All That Glittered Timothy Alborn, 2019-08-20 During the century after 1750 Great Britain absorbed much of the world's supply of gold into its pockets cupboards and coffers when it became the only major country to adopt the gold standard as the sole basis of its currency Over the same period the nation's emergence was marked by a powerful combination of Protestantism commerce and military might alongside preservation of its older social hierarchy In this rich and broad ranging work Timothy Alborn argues for a close connection between gold and Britain's national identity Beginning with Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations which validated Britain's position as an economic powerhouse and running through the mid nineteenth century gold rushes in California and Australia Alborn draws on contemporary descriptions of gold's value to highlight its role in financial political and cultural realms He begins by narrating British interests in gold mining globally to enable the smooth operation of the gold standard In addition to explaining the metal's function in finance he explores its uses in war expenditure foreign trade religious observance and ornamentation at home and abroad Britons criticized foreign cultures for their wasteful and inappropriate uses of gold even as it became a prominent symbol of status in more traditional features of British society including its royal family aristocracy and military Although Britain had been ambivalent in its embrace of gold ultimately it enabled the nation to become the world's most modern economy and to extend its imperial reach around the globe All That Glittered tells the story of gold as both a marker of value and a valuable commodity while providing a new window onto Britain's ascendancy after the 1750s

DEADWOOD is a wild romp through the Wild West It s historically true that Wyatt Earp Doc Holliday Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane were together in Deadwood in 1876 But what is less well known is that while they were there they were battling Comancheros Ghost Dancers and ZOMBIES Doc Holliday a gunslinger a frontier dentist and a man with scientific ambitions way back then had a valid theory that would have explained what causes the dead to arise Sheriff Dylan Parkman and valiant U S Marshal Heck Thomas are trying to wipe out an epidemic of cannibalism And young would be lovers Jed Harris and Danielle Greer are fighting off zombies as they try to rescue a priest a nun and a passel of young kids in a one room school that s surrounded by the undead How will this crazy stuff finally pan out Who will solve the hellacious mysteries to the coast there was a wild stampede for the gold fields Settlements were completely deserted homes farms and stores abandoned Ships deserted by their sailors crowded the bay at San Francisco there were five hundred of them in July 1850 soldiers deserted wholesale churches were emptied town councils ceased to sit merchants clerks lawyers and judges and criminals everybody flocked to the foothills Soon from Hawaii Oregon and Sonora from the Eastern States the South Seas Australia South America and China came an extraordinary flow of the hopeful and adventurous In the winter of 48 the rush began from the States to Panama and in the spring across the plains It is estimated that 80 000 men reached the coast in 1849 about half of them coming overland three fourths were Americans By 1851 the number of actual miners had risen to about 140 000 From across the Atlantic there came Britons Germans Frenchmen Italians others speaking strange tongues until the mines of California were likened to so many towers of Babel and pantomime often took the part of speech Never before had there been brought together in a far quarter of the earth a body of men of so varied trades and professions all massed in a twinkling to one common pursuit Social distinctions vanished at a touch Soft handed lawyers and clergymen wielded pick and shovel side by side with born navvies cooked their own meals and washed their own clothes No honest labor lowered the dignity of a gentleman since that gentleman needs must wait upon himself and provide for himself with the work of his own hands Out of this common necessity grew as it were over night a natural democracy in which all men met each other on an equal footing No deference was paid save to conspicuous ability of such sort as was useful in the work at hand The popular notion of a miner is that of a rude and reckless fellow who works one day with a tin pan and gets drunk the next There were indeed many of this ilk in the gold diggings but in the main the miners of 49 were a picked and superior class of men It was not as if a bonanza had been struck within easy reach of the riffraff of the nations California by the shortest route was two thousand miles from any well populated part of America five thousand from a European port The journey thither was expensive and most of the men who undertook it were such as had accumulated by their own industry a good stake at home They were adventurers to be sure but what is an adventurer One who hazards a chance especially a chance of danger That is the spirit which starts almost any enterprise that demands courage determination and self reliance Beyond this the argonauts were notably capable and intelligent men as their works soon proved An unbiased observer said of them Perhaps in no other community so limited could one find so many well informed and clever men men of all nations who have added the advantages of traveling to natural abilities and a liberal education Most of them were charged with spontaneous and persistent energy Immediately as by an electric shock the California of dreaming friars and lazy vaqueros was tossed aside and an amazing industry whirled into action
