaging their communities in social change In the development of this book we have explored how reforms in American higher education are impacting the role of universities and their faculty Contributors were asked to imagine possibilities for research and outreach by providing salient examples of how higher education can lead and change how we view the role of health and education within institutions and society Each author writes across common themes that address the problems and possibilities of higher education curriculum and projects aligned with the mission of stewardship The authors highlight interdisciplinary approaches and projects for faculty work modification of the Teaching Research Service expectations and community initiatives that can emerge from real life problems to impact wellbeing and create rich and deep research possibilities for practitioners to impact both higher education and society The process and research approaches used by the authors include imagining the community as part of a process of the change and part of what changes exploring how community change can build on the strengths of local people and why community organization and advocacy should revolve around social learning and community capacity theories Given the diversity of topics and approaches as editors we have tried to honour both the authors words and style in expressing their opinions to provide a forum for the readers to envision stewardship

The Community Engagement and Service Mission of Universities Patricia Inman, Hans Georg Schütze, 2010 The untapped energy of universities and other institutions of higher education to address regional issues seems endless Issues less defined by political boundaries and increasingly defined by place call for a new type of engagement Generating knowledge with communities rather than for communities contrasts sharply with traditional university attitudes that offer expertise rather than appreciation of indigenous knowledge This highly topical book addresses the widespread discussion about the regional community function of universities with particular emphasis on economic and social development discussing the challenges of engagement but also the possibilities Developing policy with such a worldview requires new skills focusing on developing relationships and facilitating collaboration Finding common ground between diverse stakeholders requires innovation and a new set of tools The book discusses the obstacles to collaboration and provides strategies for addressing these The Community Engagement and Service Mission of Universities will be essential reading for international researchers practitioners and policy makers concerned with higher education and government It provides a foundation for understanding the concepts of both regional policy and engaged higher education institutions In addition to the theoretical insights gained into the new relationship between universities and communities the book also illustrates the theory with experiences and innovative examples from well known institutions of higher education This book is an excellent guide to a new era of community university relationships It demonstrates in theory and practice that productive relationships depend upon understanding the assets of local communities and connecting them with the supportive assets of universities John McKnight Co Director Asset Based Community Development Inst Northwestern U
