Librarians Are Human:

Librarians are Human Margaret Bingham Stillwell, 1973 The Faithful Librarian Garrett B. Trott, 2019-09-06 What do Christianity and librarianship have in common Netherlands Prime Minister and theologian Abraham Kuyper 1837 1920 was among the first in the modern era to attempt to rejoin the dichotomy of sacred vs secular study when he said no single piece of our mental world is to be hermetically sealed off from the rest Over the years a number of publications have followed Kuyper's lead yet little has been written on the subject since Greg A Smith's notable Christian Librarianship 2002 Building on Smith's work this volume seeks to bridge the sacred secular divide with an exploration of how Christianity and the gospel are manifested through the profession of librarianship Librarians and Instructional Designers Joe Eshleman, Richard Moniz, Karen Mann, Kristen Eshleman, 2016-07-29 With a firm foundation on best practices drawn from a variety of institutions this book maps out a partnership between academic librarians and instructional designers that will lead to improved outcomes Introduction to Public Librarianship, Third Edition Kathleen de la Pena McCook, Jenny S. Bossaller, Felton Thomas Jr., 2018-12-18 Put simply there is no text about public librarianship more rigorous or comprehensive than McCook's survey Now the REFORMA Lifetime Achievement Award winning author has teamed up with noted public library scholar and advocate Bossaller to update and expand her work to incorporate the field's renewed emphasis on outcomes and transformation This essential tool Library Journal remains the definitive handbook on this branch of the profession It covers every aspect of the public library from its earliest history through its current incarnation on the cutting edge of the information environment including statistics standards planning evaluations and results legal issues funding and politics organization administration and staffing all aspects of library technology from structure and infrastructure to websites and makerspaces adult services youth services and children's services associations state library agencies and other professional organizations global perspectives on public libraries and advocacy outreach and human rights Exhaustively researched and expansive in its scope this benchmark text continues to serve both LIS students and working professionals Chinese Librarianship in the Digital Era Conghui Fang, 2013-06-30 The library in China has been transformed by rapid socioeconomic development and the proliferation of the Internet The issues faced by Chinese libraries and librarians are those faced by library practitioners more globally however China also has its own unique set of issues in the digital era including developmental imbalance between East and West urban and rural areas and availability of skilled practitioners Chinese Librarianship in the Digital Era is the first book on Chinese libraries responding to these issues and more The first part of the book places discussion in historical context before moving on to the digital environment of the Chinese library The book then considers the issue of digital copyright in China and debates the core values of the Chinese library The next three chapters cover public and academic libraries and library consortia Finally the book gives a view of the future prospects for libraries in China Unique in focusing on digital libraries in China Provides a comprehensive overview of libraries in contemporary China Presents valuable information formerly available only in Chinese The Personal Librarian Richard Moniz, Jean Moats, 2014-08-21 Enter the Personal Librarian a flexible concept that focuses on customizing information literacy by establishing a one on one relationship between librarian and student from enrollment through graduation Encyclopedia of Library and Information Sciences John D. McDonald, Michael Levine-Clark, 2017-03-15 The Encyclopedia of Library and Information Sciences comprising of seven volumes now in its fourth edition compiles the contributions of major researchers and practitioners and explores the cultural institutions of more than 30 countries This major reference presents over 550 entries extensively reviewed for accuracy in seven print volumes or online The new fourth edition which includes 55 new entries and 60 revised entries continues to reflect the growing convergence among the disciplines that influence information and the cultural record with coverage of the latest topics as well as classic articles of historical and theoretical importance Technology and Professional Identity of Librarians: The Making of the Cybrarian Hicks, Deborah, 2013-11-30 The library profession has changed rapidly in the wake of advanced technologies Once regarded as the gatekeepers of information found in books today's library professionals are shifting from a traditional center of attention to a new focus on all areas of information studies Technology and Professional Identity of Librarians The Making of the Cybrarian brings into focus both the positive and negative aspects that technology places on the professional identity of librarians Highlighting the new methods involved in data management communication and Library Information education and research this book is a necessary means for librarians students and researchers to obtain an up to date understanding of what it means to maintain relevancy in the information age Classification and Knowledge Organization Rüdiger Klar, Otto Opitz, 2013-03-14 Large collections of data and information necessitate adequate methods for their analysis The book presents such methods proposes and discusses recent approaches and implementations and describes a series of practical applications Beyond Article 19 Julie Biando Edwards, Stephan P. Edwards, 2010 Beyond Article 19 Libraries and Social and Cultural Rights addresses the subject of libraries and cultural rights a topic that has received relatively little attention in the past but which librarians and others concerned with human rights are beginning to recognize and talk about Librarians have long been concerned with individual rights and have worked tirelessly indeed making it a basic tenet of the profession to protect and preserve those rights Little has been written about the role that libraries can play in protecting and promoting group rights specifically cultural rights This book examines this shortfall by exploring the relationship between libraries cultural rights and community life and identity Recruitment, Development, and Retention of Information Professionals: Trends in Human Resources and Knowledge Management Pankl, Elisabeth, Theiss-White, Danielle, Bushing, Mary C., 2010-02-28 This book offers disparate yet important perspectives of various information professionals pertaining to recruitment retention and career development of individuals within organizations Provided by publisher Library 3.0 Tom Kwanya, Christine Stilwell, Peter Underwood, 2014-12-09 The emerging generation of research and academic library users expect the delivery of user centered information services Apomediation refers to the supporting role librarians can give users by stepping in when users need help Library 3.0 explores the ongoing debates on the point oh phenomenon and its impact on service delivery in libraries This title analyses Library 3.0 and its potential in creating intelligent libraries capable of meeting contemporary needs and the growing role of librarians as apomediators Library 3.0 is divided into four chapters The first chapter introduces and places the topic in context The second chapter considers point oh libraries The third chapter covers library 3.0 librarianship while the final chapter explores ways libraries can move towards 3.0 Focuses on social media in research and academic libraries Gives context to the discussion of apomediation in librarianship and information services provision Provides a balance between more traditional and more progressive approaches

The Reinvention of the U.S. Academic Library Donald A. Barclay, 2025-07-10 The information most essential for life in the modern world falls under the rubric of scholarly communication the vast and ever growing body of words and data produced by scholarly researchers the majority of whom work in academia Scholarly communications are fundamental to creating and informing the digital and mechanical tools we use every day contributing to the world in which we live advanced healthcare macro and micro economic choices environmental sustainability concepts of justice and equity and a fuller understanding of the human history For the last several centuries there have been three key components to scholarly communication The scholars who conduct the research gather the data and record their findings The scholarly publishers who replicate and distribute those findings The academic libraries that provide connection between the fruits of scholarly communications and the researchers instructors students and members of the general public who then use that information to advance learning and make decisions both personal and public Focusing on U S academic libraries The Reinvention of the U S Academic Library begins by providing a concise history of the traditional role and function of academic libraries from their earliest times up to the dawn of the Digital Age and the spread of digital technology into all aspects of academic research and scholarly communication This introduction is followed by chapters analyzing how digital technology has transformed over the course of a few swift decades not only the role and function of academic libraries but also the nature of scholarly communication itself Specifically The Reinvention of the U S Academic Library will consider how digital technology has changed the way academic libraries Acquire and exercise bibliographic control over collections Provide equitable access to information Allocate and utilize library space Instruct and guide students faculty and others Relate to the larger academic and scholarly publishing communities Sustain scholarly communications
