Geographies ...: Home geography, and the earth as a whole Ralph Stockman Tarr, Frank Morton McMurry, 1900 Tarr and McMurry's Geographies: Home geography Ralph Stockman Tarr, 1900 Tarr and McMurry's Geographies: Home geography and the earth as a whole Ralph Stockman Tarr, 1900 Home Alison Blunt, Robyn Dowling, 2022-05-30 Home articulates a critical geography of home in which home is understood as an emotive place and spatial imaginary that encompasses lived experiences of everyday domestic life alongside a wider and often contested sense of being and belonging in the world Engaging with the burgeoning cross disciplinary interest in home since the first edition was published this significantly revised and updated second edition contains new research boxes illustrations and contemporary examples throughout It also adds a new chapter on Home and the City that extends the scalar understanding of home to the urban The book develops the conceptual and methodological underpinnings of a critical geography of home drawing on key feminist postcolonial and housing thinkers as well as contemporary methodological currents in non representational thinking and performance The book s chapters consider the making and unmaking of home across the domestic scale house as home the urban city as home national nation as home and homemaking in relation to transnational migration and diaspora Each chapter includes illustrative examples from diverse geographical contexts and historical time periods Chapters also address some of the key cross cutting dimensions of home across these scales including digital connectivity art and performance more than human constructions of home and violence and dispossession The book ends with a research agenda for home in a world of COVID 19 The book provides an understanding of home that has three intersecting dimensions that material and imaginative geographies of home are closely intertwined that home power and identity are intimately linked and that geographies of home are multi scalar This framework the examples used to illustrate it and the intended audience of academics and students across the humanities and social sciences will together shape the field of home studies into the future Sexuality and Gender at Home Brent Pilkey, Rachel Scicluna, Ben Campkin, Barbara Penner, 2020-05-27 Sexuality and Gender at Home is the first book to explore the meanings and experiences of home through the framework of sexuality Looking at a broad spectrum of sexuality gender and domesticity it examines the many ways in which home is constructed performed and experienced in relation to sexuality and gender Considering identity issues such as age class ethnicity and gender the authors problematize intimacy and question conventional ways of thinking about allegedly private home space Comprehensive introductions to each of the book s three sections on Intimacy and Home Queering Home Beyond Home provide a coherent overview of the existing literature as well as additional historical and cultural context Fourteen chapters present ground breaking research and insights into sexuality gender and home across culture time and space Written by academics from a range of subject disciplines chapters are based on research covering countries including Australia France Sweden the UK the USA Guyana Israel and Singapore This highly original text is the ideal starting point for anyone wishing to get to grips with the emerging field of sexuality gender and home and will particularly appeal to researchers and students in anthropology architecture gender studies sociology and human geography Marking Time Nicole R.

Fleetwood,2020-04-28 Nicole Fleetwood enters American prisons to explore the creativity flourishing there Though isolated and degraded incarcerated artists produce bold works that testify to the economic and racial injustice of American punishment These pieces many published here for the first time offer a new vision of freedom for the twenty first century

Claiming Home Tina Büchler,2022-01-12 Through biographical narratives Claiming Home traces how queer migrant women living in Switzerland navigate often contradictory perspectives on sexuality gender and nation Situated between heteronormative and racialized stereotypes of migrant women on the one hand and the implicitly white figure of the lesbian on the other queer migrant women are often rendered impossible subjects Claiming Home maps how they negotiate conflicting loyalties in this field and how they in their own way claim a sense of belonging and home School and Home

Education ,1919 The Routledge Handbook of Second Home Tourism and Mobilities C. Michael Hall,Dieter Müller,2018-04-17 Second homes have become an increasingly important component of both tourism and housing studies They can directly and indirectly contribute a significant number of domestic and international visitors to destinations and may be part of longer term retirement lifestyle and amenity migration that can have significant economic and social effects on communities and destination development This volume offers an overview of different disciplinary and methodological approaches to second homes while simultaneously providing a broad geographical reach Divided into four parts exploring governance development community and mobile second homes the book provides a contemporary account of the major issues in an area of growing international interest This timely handbook covers a wide range of dimensions from planning to the role of second homes in development and the management of their impact The international and cross disciplinary nature of the contributions will be of interest to numerous academic fields in the social sciences as well as urban and regional planners

Cultural Ideals of Home Deborah Chambers,2020-03-18 Spanning the nineteenth to twenty first centuries this book investigates how home is imagined staged and experienced in western culture Questions about meanings of home and domestic culture are triggered by dramatic changes in values and ideals about the dwellings we live in and the dwellings we desire or dread Deborah Chambers explores how home is idealised as a middle class haven managed as an investment and signified as a status symbol and expression of personal identity She addresses a range of public state commercial popular and expert discourses about home the heritage industry design exhibitions television social media home mobilities and migration smart technologies and ecological sustainability Drawing on cross disciplinary research including cultural history and cultural geography the book offers a distinctive media and cultural studies approach supported by original historically informed case studies on interior and domestic design exhibitions of model homes TV home interiors media home imaginaries multiscreen homes corporate visions of homes of tomorrow and digital smart homes A comprehensive and engaging study this book is ideal for students and researchers of cultural studies cultural history media and communication studies as well as sociology gender studies cultural geography and design studies Transnational Migration and Home in Older Age

Katie Walsh, Lena Näre, 2016-03-10 This book examines the transformations in home lives arising in later life and resulting from global migrations It provides insight into the ways in which contemporary demographic processes of aging and migration shape the meaning experience and making of home for those in older age Chapters explore how home is negotiated in relation to possibilities for return to the homeland family networks aging and health care cultures and belonging The book deliberately crosses emerging sub fields in transnationalism studies by offering case studies on aging labour migrants retirement migrants and return migrants as well as older people affected by the movement of others including family members and migrant care workers The diversity of people s experiences of home in later life is fully explored and the impact of social class gender and nationality as well as the corporeal dimensions of older age are all in evidence Children,

Home and School Ros Edwards, 2004-08-02 In contemporary western societies there are increasing emphases on children being the responsibility of their parents contained within the home and on their compartmentalisation into separate and protected organised educational settings Thus home and school form a crucial part of children s lives and experiences This book explores the key institutional settings of home and school and other educationally linked organised spaces in children s lives and the relationships between these It presents in depth discussions concerning new research findings from a range of national contexts and focuses on various aspects of children s and sometimes adult s own understandings and activities in home and school and after school settings and the relationship between these The contributors assess children from a variety of backgrounds and circumstances and consider how these children see and position themselves as autonomous within connected to or regulated by home and school Discussion of the impact of policy and practice developments on the everyday lives of these children is also included Aging and Caring at the Intersection of Work and Home Life Anne

Martin-Matthews, Judith E. Phillips, 2010-10-18 There are not many books that address the boundaries of care of older people from a work life perspective This book authored by contributors from various countries looks at the boundaries of care by looking at private and public help professional and personal help and paid and unpaid caregivers It captures and conceptualizes the complexity of the intersection of work and home life as it relates to the provision of assistance and support to older relatives in a variety of care work contexts It explores these issues within a critical framework rather than from an assumed stress or burden perspective which dominates current texts on the topic Readers of this volume will gain a deeper understanding of issues of care provision amongst networks of careers and helpers and of the particular dynamics of care when it is episodic or framed by constraints of space and time as a result of geography In addition each chapter addresses issues of diversity with sensitivity to gender race and ethnicity This book will be of use to academics and graduate students in Gerontology Family Studies IO psychology Gender Studies and Sociology Housing and Home Unbound Nicole Cook, Aidan

Davison, Louise Crabtree, 2016-05-05 Housing and Home Unbound pioneers understandings of housing and home as a meeting ground in which intensive practices materials and meanings tangle with extensive economic environmental and political worlds Cutting across disciplines the book opens up the conceptual and empirical study of housing and home by exploring the coproduction of the concrete and the abstract the intimate and the institutional the experiential and the collective Exploring diverse examples in Australia and New Zealand contributors address the interleaving of money and materials in the digital commodity of real estate the neoliberal invention of housing as a liquid asset and source of welfare provision and the bundling of car and home in housing markets The more than human relations of housing and home are articulated through the role of suburban nature in the making of Australian modernity the marketing of nature in waterfront urban renewal the role of domestic territory in subversive social movements such as Seasteading and Tiny Houses and the search for home comfort through low cost energy efficiency practices The transformative politics of housing and home are explored through the decolonizing of housing tenure the shaping of housing policy by urban social movements the lived importance of marginal spaces in Indigenous and other housing and the affective lessons of the ruin Beginning with the diverse elements gathered together in housing and home the text opens up the complex realities and possibilities of human dwelling

Home, Uprooted Devika Chawla, 2014-06-27 The Indian Independence Act of 1947 granted India freedom from British rule signaling the formal end of the British Raj in the subcontinent This freedom though came at a price partition the division of the country into India and Pakistan and the communal riots that followed These riots resulted in the deaths of an estimated 1 million Hindus and Muslims and the displacement of about 20 million persons on both sides of the border This watershed socioeconomic geopolitical moment cast an enduring shadow on India's relationship with neighboring Pakistan Presenting a perspective of the middle class refugees who were forced from their homes jobs and lives with the withdrawal of British rule in India Home Uprooted delves into the lives of forty five Partition refugees and their descendants to show how this epochal event continues to shape their lives Exploring the oral histories of three generations of refugees from India's Partition ten Hindu and Sikh families in Delhi Home Uprooted melds oral histories with a fresh perspective on current literature to unravel the emergent conceptual nexus of home travel and identity in the stories of the participants Author Devika Chawla argues that the ways in which her participants imagine recollect memorialize or abandon home in their everyday narratives give us unique insights into how refugee identities are constituted These stories reveal how migrations are enacted and what home in its sense absence and presence can mean for displaced populations Written in an accessible and experimental style that blends biography autobiography essay and performative writing Home Uprooted folds in field narratives with Chawla's own family history which was also shaped by the Partition event and her self propelled migration to North America In contemplating and living their stories of home she attempts to show how her own ancestral legacies of Partition displacement bear relief Home how we experience it and what it says about the selves we come to occupy is a crucial question of our contemporary moment Home Uprooted delivers a unique and poignant perspective on this timely question This compilation of stories offers an iteration of how diasporic migrations might be enacted and what home means to displaced populations

The Massachusetts Teacher and Journal of Home and School Education ,1857 Home SOS Katherine Brickell,2020-07-20 Drawing on 15 years of fieldwork and over 300 interviews Home SOS argues that the home is central to the violence and gendered contingency of existence in crisis ordinary Cambodia Provides an original book length study which brings domestic violence and forced eviction into twin view Offers relational insights between different violences to build an integrated understanding of women s experiences of home life Mobilises the crisis ordinary as a critical pedagogy and imaginary through which to understand everyday gendered politics of survival Positions domestic violence and forced eviction as manifestations of intimate war against women s homes and bodies located inside and outside of the traditional purview of war Reaffirms and reprioritises the home as a political entity which is foundational to the concerns of human geography

Heritage in the Home Caron Lipman,2020-05-10 This book explores how people encounter the pasts of their homes offering insights into the affective emotional and embodied geographies of domestic heritage For many people the intimacy of dwelling is tempered by levels of awareness that their home has been previously occupied by other people whose traces remain in the objects d cor spaces stories memories and atmospheres they leave behind This book frames home as a site of historical encounter knowledge and imagination exploring how different forms of domestic inheritance material felt imagined known inform or challenge people s homemaking practices and feelings of belonging and how the meanings and experiences of domestic space and dwelling are shaped by residents awareness of their home s history The domestic home becomes an important site for heritage work an intimate space of memories and histories both our own but also not our own a place of real and imagined encounters with a range of selves and others This book will be of interest to academics students and professionals in the fields of heritage studies cultural geography contemporary archaeology public history museum studies sociology and anthropology

No Home in a Homeland Julia Christensen,2017-02-15 The Dene a traditionally nomadic people have no word for homelessness a rare condition in the Canadian North prior to the 1990s In No Home in a Homeland Julia Christensen documents the rise of Indigenous homelessness and argues that this alarming trend will continue so long as policy makers continue to ignore northern perspectives and root causes which lie deep in the region s colonial past Christensen interweaves analysis of the region s unique history with the personal stories of people living homeless in two cities Yellowknife and Inuvik These individual and collective narratives tell a larger story of displacement and exclusion residential schools and family breakdown addiction and poor mental health poverty and unemployment and urbanization and institutionalization But they also tell a story of hope and renewal Understanding what it means to be homeless in the North and how Indigenous people think about home and homemaking is the first step Christensen argues on the path to decolonizing existing approaches and practices

For a Liberatory Politics of Home Michele

Lancione,2023-10-06 In For a Liberatory Politics of Home Michele Lancione questions accepted understandings of home and homelessness to offer a radical proposition homelessness cannot be solved without dismantling current understandings of home Conventionally home is framed as a place of security and belonging while its loss defines what it means to be homeless On the basis of this binary a whole industry of policy interventions knowledge production and organizing fails to provide solutions to homelessness but perpetuates violent and precarious forms of inhabitation Drawing on his research and activism around housing in Europe Lancione attends to the interlocking crises of home and homelessness by recentering the political charge of precarious dwelling It is there if often in unannounced ways that a profound struggle for a differential kind of homing signals multiple possibilities to transcend the violences of home homelessness In advancing a new approach to work with the politics of inhabitation Lancione provides a critique of current practices and offers a transformative vision for a renewed liberatory politics of home
