winning Indigo Springs Library Journal One minute twenty four year old Sophie Hansa is in a San Francisco alley trying to save the life of the aunt she has never known The next she finds herself flung into the warm and salty waters of an unfamiliar world Glowing moths fall to the waves around her and the sleek bodies of unseen fish glide against her submerged ankles The world is Stormwrack a series of island nations with a variety of cultures and economies and a language different from any Sophie has heard Sophie doesn't know it yet but she has just stepped into the middle of a political firestorm and a conspiracy that could destroy a world she has just discovered her world where everyone seems to know who she is and where she is forbidden to stay But Sophie is stubborn and smart and refuses to be cast adrift by people who don't know her and yet wish her gone With the help of a sister she has never known and a ship captain who would rather she had never arrived she must navigate the shoals of the highly charged politics of Stormwrack and win the right to decide for herself whether she stays in this wondrous world or is doomed to exile Something refreshing in the way of fantasy S M Stirling New York Times bestselling author

In God We Trust Beaulena C. Dunn, 2016-06-06 A war is brewing between good and evil in the heavens and upon the earth a war that could destroy the very fabric of the universe As the underworld amasses its power and warriors of heaven prepare their weapons the clock ticks towards doom The fate of all rests with Alogar a gentle little entity incarnated as an earth born child to prevent the collapse of both realms Set in the anxious days of the Cuban Missile Crisis In God We Trust questions the nature of free will destiny and the immorality that comes with the wielding of immense power All that has been and will be was pre destined until now Will Alogar be able to return the world to its pre ordained path Or will the forces of evil prevent the entity from fulfilling its own destiny

Following Isabella Robert Root, 2012-11-13 A world traveler Isabella Bird recorded her 1873 visit to Colorado Territory in her classic travel narrative A Lady's Life in the Rocky Mountains This work inspired Robert Root's own discovery of Colorado's Front Range following his move from the flatlands of Michigan In this elegantly written book Root retraces Bird's three month journey seeking to understand what Colorado meant to her and what it would come to mean for him Following Isabella is a work of intersecting histories Root interweaves an overview of Bird's life and work with regional history nature writing and his own travels to produce a uniquely informative and entertaining narrative He probes Bird's self transformation as her writing moved from private letters to published books and also draws on reflections of other authors of her day including Grace Greenwood and Helen Hunt Jackson Like Bird Root experiences his most fulfilling moments in the mountains climbing formidable Longs Peak living alone in the cabin of famed editor William Allen White and wandering wild landscapes Through reflections on earlier writers experiences and by weighing his own response to them Root learns not only how to come to Colorado as visitors so often do but more important how to stay

North James Oliver Curwood,2020-09-28 Captain Rifle gray and old in the Alaskan Steamship service had not lost the spirit of his youth along with his years Romance was not dead in him and the fire which is built up of clean adventure and the association of strong men and a mighty country had not died out of his veins He could still see the picturesque feel the thrill of the unusual and at times warm memories crowded upon him so closely that yesterday seemed today and Alaska was young again thrilling the world with her wild call to those who had courage to come and fight for her treasures and live or die Tonight with the softly musical throb of his ship under his feet and the yellow moon climbing up from behind the ramparts of the Alaskan mountains something of loneliness seized upon him and he said simply That is Alaska The girl standing beside him at the rail did not turn nor for a moment did she answer He could see her profile clear cut as a cameo in the almost vivid light and in that light her eyes were wide and filled with a dusky fire and her lips were parted a little and her slim body was tense as she looked at the wonder of the moon silhouetting the cragged castles of the peaks up where the soft gray clouds lay like shimmering draperies Then she turned her face a little and nodded Yes Alaska she said and the old captain fancied there was the slightest ripple of a tremor in her voice Your Alaska Captain Rifle Out of the clearness of the night came to them a distant sound like the low moan of thunder Twice before Mary Standish had heard it and now she asked What was that Surely it can not be a storm with the moon like that and the stars so clear above City Woman Patricia
