Cincinnati Heine Miller, 1873 Unwritten History Joaquin Miller, 1972 Terrence Malick and the Examined Life Martin Woessner, 2024-03-25 Terrence Malick is one of American cinema's most celebrated filmmakers. His films from Badlands 1973 and Days of Heaven 1978 to The Thin Red Line 1998, The Tree of Life 2011 and most recently A Hidden Life 2019 have been heralded for their artistry and lauded for their beauty but what really sets them apart is their ideas. Terrence Malick and the Examined Life is the most comprehensive account to date of this unparalleled filmmaker's intellectual and artistic development. Utilizing newly available archival sources to offer original interpretations of his canonical films, Martin Woessner illuminates Malick's early education in philosophy at Harvard and Oxford as well as his cinematic apprenticeship at the American Film Institute to show how a young student searching for personal meaning became a famous director of Hollywood films. Woessner's book presents a rich interdisciplinary exploration of the many texts, thinkers and traditions that made this transformation possible, from the novels of Hamlin Garland, James Jones and Walker Percy to the philosophies of Stanley Cavell, Martin Heidegger and Søren Kierkegaard to road movies, Hollywood Westerns and the comedies of Jean Renoir. Situating Malick's filmmaking within recent intellectual and cultural history, Woessner highlights its lasting contributions to both American cinema and the life of the mind. Terrence Malick and the Examined Life suggests it is time for philosophy to be viewed not merely as an academic subject overseen by experts but also as a way of life open to each and every moviegoer.

Remembering the Modoc War Boyd Cothran, 2014-09-15 On October 3, 1873, the U.S. Army hanged four Modoc headmen at Oregon's Fort Klamath. The condemned had supposedly murdered the only U.S. Army general to die during the Indian wars of the nineteenth century. Their much anticipated execution marked the end of the Modoc War of 1872-73. But as Boyd Cothran demonstrates, the conflict's close marked the beginning of a new struggle over the memory of the war. Examining representations of the Modoc War in the context of rapidly expanding cultural and commercial marketplaces, Cothran shows how settlers created and sold narratives of the conflict that blamed the Modocs. These stories portrayed Indigenous people as the instigators of violence and white Americans as innocent victims. Cothran examines the production and circulation of these narratives from sensationalized published histories and staged lectures featuring Modoc survivors of the war to commemorations and promotional efforts to sell newly opened Indian lands to settlers. As Cothran argues, these narratives of American innocence justified not only violence against Indians in the settlement of the West but also the broader process of U.S. territorial and imperial expansion. The American Catalogue, 1881 American national trade bibliography The End of Eden Terry Beers, 2018-05-31 The story of the Joad family's journey from their ravaged farm in dustbowl Oklahoma to the storied paradise of California helped inform a nation about the brutality, poverty and vicious competition among fellow immigrants desperate for work. But Steinbeck is only one successor to a rich and esteemed literary tradition in California. Drawing on history and cultural theory, The End of Eden traces the rise of the California social novel, its embrace of the agrarian dream and its ambivalence about technology and the development it enables. It relies on various cultural conceptions of space among them the American Public Land Survey the source of the grid allotments shaping homestead claims Mexican era diseases and Native American traditions that defined a fluid relationship between human beings and the land This animation of four California social novels of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries demonstrates how conflicts over space and place signify cultural conflict It is deeply informed by the author's understanding of historical land issues The works include Joaquin Miller's Unwritten History Life Amongst the Modocs Helen Hunt Jackson's Ramona Frank Norris The Octopus and Mary Austin's The Ford Miller's Unwritten History Life Amongst the Modocs and Jackson's Ramona examine the tragic but inevitable consequences for native people of making space inhabited already by Native American and Hispanic populations safe for Americans who pursue the agrarian dream without regard to its effects upon those who claim prior tenure on the land Norris The Octopus and Austin's The Ford examine the murkier story of trying to preserve or to reclaim the agrarian dream when confronted by the unchecked materialist interests of American capitalism A wide reaching interdisciplinary approach to various cultural conceptions of space The End of Eden provides a crucial understanding of the conflicts depicted in social novels that lament the ways in which land is allocated and developed the ways in which American agrarianism and its promise of local sustainable land use is undermined and how it applies to contemporary California In an era where California confronts yet again the complicated patterns of land use fracking water use and water rights coastal regulation and management and agribusiness this groundbreaking work provides an ever relevant context

The American Catalog, 1881 Northwest Anthropological Research Notes Deward E. Walker, Jr., James A. Goss, A Bibliography of Klamath Basin Anthropology with Excerpts and Annotations Revised Edition B K Swartz Jr

Rooted in Barbarous Soil Kevin Starr, Richard J. Orsi, 2000-10-04 The third in a four volume series commemorating California's sesquicentennial this volume brings together the best of the new scholarship on the social and cultural history of the Gold Rush written in an accessible style and generously illustrated with with black and white and color photographs
