Gaetano Pesce Marisa Bartolucci,2003-04 In an introduction to the catalogue of his first art exhibition in 1956 when a mere seventeen he brashly declared his right to be incoherent He still lives and labors by this youthful credo believing that today to be means to live in infinite and often contradictory ways      Out in the World with Gaetano Pesce Museum,2021-04-26 At 81 the Italian designer and architect Gaetano Pesce is one of the world s greatest living innovators Best known for his radical embrace of ordinary unconventional materials of his time he has constructed enormous pink buildings from foam sofas that resemble jester hats large scale portraits from hand poured resin and vases that bend and wobble A pioneer in design he s advocated for decades for the injection of human elements and error into mass produced design This book is the first of its kind on Pesce now in the twilight years of his career It includes an interview with Pesce come essay by the critic Sophie Haigney intimate portraits by Duane Michals and four newly commissioned photographic series that take his work out into the world allowing different image makers to understand and connect with it for themselves

The Inhabitable Flesh of Architecture Marcos Cruz,2017-03-02 Today s architecture has failed the body with its long heritage of purity of form and aesthetic of cleanliness A resurgence of interest in flesh especially in art has led to a politics of abjection completely changing traditional aesthetics and is now giving light to an alternative discussion about the body in architecture This book is dedicated to a future vision of the body in architecture questioning the contemporary relationship between our Human Flesh and the changing Architectural Flesh Through the analysis and design of a variety of buildings and projects Flesh is proposed as a concept that extends the meaning of skin one of architecture s most fundamental metaphors It seeks to challenge a common misunderstanding of skin as a flat and thin surface In a time when a pervasive discourse about the impact of digital technologies risks turning the architectural skin ever more disembodied this book argues for a thick embodied flesh by exploring architectural interfaces that are truly inhabitable Different concepts of Flesh are investigated not only concerning the architectural and aesthetic but also the biological aspects The latter is materialised in form of Synthetic Neoplasms which are proposed as new semi living entities rather than more commonly derived from scaled up analogies between biological systems and larger scale architectural constructs These neoplastic creations are identified as partly designed object and partly living material in which the line between the natural and the artificial is progressively blurred Hybrid technologies and interdisciplinary work methodologies are thus required and lead to a revision of our current architectural practice

Architectures of Hiding Rana Abughannam,Émélie Desrochers-Turgeon,Pallavi Swaranjali,Federica Goffi,2024-01-31 Architecture manifests as a space of concealment and unconcealment lethe and al theia enclosure and disclosure where its making and agency are both hidden and revealed With an urgency to amplify narratives that are overlooked silenced and unacknowledged in and by architectural spaces histories and theories this book contends the need for a critical study of hiding in the context of architectural processes It urges the understanding of inherent opportunities power structures and covert strategies whether socio cultural geo political environmental or economic as they are related to their hideoscapes the constructed landscapes of our built environments participating in the architectures of hiding Looking at and beyond the intentions and agency that architects possess architectural spaces lend themselves as apparatuses for various forms of hiding and un hiding The examples explored in this book and the creative works presented in the interviews enclosed in the interludes of this publication cover a broad range of geographic and cultural contexts discursively disclosing hidden aspects of architectural meaning The book investigates the imaginative intrigue of concealing and revealing in design processes along with moral responsibilities and ethical dilemmas inherent in crafting concealment through the making and reception of architecture
