Four Cameleers:

Australia's Muslim Cameleers Philip Jones, Anna Kenny, 2010 Between 1870 and 1920 as many as 2000 cameleers and 20 000 camels arrived in Australia from Afghanistan and northern India Australia s Muslim Cameleers is a rich pictorial history of these men their way of life and the vital role they played in pioneering transport and communication routes across outback Australia s vast expanses Many of the images and artefacts in this fascinating account are published here for the first time and this new edition contains additions to the biographical listing of more than 1200 cameleers The Syrian Desert

Christina Phelps Grant, 2013-09-05 First Published in 2007 This historical survey written by a scholar and traveller gives the reader a well informed and readable account of an area of the world which has held and still holds a most significant geographical location in the Middle East both culturally and commercially Topics covered include the bedouin trouble in the area their origins and organization ancient and medieval trade early travellers accounts of the important Altar of Damascus Aleppo Baghdad Al Wasera the caravan state the hajj and much more The Last Blank Spaces Dane Kennedy, 2013-03-01 The challenge of opening Africa and Australia to British imperial influence fell to a coterie of proto professional explorers who sought knowledge adventure and fame but often experienced confusion fear and failure Kennedy follows the arc of these explorations from idea to practice intention to outcome myth to reality The Life and Achievements of Edward Henry Palmer

Walter Besant, 1883 Arabic Historical Literature from Ghadāmis and Mali Harry T. Norris, 2020-01-07 In this work translations of four texts are provided from Ghad mis and from Mali The first is a biography of the Ghad mis scholar Abdall h b Ab Bakr al Ghad mis 1626 1719 AD written by the eighteenth century author Ibn Muhalhil al Ghad mis A second text is The History of al S q concerning al S q the historic town of T dmakka and the original home of the Kel Essouk Tuareg The third text is The Precious Jewel in the Saharan histories of the People of the Veil by Mu ammad Tawjaw al S q al Th n a contemporary Tuareg author It pertains to the Kel Essouk and their historical ties with the Maghreb and West Africa The final text is a description of the Tuareg from the book Ghad mis its features its images and its sights by Bash r Q sim Y sha published in Arabic in 2001 AD Battarbee and Namatjira

Martin Edmond, 2014-10-01 Battarbee and Namatjira is the biography of two artists Rex Battarbee and Albert Namatjira one white Australian from Warrnambool in Victoria the other Aboriginal of the Arrernte people from the Hermannsburg Mission south of Alice Springs From their first encounters in the early 1930s when Battarbee introduced Namatjira to the techniques of water colour painting through the period of Namatjira s popularity as a painter to the tragic circumstances leading to his death in 1959 their close relationship was to have a decisive impact on Australian art This biography illustrated with photographs makes extensive use of Battarbee s diaries for the first time to throw new light on Namatjira s life and to bring Battarbee who has been largely ignored by biographers back into focus Some of its findings will be controversial By moving between the artists and their backgrounds and looking closely at the nature of their friendship Edmond is able to portray the personal and social complexities the two men faced while at the same time illuminating larger cultural themes the treatment of the Arrernte and Indigenous people generally the influence of the Lutheran church the development of anthropology and the evolution of Australian art The Life and Achievements of Edward Henry Palmer. Late Lord Almoner's Professor of Arabic in the University of Cambridge and Fellow of Saint John's College Walter Besant, 2024-02-14 Reprint of the original first published in 1883 Mary of Magdala George H. Eisenhart, 1919 The Story of Australia Robert Grieve Black, 2012-03-05 We all tend to think of Australia as a country with a very short history In fact it has one of the oldest identifiable histories on this planet dating back to when the first Aboriginal people travelled south between the ice ages Did you know that there are around one million camels living in the wild in Australia They are not of course indigenous but rather were shipped in by British colonialists to help explore and develop the outback The proud Brits didn't really want their Arab handlers so they returned to their homelands abandoning the camels Did you know that Australia with its reliance on coal burning power stations is considered to be the world's number one polluter These are just a few of the gems in this short history of Australia It is just under 30 000 words which represents about eighty pages in a standard print book There are inevitably some dates to maintain the time line but the emphasis is on telling the story of Australia Remembering the Great War in the Middle East Hans-Lukas Kieser, Thomas Schmutz, Pearl Nunn, 2021-10-07 This book addresses the conflicts myths and memories that grew out of the Great War in Ottoman Turkey and their legacies in society and politics It is the third volume in a series dedicated to the combined analysis of the Ottoman Great War and the Armenian Genocide In Australia and New Zealand and even more in the post Ottoman Middle East the memory of the First World War still has an immediacy that it has long lost in Europe For the post Ottoman regions the first of the two World Wars which ended Ottoman rule was the formative experience This volume analyses this complex configuration why these entanglements became possible how shared or even contradictory memories have been constructed over the past hundred years and how differing historiographies have developed Remembering the Great War in the Middle East reaches towards a new conceptualization of the long last Ottoman decade 1912-22 one that places this era and its actors more firmly at the center instead of on the periphery of a history of a Greater Europe a history comprising as contemporary maps did Europe Russia and the Ottoman world Process and Pattern in Culture Robert Alan Manners, Julian Haynes Steward, This festschrift commemorates Julian H Steward The essays were contributed by former students colleagues and other anthropologists whose research or thinking has been influenced by him There was no preconceived attempt to give the volume any greater sense of unity or to impose upon the contributors any restrictions as to subject matter On the contrary each author was urged to write on an anthropological topic of greatest current interest to himself Many of the essays could be placed just as handily within a division other than the one to which they have arbitrarily been assigned in the book This kind of interchangeability may reflect in some measure the interrelatedness of Steward's contributions to anthropological theory The broad relevance of all the selections to Steward's work could reflect also the extent to which his interests continue to be reflected in the work of anthropologists influenced by him It could also reflect a parallelism of theoretical concerns within the profession that stem from the cultural ambience that produced Steward himself Parallelisms and convergence are aspects of the kind of cultural determinism which has claimed Steward's attention during the many years that he fought a fairly lonely battle to establish the respectability of evolutionism in anthropology Now that respectability has been achieved with an almost bandwagon fervor it is clear that Steward as much as anyone else in anthropology was responsible for the change The essays in this collection are at once a vindication of his patience an evidence of the high status he enjoys among anthropologists and a testimony to the impact of his unusual creativity on his colleagues

Australia's First Naturalists Penny Olsen, Lynette Russell, 2019-05-01 Would Blaxland Wentworth and Lawson have ever crossed the Blue Mountains without the help of the local Aboriginal people The invaluable role of local guides in this event is rarely recognised As silent partners Aboriginal Australians gave Europeans their first views of iconic animals such as the Koala and Superb Lyrebird and helped to unravel the mystery of the egg laying mammals the Echidna and Platypus Well into the twentieth century Indigenous people were routinely engaged by collectors illustrators and others with an interest in Australia's animals Yet this participation if admitted at all was generally barely acknowledged However when documented it was clearly significant Penny Olsen and Lynette Russell have gathered together Aboriginal peoples' contributions to demonstrate the crucial role they played in early Australian zoology The writings of the early European naturalists clearly describe the valuable knowledge of the Indigenous people of the habits of Australia's bizarre to a European fauna Australia's First Naturalists is invaluable for those wanting to learn more about our original inhabitants' contribution to the collection recognition and classification of Australia's unique fauna It heightens our appreciation of the previously unrecognised complex knowledge of Indigenous societies

Indian Army in the First World War Alan Jeffreys, 2018-04-19 The book addresses the important global role of the Indian Army during the First World War. It is an academic reassessment of the army by both established and early career scholars of the Indian Army as well as naval historians. It looks at the historiography of the army taking into account the recent work on the army particularly on the Western Front in 1914-1915. The edited volume covers the traditional areas of the Indian Army on the Western Front in Palestine, Mesopotamia and the defence of the Suez Canal; however, there are also chapters on combined operations, Indian prisoners of war in Germany and Turkey, the expansion of the officer corps and the Sikh experience as well as the mobilisation of the equine army at the beginning of the war and the demobilisation of the army in the period from 1918 until 1923. Three additional chapters are related to the theme such as the role of the Royal Indian Marine, the Territorial Army in India and Churchill's portrayal of the Indian Army during the Gallipoli campaign in his account The World Crisis.

Blackdog K.V. Johansen, 2011-09-06 In a land where gods walk on the hills and goddesses rise from river, lake and spring, the caravan guard Holla Sayan, escaping the bloody conquest of a lakeside town, stops to help an abandoned child and a dying dog. The girl, though, is the incarnation of Attalissa, goddess of Lissavakail, and the dog, a shape-changing guardian spirit whose origins have been forgotten. Possessed and nearly driven mad by the Blackdog, Holla Sayan flees to the desert road, taking the powerless avatar with him. Necromancy, treachery, massacres, rebellions and gods dead or lost or mad follow hard on their heels. But it is Attalissa herself who may be the Blackdog's and Holla Sayan's doom. The Making of Modern Muslim Selves through Architecture Farhan S. Karim, Patricia Blessing, 2023-10-20 This collection seeks to explore alternative definitions of bounded identities, facilitating new approaches to spatial and architectural forms. Taking as its starting point the emergence of a new sense of boundary, emerged from the post-19th century dissolution of large heterogeneous empires into a mosaic of nation-states in the Islamic world, this new sense of boundaries has not only determined the ways in which we imagine and construct the idea of modern citizenship but also redefines relationships between the nation, citizenship, cities and architecture. It brings critical perspectives to our understanding of the interrelation between the accumulated flows and the evolving concepts of boundary in predominantly Muslim societies and within the global Muslim diaspora. Essays in this book seek to investigate how architecture mediates the creation and deployment of boundaries and boundedness that have been devised to define, enable, obstruct, accumulate and/or control flows, able to disrupt bounded territories or identities. More generally, the book explores how architecture might be considered as a means to understand the relationship between flows and boundaries and its implication of defining modern self The essays in this volume collectively address how the construction of self is primarily a spatial event and operated within the crucial nexus of power knowledge space Contributors investigate how architecture mediates the creation and deployment of boundaries and boundedness how architecture might be considered as a means to understand the relationship between flows and boundaries and its implications for how we define the modern self Part of the Critical Studies in Architecture of the Middle East series Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1962 Outside Country Alan Mayne,Stephen Atkinson,2011 While most Australians now live in the major cities on the coast much of the country s wealth is still derived from the interior a vast area of scattered and often remote communities mining towns and pastoral homesteads all linked by what historian J W McCarthy called the Inland Corridor
