With Mr. Chesterton's Compliments.

A handwritten signature in dark ink on a small, rectangular piece of aged, cream-colored paper. The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style. It begins with a large, ornate capital 'G' that loops around the first part of the name. The letters 'K' and 'C' are also prominent, with the 'C' being particularly large and stylized. The signature ends with a long, horizontal flourish that extends to the right. The paper is slightly tilted and has a few small dark spots, characteristic of old paper.

The Collected Papers of Bertrand Russell Volume 21 Bertrand Russell,2024-08-01 In Collected Papers 21 Bertrand Russell grapples with the dilemma that confronted all opponents of militarism and war in the 1930s namely what was the most politically and morally appropriate response to international aggression How to Keep the Peace contains some of Russell s best known essays such as the famous Auto obituary and his treatment of The Superior Virtue of the Oppressed Like the sixteen previous volumes in Routledge s critical edition of Russell s shorter writings however Collected Papers 21 also includes a number of unpublished manuscripts from the Bertrand Russell Archives at McMaster University Moreover it recovers for Russell scholars and general readers alike a rich vein of material that has previously appeared in print only in obscure or long defunct newspaper and periodical publications     A Miscellany of Men G. K. Chesterton, 2017-09-16 Our promises 1 Our goal is to bring you high quality Christian publications at reasonable and affordable prices Therefore all of our works are complete and unabridged unless specifically stated otherwise which means that unlike some other independent publications you get what you see and pay for No unpleasant surprises 2 We endeavour to bring you updated editions of classic works Therefore this work is not a scan but is a completely digitized version of the original 3 Unlike many other independently published works our publications are easy to read Therefore you won't find illegible faded poor quality photocopies here Neither will you find poorly done OCR versions of those faded scans either with illegible words that contain all kinds of strange characters like % and second that they are written badly Two explanatory replies may be permitted The first is that they were written at different times of a most crucial English epoch from the South African War to the first impudences of Eugenics a time in which the liberal tradition as I hold it was not only dying but committing suicide The second is that I have never felt certain of my writing but only quite certain of my opinions It is a curious question whether a man ought to write when he cannot write well My own view of it is that in writing as in singing or dancing or deer stalking he can do it if he can do it On this matter the modern world makes one enormous mistake It remembers the mountain and the chasm it forgets the vastness of the plain It is true that the Irish Giant was very tall and that General Tom Thumb was very short but it is quite untrue to suppose that men could be ranked in a smooth ascending slope like the long side of some low pyramid from Tom Thumb up to the Giant If all men could be induced to stand in a row for such a scientific comparison which they could not I am encouraged to believe you would find a tall clump of rather tired Giants at one end and a sudden drop into very vivacious dwarfs at the other but between the two miles and miles even hundreds of miles of a sort of rolling and slightly varying level like Salisbury Plain That all men are equal is a matter of abstract theory that most men are equal is a matter of common fact And as it is with altitude of stature so it is with altitude in any one of the arts At the one end there are a few who can do it perfectly at the other end there are I am told a few who can only do it horribly or who cannot do it at all Between the two stretch the interminable lines of that everlasting legion who can do it There is such a thing as being able to read and write being able to sow and reap being able to play golf or read the Greek alphabet And the difference between those who can do it and those who can't do it is much more absolute and abysmal to a true philosopher than any difference in the degree of value or vileness with which it is done I know as every man knows the things I can in this literal sense do I can swim I cannot ride I can play chess I cannot play bridge I can scull I cannot punt I can read Greek lettering I cannot read Arabic lettering In this strong sound fundamental sense I can write literature whereas I could not write music Or if you like to put it so I can't play the piano but I can play the fool But the distinction is decisive I can do it and therefore I am a trader and not a thief And I would sooner call myself a journalist than an author because a journalist is a journeyman He has a real working human trade he even has a trade union
