The Participating Citizen Michael D. Barber, 2012-02-01 Winner of the 2007 Edward Goodwin Ballard Book Prize in Phenomenology presented by the Center for Advanced Research in Phenomenology with interest from a fund raised from Professor Ballard's family students and friends Vienna born philosopher and social scientist Alfred Schutz 1899-1959 is primarily responsible for applying to the social sciences the resources of phenomenology the prominent philosophical movement begun by Edmund Husserl in the early twentieth century Drawing on previously unavailable letters this biography depicts Schutz's childhood adolescence first visit to the United States struggle to secure asylum for family and friends after the Austrian Anschluss family and business life and connections with phenomenologists worldwide the New School for Social Research and close friends As a philosophical biography it examines the ethical dimensions of his philosophical work including its resistance to ethical theory and shows how during the civil rights movement he articulated a standard for assessing democracy in terms of ability to facilitate individual citizen participation Learning to See: The Meanings, Modes and Methods of Visual Literacy Michael

Heitkemper-Yates, Katarzyna Kaczmarczyk, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 If indeed Vision is the art of seeing what is invisible to others as Jonathan Swift has so famously phrased it then visual literacy is the art of translating the seen through image word and gesture so that the invisible can be made visible to others In other words visual literacy specifies a process of articulation that employs both sight and insight in the service of interpreting the language of the image reading the narrative of the graphic and deciphering the codes and modes of the visual This volume represents an attempt to convey some of the many ideas surrounding visual literacy and advance the interdisciplinary field of visual literacy studies toward new areas of research and inquiry The Interrelation of Phenomenology, Social Sciences and the Arts Michael Barber, Jochen Dreher, 2013-11-04 This book features papers written by renowned international scholars that analyze the interdependence of art phenomenology and social science The papers show how the analysis of the production as well as the perception and interpretation of art work needs to take into consideration the subjective viewpoint of the artist in addition to that of the interpreter Phenomenology allows a description of the subjectively centered life world of the individual actor artist or interpreter and the objective structures of literature music and the aesthetic domain in general The perspective of social science serves to reconstruct the socio historical structure involved in the creation and reception of the art work The authors concentrate on this specific theoretical focus which combines both phenomenology and social science and offers an innovative framework for the analysis of works of art from the fields of literature music visual arts photography and film Some of the contributions present creative interpretations of a variety of distinct art works in addition to the realization of theoretical reflections on the interdependence of arts phenomenology and social science This book features papers that were presented at the international and interdisciplinary conference Phenomenology Social Sciences and the Arts held at the University of Konstanz May 2009 in commemoration of philosopher and social scientist Alfred Schutz the developer of phenomenologically oriented sociology It will appeal to researchers scholars and students in phenomenology social sciences art theory and the arts Forms of Fanonism Reiland Rabaka, 2010-03-08 When Frantz Fanon's critiques of racism sexism colonialism capitalism and humanism are brought into the ever widening orbit of Africana critical theory something unprecedented in the annals of Africana intellectual history happens five distinct forms of Fanonism emerge Forms of Fanonism Frantz Fanon's Critical Theory and the Dialectics of Decolonization is discursively distinguished from other engagements of Fanon's thought and texts insofar as it is the first study to consciously examine his contributions to Africana Studies and critical theory or rather the Africana tradition of critical theory Forms of Fanonism identifies and intensely analyzes Fanon's contributions to the deconstruction and reconstruction of Africana Studies radical politics and critical social theory. In highlighting his unique solutions to the problems of racism, sexism, colonialism, capitalism, and humanism, five distinct forms of Fanonism materialize. These five forms of Fanonism allow contemporary critical theorists to innovatively explore the ways in which his thought and texts can be dialectically put to use in relieving the wretched experience of this generation's wretched of the earth. Critics can also apply these forms to deconstruct and reconstruct Africana Studies radical politics and critical social theory using their anti-imperialist interests. Throughout Forms of Fanonism, Reiland Rabaka critically dialogues with Fanon incessantly asking his corpus critical questions and seeking from it crucial answers. This book in short solemnly keeps with Fanon's own predilection for connecting critical theory to revolutionary praxis by utilizing his thought and texts as paradigms and points of departure to deepen and develop the Africana tradition of critical theory.

The maintext in the present volume has been constructed out of passages found scattered about in thirty-five years of Alfred Schutz's writings and it has been constructed by following a page of notes for a lecture that he gave in 1955 under the title Sociological Aspect of Literature. The result can be considered the substance of Schutz's contribution to the theory of literature. More detail about how this construction has been performed is offered in the Editor's Introduction. The complementary essays are by scholars from Germany, Japan, and the United States from several generations and from the disciplines of anthropology, philosophy, and sociology. These researchers were invited to reflect in their own perspectives on the main text and in relation to matters referred to within and beyond it. Draft versions of most of these complementary essays were presented for critical discussion in a research symposium held at the Graduate Faculty of Political and Social Science of the New School for Social Research on April 28-29, 1995, under the sponsorship of The Center for Advanced Research in Phenomenology, Inc., Florida Atlantic University. The Department of Philosophy of The Graduate Faculty of the New School, Richard I. Bernstein Chair, and Evelyn and George Schutz, the philosopher's children, Revised versions of these presentations and also several essays subsequently recruited are offered to begin yet another stage in the history of scholarship on Schutz and the phenomenological research inspired by him. Northwestern University Press is thanked for permission to quote extensively from Alfred Schutz, The Phenomenology of the Social World, trans. Meanings of War and Peace, Francis A. Beer, 2001. When the stakes of public words and actions are global and permanent and especially when they involve war and peace, can we afford not to seek their meaning? For three decades, Francis Beer has pioneered the effort to discover, describe, and connect pieces of the complex puzzle of war, peace, their interrelationship, and their causes. In this volume, Beer, joined by colleagues as co-authors of some chapters, examines the cognitive, behavioral, and linguistic dimensions of war and peace. Language, he shows, is important because it mediates between thought and action. It expresses beliefs about war and peace and affects the perceptions of potential adversaries about one's own intentions. Using multiple perspectives and methods, he explores the uses of communication in international relations and the development of meaning for war and peace In this unique and innovative post realist analysis Beer examines how language transmits and creates meaning through interaction with specific audiences His case studies include the Somalian intervention Sarajevo and the Balkan conflict and the Gulf War Moving beyond the discrete words of war the book takes a broader view of how political participants interact in war and peace through continuous streams of communication that reflect and construct worlds of meaning This stimulating and challenging volume brings together insights and evidence from political science cognitive psychology linguistics history and rhetorical studies and applies them in a focused way to the problem of war and peace Exploring Humanity Mihai Spairosu, Jörn Rüsen, 2012

The old humanistic model aiming at universalism ecumenism and the globalization of various Western systems of values and beliefs is no longer adequate even if it pleads for an ever wider inclusion of other cultural perspectives and for intercultural dialogue In contrast it would be wise to retain a number of its assumptions and practices which it incidentally shares with humanistic models outside the Western world We must now reconsider and remap it in terms of a larger global reference frame This anthology does just that thus contributing to a new field of study and practice that could be called intercultural humanism Hollywood Faith Gerardo Marti, 2008-09-04 In Christianity as with most religions attaining holiness and a higher spirituality while simultaneously pursuing worldly ideals such as fame and fortune is nearly impossible So how do people pursuing careers in Hollywood s entertainment industry maintain their religious devotion without sacrificing their career goals For some the answer lies just two miles south of the historic center of Hollywood California at the Oasis Christian Center In Hollywood Faith Gerardo Marti shows how a multiracial evangelical congregation of 2 000 people accommodates itself to the entertainment industry and draws in many striving to succeed in this harsh and irreverent business Oasis strategically sanctifies ambition and negotiates social change by promoting a new religious identity as champion of life an identity that provides people who face difficult career choices and failed opportunities a sense of empowerment and endurance The first book to provide an in depth look at religion among the creative class Hollywood Faith will fascinate those interested in the modern evangelical movement and anyone who wants to understand how religion adapts to social change The Prism of the Self S.G. Crowell, 2013-03-09 This volume contains sixteen essays written by his students and colleagues in honor of Maurice Natanson The essays explore some of the diverse themes Professor Natanson has pursued through forty years of teaching and philosophizing in the tradition of existential phenomenology Because it also includes a lengthy biographical and philosophical interview where one can find an absorbing account of Natanson s Lebens au in his own words there is no need to detail that polypragmatic career here Suffice to say that even passing acquaintance with the man and the work will reveal that Edmund Husserl s self description holds equally of his distinguished interpreter I seek not to instruct but only to lead to point out and describe what I see I claim no other right than that of speaking according to my best lights principally before myself but in the same manner also before others as one who has lived in all its seriousness the fate of a philosophical existence | For Natanson as the diversity of the contributions to this volume attest such seriousness involves something other than that narrow technical vision for which a topic is the more philosophical the less it has to do with anything else In Natanson's pages to say nothing of his teaching and conversation there are no men of straw but living breathing human beings with hirn philosophy's tentacles are ubiquitous

Identity Designs Karen A. Cerulo, 1995 National symbols modern totems with ancient roots remain entities for which men and women continue to march debate fight and die Modern political leaders still drape their campaigns in such symbols modern revolutionaries still defile them Identity Designs explores the source of this long standing power the way national symbols are selected the manner in which their meaning is conveyed their potential effects and the sustenance of their power In particular the book charts the role of design in the selection of symbolic images thus demonstrating that symbols are chosen not just for what they convey but how they convey their message Karen Cerulo shows that the symbolic designs of a nation's identity are not simply the products of indigenous characteristics as conventional wisdom might suggest Rather the banners and songs by which nations represent themselves are generated by broad social forces that transcend the peculiarities of any one nation Cerulo's analysis acquaints readers with a set of social structural factors that delimit rules of symbolic expression Further the book suggests the benefits of adhering to these rules and explores the costs of violating them

Signs, Solidarities, and Sociology Blasco José Sobrinho, 2001 Signs Solidarities Sociology addresses the formation and fragmentation of identity in today's postmodern world Informed by the conceptual convergence in the theories of Durkheim Peirce Mead and Lacan this book surveys the range of twentieth century sociology to deconstruct those favored nostrums of subjective meaning personal power and autonomous selfhood that comprise its semantics of agency Revealed beneath this semantic screen is the triad of pragmatic codes premodern affiliation modern calibration and postmodern globalization that govern the social construction of the self While the ill comprehended confluence of these three signification codes in the present world situation can indeed fragment personal identity their formal structural linkages as shown in this book may inform a truly postmodern globally applicable science of culture

Alfred Schutz, Phenomenology, and the Renewal of Interpretive Social Science Besnik Pula, 2024-04-16

In recent decades the historical social sciences have moved away from deterministic perspectives and increasingly embraced the interpretive analysis of historical process and social and political change This shift has enriched the field but also led to a deadlock regarding the meaning and status of subjective knowledge Cultural interpretivists struggle to incorporate subjective experience and the body into their understanding of social reality In the early twentieth century philosopher Alfred Schutz grappled with this very issue Drawing on Edmund Husserl's phenomenology and Max Weber's historical sociology Schutz pioneered the interpretive analysis of social life from an embodied perspective However the recent interpretivist turn influenced by linguistic philosophies discourse theory and poststructuralism has overlooked the insights of Schutz and other phenomenologists This book revisits Schutz's phenomenology and social theory positioning them against contemporary problems in social theory and interpretive social science research The book extends Schutz's key concepts of relevance symbol relations theory of language and lifeworld meaning structures It outlines Schutz's critical approach to the social distribution of knowledge and develops his nascent sociology and political economy of knowledge This book will appeal to readers with interests in social theory phenomenology and the methods of interpretive social science including historical sociology cultural sociology science and technology studies political economy and international relations
