Gradstein, James George Ogg, Alan Gilbert Smith, 2004 An international team of over forty stratigraphic experts have helped to build the most up to date international stratigraphic framework for the Precambrian and Phanerozoic This successor to A Geologic Time Scale 1989 by W Brian Harland et al CUP 0521 387655 begins with an introduction to the theory and methodology behind the construction of the new time scale The main part of the book is devoted to the scale itself systematically presenting the standard subdivisions at all levels using a variety of correlation markers Extensive use is made of isotope geochronology geomathematics and orbital tuning to produce a standard geologic scale of unprecedented detail and accuracy with a full error analysis A wallchart summarising the whole time scale with paleogeographic reconstructions throughout the Phanerozoic is included in the back of the book The time scale will be an invaluable reference source for academic and professional researchers and students The Earlier Stone Age Settlement of Scandinavia Grahame Clark, 1975-01-09 During the Ice Age Scandinavia was submerged under thick ice sheets and it was only in the subsequent warmer conditions as the ice receded that colonisation by plants animals and men became possible In this book Grahame Clark examines the expansion of human settlement into this area with particular emphasis on the economic aspects of the societies under discussion The account is carried down to the time 3500 3000 BC when mixed farming including cereal agriculture was being introduced into the area The book is fully illustrated and documented by many maps and tables It provides a rounded picture of the economy of the first settlers and their descendants in an area whose archaeological past has been exceptionally fully investigated and documented The colonisation of Scandinavia is considered in its European context but the main emphasis lies on the process of change and the continuity of settlement in the territory itself Marine Geology and Oceanography of the Arctic Seas Y.
