Metacognitive Approaches to Developing Oracy Roy Evans, Deborah Jones, 2013-09-13 The acquisition of speech and language represent significant achievements for all children These aspects of child development have received substantial attention in the research literature and a considerable body of theoretical knowledge exists to chart progress from infancy to maturity Cross cultural studies have identified the common purposes served by the acquisition of oral language by children and the essential similarity in the sequence through which speech develops irrespective of geography and culture What is less clear is precisely how children learn to say what they mean and how teachers and parents can support and enhance the development of meaningful speech in their children Until now children's speech has been underused as a means of promoting learning in the formal school setting New requirements within the National Curriculum are trying to address this gap but there remains a lack of clarity as to what this means for practice and how it relates to the broad base of curricular objectives This book brings together a body of work from different countries it offers an improved understanding of how strategies for developing speaking and listening may impact metacognitive awareness and raise standards of literacy and dialogic thinking for all children This book was previously published as a special issue of Early Child Development and Care Advances in the Spoken-Language Development of Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing Children Patricia Elizabeth Spencer, Marc Marschark, 2006 Contributors present the latest information on both the new world evolving for deaf hard of hearing children the improved expectations for their acquisition of spoken language Communication Sciences and Disorders Ronald Gillam, Thomas Marquardt, Frederick Martin, 2011 Accompanying computer disk contains videos demonstrating the types of communication disorders and articulations reviewed in the text and photos and animations showing important equipment and anatomical structures Phonological Awareness Gail T. Gillon, 2012-01-27 This unique resource provides a comprehensive review of current knowledge about phonological awareness together with practical guidance for helping preschoolers to adolescents acquire needed skills Up to date findings are synthesized on the development of phonological awareness its role in literacy learning and how it can be enhanced in students at risk for reading difficulties and those with reading disorders or speech or language impairments Of particular value to general and special educators and speech language professionals the book s clear recommendations for assessment and intervention show how to translate the research into day to day teaching and clinical practice Auditory (Re)Habilitation for Adolescents with Hearing Loss Jill Duncan, Ellen A. Rhoades, Elizabeth M. Fitzpatrick, 2014-04-04 There is a growing realization that many adolescents with hearing loss require special attention Despite the benefits of early diagnosis early amplification and early intervention some adolescents with hearing loss do not achieve age equivalent developmental milestones The purpose of this book is to assist auditory re habilitation practitioners in mitigating the negative effects of hearing loss on communicative socio emotional and academic performance of adolescents who rely on auditory based spoken language to communicate It is essential that adolescents whose parents chose auditory based spoken language receive systematic consistent well planned appropriate auditory re habilitation In Auditory Re Habilitation for Adolescents with Hearing Loss Jill Duncan Ellen A Rhoades and Elizabeth Fitzpatrick provide practitioners with key milestones considered fundamental to understanding adolescents with hearing loss as well as a pedagogical foundation and general intervention strategies for both planning and direct face to face re habilitation with adolescents The authors summarize important issues related to the spoken language development of adolescents focus on aspects of communication that are functionally relevant to adolescents with hearing loss and provide strategies for facilitating auditory based spoken communication skills They conclude with a discussion of factors influencing auditory re habilitation both in service delivery and outcomes and provide the application of theory to practice through a demonstration of case studies Phoniatrics II Antoinette am Zehnhoff-Dinnesen, Joseph Sopko, Marie - Claude Monfrais - Pfauwadel, Katrin Neumann, 2025-07-18 This book in three volumes draws on the specialized insights and extensive clinical experience of phoniatric experts to offer a basis for the development of concerted European training standards with the goal of guaranteeing a high quality of phoniatic care for all European patients Communication disorders in all age groups are covered and the interdisciplinary character of phoniatrics is mirrored in the inclusion of contributions from a range of other medical and non medical disciplines This second volume is devoted to speech speech fluency and literacy development disorders Basic aspects including etiology and pathogenesis are fully addressed and guidance provided on diagnostic methods differential diagnosis prevention treatment rehabilitation and prognosis The reader will benefit from numerous color photos tables as well as supplementary electronic material including audio and video examples This book is intended for residents and practitioners in phoniatricsand also for ENT physicians medical students logopedists and speech and language pathologists and therapists
