Bulletin ,1908 Oceanography and Marine Environment in the Basque Country A. Borja,M. Collins,2004-03-03 Against a background of extensive multi disciplinary oceanographic investigations over a number of years together with the long term establishment of a Society and Institute extensive information is available from studies undertaken in the estuarine and coastal waters of the Basque Country The present authors gained access to unpublished literature and reports which together with a synthesis of internationally refereed papers provide a series of scientific overviews of particular subject areas Teams of researchers from Basque Institutes and Universities combine to present the present state of knowledge within a global context of processes ranging from sub seabed to air sea interaction incorporating data on the associated biology including fisheries and pollutant sources and levels The latter are compared with regional national and European legislation The volume is divided into various sections Introduction Geography and Oceanography Chemical Oceanography and Water Quality Sediment Characteristics Quality and Chemistry Biomonitoring Communities and Ecology and Overall Assessment The topics covered include an historical review of marine research the impact of human activities during past centuries geology geomorphology and sediments climate and meteorology marine dynamics hydrography water mass characteristics contaminants in the waters microbiological quality sedimentological characteristics contaminants in sediments biomonitoring of heavy metals and organic components at tissue organism level and using cellular and molecular biomarkers bacterioplankton and phytoplankton communities zooplankton communities benthic communities seabirds biodiversity and conservation recovery of benthic communities the polluted systems and assessment of human impacts On the basis of these syntheses future challenges for marine research in the Basque Country are identified in terms of a Research Agenda This comprehensive text relating to estuarine coastal and oceanographic processes at wide ranging spatial and temporal scales in the southern Bay of Biscay will be of interest to researchers engineers and legislators on a regional basis and within a world wide perspective Monthly Bulletin of the International Bureau of the American Republics Pan American Union,1900 Mexican Folk Narrative from the Los Angeles Area Elaine K. Miller,2014-08-27 Urban Los Angeles is the setting in which Elaine Miller has collected her narratives from Mexican Americans The Mexican folk tradition varied and richly expressive of the inner life not only of a people but also of the individual as each lives it and personalizes it is abundantly present in the United States Since it is in the urban centers that most Mexican Americans have lived this collection represents an important contribution to the study of that tradition and to the study of the changes urban life effects on traditional folklore The collection includes sixty two legendary narratives and twenty traditional tales The legendary narratives deal with the virgins and saints as well as with such familiar characters as the vanishing hitchhiker the headless horseman and the llorona Familiar characters appear in the traditional tales Juan del Oso Blancaflor Pedro de Ordimalas and others Elaine Miller concludes that the traditional tales are dying out in the city because tale telling itself is not suited to the fast pace of modern urban life and the situations and characters in the tales are not perceived by the people to be meaningfully related to the everyday challenges and concerns of that life The legendary tales survive longer in an urban setting because although containing fantastic elements they are related to the beliefs and hopes of the narrator even in the city one may be led to buried treasure on some dark night by a mysterious woman The penchant of the informants for the fantastic in many of their tales often reflects their hopes and fears such as their dreams of suddenly acquiring wealth or their fears of being haunted by the dead Miller closely observes the teller's relation to the stories to the duendes the nimas Death God the devil and she notes the tension on the part of the informant in his relation to their religion The material is documented according to several standard tale and motif indices and is placed within the context of the larger body of Hispanic folk tradition by the citation of parallel versions throughout the Hispanic world The tales transcribed from taped interviews are presented in colloquial Spanish accompanied by summaries in English

Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008-02-14 In this volume a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age seen from cross cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present both in Europe and in the New World Through its combination of chapters on thematic generic and discursive features Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization

The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series total contents Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age
