Four Decades New And Selected Stories:

Ernesto Andrew Feldman, 2019-05-28 From the first North American scholar permitted to study in residence at Hemingway's beloved Cuban home comes a radically new understanding of Papa's life in Cuba Ernest Hemingway first landed in Cuba in 1928 In some ways he never left After a decade of visiting regularly he settled near Cojimar a tiny fishing village east of Havana and came to think of himself as Cuban His daily life among the common people there taught him surprising lessons and inspired the novel that would rescue his declining career That book The Old Man and the Sea won him a Pulitzer and one year later a Nobel Prize In a rare gesture of humility Hemingway announced to the press that he accepted the coveted Nobel as a citizen of Cojimar In Ernesto Andrew Feldman uses his unprecedented access to newly available archives to tell the full story of Hemingway's self-professed Cuban-ness his respect for Cojimar fishermen his long running affair with a Cuban lover the warmth of his adoptive Cuban family the strong influences on his work by Cuban writers his connections to Cuban political figures and celebrities his denunciation of American imperial ambitions and his enthusiastic role in the revolution With a focus on the island's violent political upheavals and tensions that pulled Hemingway between his birthplace and his adopted country Feldman offers a new angle on our most influential literary figure Far from being a post success pre suicide exile Hemingway's decades in Cuba were the richest and most dramatic of his life and a surprising instance in which the famous American bully sought redemption through his loyalty to the underdog Last Stands Gordon Weaver, 2004 Long Odds Gordon Weaver, 2000 In Long Odds Gordon Weaver's latest collection each male protagonist struggles for moral and emotional strength to cope with a universe gone awry Each of the eleven stories centers around a circumstance that is both ordinary and shockingly unpredictable A small time flop of a con man in the psychic business becomes dependent on his inspirational talks with a dead hustler from a bygone era An eccentric helplessly watches a crumbling society from a table in his favorite diner A proper Bostonian buries his black sheep brother in rural Mississippi A group of newly divorced men takes up daily exercise in search of solace in an upscale mall Some of Weaver's characters win in the end some fail miserably but all of their stories depict their confrontations with self and surroundings Each story lures the reader forward despite the potential disappointment and self destruction that often loom just ahead for the characters The father of a blind girl builds an elaborate Christmas light display for her as his wife watches with bewildered disapproval A part time college English teacher travels the freeways from job to job and from woman to woman to avoid the paralysis of stasis Written in the bold sharp style that is Weaver's trademark Long Odds includes stories that shift in mood and tone from the serious to the comically ironic but which are unified by a common sense of isolation as each man labors to make sense of his place in the world Lauded by Publishers Weekly as presenting characters whose cries are so human raw and mordant the reader forgets the fiction and is delivered inside the experience Weaver skillfully introduces a level of depth and intensity to situations that may appear commonplace at first glance This inventive collection offers a gallery of men who outwardly ordinary are revealed as complex in their humanity defined as much by their sensibilities as by their actions or their failures to act

A Companion to Hemingway's Death in the Afternoon Miriam B. Mandel, 2009 New carefully focused essays providing a thorough examination of Hemingway's groundbreaking non-fictional work Published in 1932 Death in the Afternoon reveals its author at the height of his intellectual and stylistic powers By that time Hemingway had already won critical and popular acclaim for his short stories and novels of the late twenties A mature and self-confident artist he now risked his career by switching from fiction to nonfiction from American characters to Spanish bullfighters from exotic and romantic settings to the tough world of the Spanish bullring a world that might seem frightening and even repellant to those who do not understand it Hemingway's nonfiction has been denied the attention that his novels and short stories have enjoyed a state of affairs this Companion seeks to remedy breaking new ground by applying theoretical and critical approaches to a work of nonfiction It does so in original essays that offer a thorough balanced examination of a complex boundary breaking and hitherto neglected text The volume is broken into sections dealing with the composition reception and sources of Death in the Afternoon cultural translation cultural criticism semiotics and paratextual matters and the issues of art authorship audience and the literary legacy of Death in the Afternoon The contributors to the volume four men and seven women lay to rest the stereotype of Hemingway as a macho writer whom women do not read and their nationalities British Spanish American and Israeli indicate that Death in the Afternoon even as it focuses on a particular national art discusses matters of universal concern Contributors Miriam B Mandel Robert W Trogdon Lisa Tyler Linda Wagner Martin Peter Messent Beatriz Penas Ib ez Anthony Brand Nancy Bredendick Hilary Justice Amy Vondrak and Kenneth Kinnamon Miriam B Mandel teaches in the English Department of Tel Aviv University

The Letters of Robert Lowell Robert Lowell, 2007-03-20 These letters document the evolution of Lowell's work and illuminate another side of his life his deep friendships with other writers his manic depression his marriages to three prose writers and his involvement with the antiwar movement of the 1960s

The Pull of Politics Milton A. Cohen, 2018-10-01 In the late 1930s John Steinbeck Richard Wright and Ernest Hemingway wrote novels that won critical acclaim and popular success The Grapes of Wrath Native Son and For Whom the Bell Tolls All three writers were involved with the Left at the time and that commitment informed their fiction Milton Cohen examines their motives for involvement with the Left their novels political themes and why they separated from the Left after the novels were published These writers were deeply conflicted about their political commitments and Cohen explores the tensions that arose between politics and art resulting in the abandonment of a political attachment

The Hemingway Short Story Robert Paul Lamb, 2013-01-02 In The Hemingway Short Story A Study in Craft for Writers and Readers Robert Paul Lamb delivers a dazzling analysis of the craft of this influential writer Lamb scrutinizes a selection of Hemingway's exemplary stories to illuminate the author's methods of construction and to show how craft criticism complements and enhances cultural literary studies The Hemingway Short Story the highly anticipated sequel to Lamb's critically acclaimed Art Matters: Hemingway Craft and the Creation of the Modern Short Story reconciles the creative writer's focus on art with the concerns of cultural critics establishing the value that craft criticism holds for all readers. Beautifully written in clear and engaging prose, Lamb's study presents close readings of representative Hemingway stories such as Soldier's Home, A Canary for One, God Rest You Merry Gentlemen, and Big Two-Hearted River. Lamb's examination of Indian Camp, for instance, explores not only its biographical contexts showing how details, incidents, and characters developed in the writer's mind and notebook as he transmuted life into art but also its original deleted opening and the final text of the story, uncovering otherwise unseen aspects of technique and new terrains of meaning. Lamb proves that a writer is not merely a site upon which cultural forces contend but a professional in his or her craft who makes countless conscious decisions in creating a literary text. Revealing how the short story operates as a distinct literary genre, Lamb provides the meticulous readings that the form demands, showing Hemingway practicing his craft, offering new, inclusive interpretations of much debated stories, reevaluating critically neglected stories, analyzing how craft is inextricably entwined with a story's cultural representations, and demonstrating the many ways in which careful examinations of stories reward us.

Collected Stories
 Martin Green, 2008-04 The stories in this volume are in five sections. The first contains Retirement Stories about senior citizens coping with old age or recalling past loves and adventures. The second section is called Sequels and Series. It includes three more In Olden Times stories about Abe and his family, dragon Bob, and three more adventure stories about Alvin Oaks, who's partially solved the Universal Theorem both introduced in Volume II. Finally, there are three stories about Uncle Pringle, a retired, possibly CIA agent turned consultant who helps people with their problems in sometimes surprising ways. The Speculative Stories in the third section include one in which an author's characters come to life, two in which superintelligent inhabitants of another planet debate the fate of Earth, and one in which Journeyman Meets Seinfeld. The Dark Stories of the fourth section are about the fearsome things that lurk Out There and similar menaces. The fifth section has Stories Written Mostly for Fun, plus a few serious stories, concluding one about When My Father Met My Mother. I hope readers will have fun reading all these stories.

Hydrofictions
 Boast Hannah Boast, 2020-07-06 Water is a major global issue that will shape our future. Rarely, however, has water been the subject of literary critical attention. This book identifies water as a crucial new topic of literary and cultural analysis at a critical moment for the world's water resources, focusing on the urgent context of Israel/Palestine. It argues for the necessity of recognising water's vital importance in understanding contemporary Israeli and Palestinian literature, showing that water is as culturally significant as that much more obvious object of nationalist attention, the land. In doing so, it offers new insights into Israeli and Palestinian literature and politics and into the role of culture in an age of environmental crisis. Hydrofictions shows that how we imagine water is inseparable from how we manage it. This book is urgent and necessary reading for students and scholars in Middle East Studies, postcolonial ecocriticism, the environmental humanities, and anyone invested in the future of the world's water.
