Remapping Reality John A. McCarthy,2006-01-01 This book is about intersections among science philosophy and literature It bridges the gap between the traditional cultures of science and the humanities by constituting an area of interaction that some have called a third culture By asking questions about three disciplines rather than about just two as is customary in research this inquiry breaks new ground and resists easy categorization It seeks to answer the following questions What impact has the remapping of reality in scientific terms since the Copernican Revolution through thermodynamics relativity theory and quantum mechanics had on the way writers and thinkers conceptualized the place of human culture within the total economy of existence What influence on the other hand have writers and philosophers had on the doing of science and on scientific paradigms of the world Thirdly where does humankind fit into the total picture with its uniquely moral nature In other words rather than privileging one discipline over another this study seeks to uncover a common ground for science ethics and literary creativity Throughout this inquiry certain nodal points emerge to bond the argument cogently together and create new meaning These anchor points are the notion of movement inherent in all forms of existence the changing concepts of evil in the altered spaces of reality and the creative impulse critical to the literary work of art as well as to the expanding universe This ambitious undertaking is unified through its use of phenomena typical of chaos and complexity theory as so many leitmotifs While they first emerged to explain natural phenomena at the quantum and cosmic levels chaos and complexity are equally apt for explaining moral and aesthetic events Hence the title Remapping Reality extends to the reconfigurations of the three main spheres of human interaction the physical the ethical and the aesthetic or creative

Off with Her Head! Howard Eilberg-Schwartz,Wendy Doniger,1995-11-14 Whereas many books look at how women s bodies are represented in different religions and cultures around the world this work explores the site of a woman s voice and identity her head The female head threatens to disrupt the classic gender distinctions that link men to speech identity and mind while relegating women to silence anonymity and flesh The contributors to this collection argue that the objectification of women as sexual and reproductive bodies results in their symbolic beheading Decapitation occurs symbolically in myths as well as in actual practices such as veiling head covering and cosmetic highlighting which by sexualizing a woman s face turns it into an extension of her body The essays explore how similar treatments of the female head find their unique articulation in diverse religious traditions and cultures in Hindu myths of beheading in Buddhist and Tantric practices and poetry about the hair of female nuns in the resistance to veiling by early Christian women at Corinth in contemporary veiling practices in a Turkish village in the eroticization of the female mouth in ancient Judaism and in Greek and Roman cosmetic practices Together these essays show how the depiction of the female head is critical for an understanding of gender and its influence on other fundamental religious and cultural issues
