End Of Life Issues Interdisciplinary And Multidimensional Perspectives:

End of Life Issues Brian De Vries, 1999 The complexity of life is mirrored in and elaborated by the complexity of dying death and bereavement perhaps not surprising if one views life and death as complementary processes omnipresent and opposing sides of the same construct Evidence of this complexity is readily apparent in the burgeoning discourse surrounding end of life issues End-of-Life Issues, Grief, and Bereavement Sara Honn Qualls, Julia E. Kasl-Godley, 2010-11-23 A practical overview of clinical issues related to end of life care including grief and bereavement The needs of individuals with life limiting or terminal illness and those caring for them are well documented However meeting these needs can be challenging particularly in the absence of a well established evidence base about how best to help In this informative guide editors Sara Qualls and Julia Kasl Godley have brought together a notable team of international contributors to produce a clear structure offering mental health professionals a framework for developing the competencies needed to work with end of life care issues challenges concerns and opportunities Part of the Wiley Series in Clinical Geropsychology this thorough and up to date guide answers complex questions often asked by patients their families and caregivers and helping professionals as well including How does dying occur and how does it vary across illnesses What are the spiritual issues that are visible in end of life care How are families engaged in end of life care and what services and support can mental health clinicians provide them How should providers address mental disorders that appear at the end of life What are the tools and strategies involved in advanced care planning and how do they play out during end of life care Sensitively addressing the issues that arise in the clinical care of the actively dying this timely book is filled with clinical illustrations guidance tips for practice and encouragement Written to equip mental health professionals with the information they need to guide families and others caring for the needs of individuals with life threatening and terminal illnesses End of Life Issues Grief and Bereavement presents a rich resource for caregivers for the psychological sociocultural interpersonal and spiritual aspects of care at the end of life Existential and Spiritual Issues in Death Attitudes Adrian Tomer, Grafton Eliason, Paul T. P. Wong, 2008 In this new volume death is treated both as a threat to meaning and as an opportunity to create meaning Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 20, 2000, 2000-10-25 The study of the end of life has become a major focus on medicine the social sciences ethics and religion This volume brings together the latest research on issues around death and dying life's attributes as it nears death planning and preparation for death and care and intervention related issues This evidence based finding of this volume will help shape how we approach the topic for years to come Dying, Death, and Grief in an Online Universe Carla Sofka, Carla Sofka Sofka, Illene Noppe Cupit, Kathleen Gilbert, 2012-02-09 This book is an excellent resource for the diverse practitioners and educators who are involved in this nascent area Cruse Bereavement Care This book is innovative and timely challenging the reader to think out of the box Sofka Cupit and Gilbert provide a framework to explore thanatology in an online universe while encouraging continuous research to adapt to this ever changing digital world Death Studies Historically we have always employed our foremost technology in the service of the dead We have used whatever we had at our disposal to mourn to support to share memories and to tell stories Carla J Sofka Illene Noppe Cupit and Kathleen R Gilbert reaffirm that principle reminding us that this new digital world both offers dramatic technologies and creates considerable opportunities to deal with dying death and grief The editors are extraordinarily sensitive to the multiple ways that this new technology has impacted upon the death system or the ways that a society organizes behavior around dying and death Dying Death and Grief in an Online Universe is bound to be a classic Kenneth J Doka PhD Professor The College of New Rochelle Senior Consultant The Hospice Foundation of America Modern communication technology has profoundly influenced societal practices and views about dying death and loss This text written for death educators clinicians researchers and students of thanatology provides current information about thanatechnology the communication technology used in providing death education grief counseling and thanatology research The book offers a broad overview of how the communication technology revolution affects individuals coping with end of life issues death related and non death loss and grief and implications of the digital divide between those who are knowledgeable about and have access to modern technology and those who are not It describes the proliferation of online support groups and social network sites to cope with loss and mechanisms for the memorialization and commemoration of loss It also highlights blogging as a mechanism for storytelling and SKYPE as a communication tool during times of loss and grief The unique issue of disenfranchised grief experienced by online community members is also explored along with ethical issues Appendices provide guidance regarding the online availability of different types of informational support tools to evaluate the integrity of online resources and ethical standards Key Features Examines the ways in which modern communication technology has revolutionized societal practices and views about dying death and loss Offers time tested strategies for providing death education online Addresses ethical issues related to availability and use of technology Explores the implications of the digital divide between technology and non technology users in relation to issues of death and loss Analyzes how technology has shaped and changed thanatology research

Death Attitudes and the Older Adult Adrian Tomer, 2018-10-24 This innovative and informative new text bridges the fields of gerontology and thanatology

Decision Making Near the End of Life James L. Werth Jr., Dean Blevins, 2008-10-20 Decision Making near the End of Life provides a comprehensive overview of the recent developments that have impacted decision making processes within the field of end of life care The most current developments in all aspects of major underlying issues such as public attitudes the impact of media bioethics and legal precedent provide the background information for the text The authors examine various aspects of end of life choices and decision making including communication between and among family medical personnel the dying person advance directives and the emergence of hospice and palliative care institutions The book also explores a variety of psychosocial considerations that arise in decision making including religion spirituality family caregiving disenfranchised and diverse groups and the psychological and psychiatric problems that can impact both the dying person and loved ones Case studies and first person stories about decision making written by professionals in the field bring a uniquely personal touch to this valuable text Encyclopedia of Death and Dying Glennys Howarth, Oliver Leaman, 2003-12-16 In recent years there has been a massive upsurge in academic professional and lay interest in mortality This is reflected in academic and professional literature in the popular media and in the proliferation of professional roles and training courses associated with aspects of death and dying Until now the majority of reference material on death and dying has been designed for particular disciplinary audiences and has addressed only specific academic or professional concerns There has been an urgent need for an authoritative but accessible reference work reflecting the multidisciplinary nature of the field This Encyclopedia answers that need The Encyclopedia of Death and Dying consolidates and contextualizes the disparate research that has been carried out to date The phenomena of death and dying and its related concepts are explored and explained in depth from the approaches of varied disciplines and related professions in the arts social sciences humanities medicine and the sciences In addition to scholars and students in the field from anthropologists and sociologists to art and social historians the Encyclopedia will be of interest to other professionals and practitioners whose work brings them into contact with dying dead and bereaved people It will be welcomed as the definitive death and dying reference source and an essential tool for teaching research and independent study Heroes and Victims Maria Bucur, Maria Bucur-Deckard, 2009 The cultural politics of commemorating war Handbook of Death and Dying Clifton D. Bryant, 2003-10 Dying is a social as well as physiological phenomenon Each society characterizes and consequently treats death and dying in its own individual ways ways that differ markedly These particular patterns of death and dying engender modal cultural responses and such institutionalized behavior has familiar economical educational religious and political implications The Handbook of Death and Dying takes stock of the vast literature in the field of thanatology arranging and synthesizing what has been an unwieldy body of knowledge into a concise yet comprehensive reference work This two volume handbook will provide direction and momentum to the study of death related behavior for many years to come Key Features More than 100 contributors representing authoritative expertise in a diverse array of disciplines Anthropology Family Studies History Law Medicine Mortuary Science Philosophy Psychology Social work Sociology Theology A distinguished editorial board of leading scholars and researchers in the field More than 100 definitive essays covering almost every dimension of death related behavior Comprehensive and inclusive exploring concepts and social patterns within the larger topical concern Journal article length essays that address topics with appropriate detail Multidisciplinary and cross cultural coverage Cultural Changes in Attitudes Toward Death, Dying, and Bereavement Cynthia A. Peveto, PhD, 2004-11-18 By comparing the findings from Kalish's and Reynolds's landmark 1970's Death and Ethnicity Study to their own present study Hayslip and Peveto examine the impact of cultural change on death attitudes With a focus on African American Asian American and Hispanic American subpopulations with Caucasians treated as a comparison group the authors come to several conclusions including the shift toward more interest in being informed of one's own terminal prognosis a more personal approach to funerals and mourning observances a greater focus on family and relationships

Culture's Software Dorota Brzozowska, Władysław Chłopicki, 2015-09-10 When Geert Hofstede famously defined culture as collective programming of the mind the definition broadly referred to culture as such including all the layers in his onion model The title of this volume Culture's Software represents a development of this original idea and was inspired by none other than Professor Hofstede himself He used this phrase over thirty years later when lecturing to an international group of scholars gathered in Poland to debate the idea of cultural communication styles which has in recent years been fruitfully discussed from a fresh perspective by scholars working within cognitive and cultural linguistics The debate has given rise to this book which will inspire further research into this fascinating subject

Digital Intimate Publics and Social Media Amy Shields Dobson, Brady Robards, Nicholas Carah, 2018-11-19 This book explores emergent intimate practices in social media cultures It examines new digital intimacies as they are constituted lived and commodified via social media platforms The study of social media practices has come to offer unique insights into questions about what happens to power dynamics when intimate practices are made public about intimacy as public and political and as defined by cultural politics and pedagogies institutions technologies and geographies This book forges new pathways in the scholarship of digital cultures by fusing queer and feminist accounts of intimate publics with critical scholarship on digital identities and everyday social media practices The collection brings together a diverse range of carefully selected cutting edge case studies and groundbreaking theoretical work on topics such as selfies oversharing hook up apps sexting Gamergate death and grief online and transnational family life The book is divided into three parts Shaping Intimacy Public Bodies and Negotiating Intimacy Overarching themes include identity politics memory platform economics work and labour and everyday media practices

Oxford Textbook of Palliative Medicine Geoffrey W. C. Hanks, 2011-07-21 Emphasising the multi disciplinary nature of palliative care the fourth edition of this text also looks at the individual professional roles that contribute to the best quality palliative care

Families in Later Life Alexis Walker, 2001-01-22 The introductory essays and readings drawn from both literature and social science research vividly illustrate the diversity of aging experiences both within and across American families diversity conditioned by social space historical time and individual biography Eleanor Palo Stoller Selah Chamberlain Professor of Sociology Case Western Reserve University Families in Later Life is the only textbook on the subject that addresses the diversity of aging experiences in society by race gender and social class and in a form which combines insight from the humanities as well as the social sciences Includes a balance between empirical selections and literary pieces keeping students interested and engaged while still introducing them to solid research Every social science article included has been carefully edited so those students learn and enjoy their reading to the maximum extent possible Framing Essays by the Editors Questions for Discussion and a complete Index make this book even more useful for teaching End-Of-Life Stories Donald E. Gelfand, Richard Raspa, Sherylyn H. Briller, Stephanie Myers Schim, 2005-05-02 End of life experiences are often viewed in terms of only one perspective such as medicine In this volume a variety of end of life experiences are presented and each case is analyzed from a variety of disciplinary perspectives These range across a broad array of the helping professions and disciplines such as information law and the social sciences The book provides a variety of narratives about end of life experiences contributed by members of the Wayne State University End of Life Interdisciplinary Project Each of the narratives is then analyzed from several different disciplinary perspectives These analyzes illustrate how specific end of life narratives can be viewed from different dimensions and helps students researchers and practitioners see the important and varied meanings that end of life experiences have at the level of the individual the family and the community The narratives include end of life experiences of individuals from a number of diverse backgrounds End of Life Issues Brian De Vries, 1999 The complexity of life is mirrored in and elaborated by the complexity of dying death and bereavement perhaps not surprising if one views life and death as complementary processes omnipresent and opposing sides of the same construct Evidence of this complexity is readily apparent in the burgeoning discourse surrounding end of life issues The Developing Person Through the Life Span Kathleen Stassen Berger, 2005 The Developing Person Through the Life Span Sixth Edition presents theory research practical examples and policy issues in a way that inspires students to think about human development and about the individual s role in the community and the world Review the new edition and you ll find Berger s signature strengths on display the perceptive analysis of current research the lively and personal writing style and the unmistakable commitment to students You ll also find a wealth of new topics plus a video based Media Tool Kit that takes the teaching and learning of human development to a new level The Cambridge Handbook of Age and Ageing Malcolm L. P. Wong, Lilian C. J. Wong, 2007-02-15 Has the developing world developed modern concepts of stress Are coping methods the same around the globe Such questions are not simple to answer and until recently few knew to ask them In recent years Western psychologists have recognized that their prevailing views of psychology do not always translate worldwide and that no culture has a monopoly on either stress or coping. The Handbook of Multicultural Perspectives on Stress and Coping was created to address this realization. This unique volume moves beyond simple comparisons of behaviors in other countries by clarifying critical concepts in stress and coping, analyzing and synthesizing vast amounts of global data, and identifying constructs and methodologies necessary for meaningful cross-cultural research. An international multiethnic panel of forty-five contributors presents elegant studies of stress, survival, and resilience as cultures evolve and countries interact, including personal transformation as a coping strategy, psychological skills that enhance intercultural adjustment, individual versus collectivist values in coping, Buddhist and Taoist traditions in coping, the cumulative effects of historical environmental and political stressors on nations in the Middle East, specific cross-cultural perspectives from Latino American families to Canadian aboriginal peoples to minority university students. The editors have assembled a vital store of knowledge, raising crucial implications for clinicians working with immigrant international populations and evaluating the current state of theory, research, and assessment. The Handbook documents major steps toward scientific advancement and human understanding.
