Female Friendship Ida Day, Slav N. Gratchev, Larry Sheret, 2022-07-12 This volume focuses on the literary and artistic exploration of female friendship in various geographical contexts spanning the centuries from the medieval period until the present The essays address the intense female bonding in world literature as a universal human need for intimacy sense of belonging and purpose The main focus is on the reevaluation of friendships between women which have been traditionally less epitomized than those between men The authors of this volume demonstrate how the emotional unions of women offer compelling insights to various historical and contemporary societies helping us understand gender relations traditions family life and community values

Neo-Victorian Lesbians on Screen Sarah E. Maier, Rachel M. Friars, 2025-09-09 In Neo Victorian Lesbians on Screen Maier and Friars argue that the on screen portrayal of lesbians situated in the long nineteenth century across various countries is at the very least a dual task the imperative project of revoicing lesbian silence and female companionship is complicated by the lack of and or complex representation of such women in the past The adaptations with varying degrees of success carefully manipulate the gaze of the viewer to illustrate both how crucial the act of looking proves to be for lesbian attachment in these films and how the viewer's own gaze changes the way the lesbian is represented Maier and Friars consider the adaptations awareness of the audience and the ways in which the films implicitly acknowledge the stakes behind bringing the lesbian to life as it were in visual media Because screen adaptations disrupt historical distance by literally picturing Victorian subjects via a medium they did not have film adaptations of novels and biofictions and original screenplays are challenged by the lesbian subject's vivid presence on screen The lesbian is no longer a contained neo Victorian presence in the othered nineteenth century but her very existence on screen signals her effervescent modernity which filmmakers alternately embrace or reject

Tomboy Cristina Johnston, 2025-08-20 C line Sciamma's 2011 film Tomboy is the central work in the French filmmaker's coming of age trilogy Bracketed between La Naissance des pieuvres Waterlilies 2007 an examination of girlhood and teenage desire and the 2014 film Bande de filles Girlhood about the lives of a group of Black girls in their late teens living in the Paris suburbs Tomboy is a quiet understated examination of gender and queer selfhood amidst the shifting sands of late childhood and early adolescence Tomboy is an intimate and luminous film tender but stark and never sentimental Written cast and filmed in a matter of months it follows the experiences and burgeoning friendships of a ten year old child who moves to a new town during the summer holidays First introducing herself as Mika l they are we later learn Laure to their parents and younger sister Sciamma's film is not interested in why the character is passing but in how Cristina Johnston focuses on specific elements of Mika l Laure's haptic and spatial experience showing how the filmmaker's signature engagement with surfaces and textures allows queer potentialities to unfold organically While Johnston centres her analysis on Tomboy she also connects the film to broader themes within Sciamma's trilogy public reception of the films and the significance of Sciamma's identity as a queer director Ultimately the book offers insight into a film that deserves to be watched and appreciated for its nuanced portrayal of childhood queerness and passing as experience rather than ideology

When Everything's on Fire Brian Zahnd, 2021-11-09 Is it possible to hold on to faith in an age of unbelief Written with personal and pastoral experience Brian Zahnd extends an invitation to move beyond the crisis of faith toward the journey of reconstruction As the world rapidly changes in ways that feel incompatible with Christianity this book provides much needed hope that a stronger more confident faith is possible

Visual

Storytelling in the 21st Century David Callahan, 2024-10-14 This volume will explore varying contemporary strategies and examples of visual storytelling across several contemporary spheres from street art to video games from media for children to media for adults from images in movement to static images It reads these storytelling venues in terms of the ethical itineraries that we live by or would like to live by or wish the world lived by In this sense it relates to the fact that the term narrative has become a ubiquitous shorthand for discursive dominance Observers of widely varying aspects of social life talk for example of changing the narrative claiming the narrative overhauling the narrative or owning the narrative While these general contexts are well known there remains a need to continually interrogate new examples of storytelling forms new cases of the uses of stories in differing formats and new stories in general This perpetual need is what this volume aims to respond to by way of its mixture of contemporary storytelling locations and exemplars Life 24x a Second Elsie M.
