End Of Our Time:

Unveiling the End Times in Our Time Adrian Rogers, Steve Rogers, 2013-09-15 Beloved pastor Adrian Rogers guides readers through the prophetic blessing book of Revelation making clear the signs in our times that point to God's plan for his people in the end times

The Interruptive Word R. David Nelson, 2013-07-18 While German Lutheran theologian Eberhard Jüngel 1934 has made a number of significant contributions to contemporaneous discussions of sacramental theology this topic has largely been ignored by interpreters of his thought This study summarizes and evaluates through a close reading of primary and secondary source materials Jüngel's approach to the problem of sacrament R David Nelson considers Jüngel's claim that the word of God functions sacramentally as it addresses its hearer and analyses his assertion that Jesus Christ is the unique and preeminent sacrament of God for the world Progressing to an exploration of Jüngel's ecclesiology Nelson reveals Jüngel's interesting approach to the question of the church's sacramentality The volume concludes with an investigation into Jüngel's doctrines of baptism and the Lord's Supper The Interruptive Word demonstrates that Jüngel consistently appeals to the category of interruption for describing God's sacramental relation to the world and its actualities concluding that the hegemony of the category of interruption in Jüngel's theology of sacrament raises important questions concerning its coherence and tenability

The Desert Mounted Corps R. M. P. Preston, 2019-11-27 In The Desert Mounted Corps R M P Preston presents an intricate examination of the Australian Light Horse and the broader implications of mounted warfare during World War I Written in a vivid analytical style the book captures the harrowing experiences of soldiers engaged in the campaigns in the Sinai and Palestine Through meticulous research and a narrative that interweaves personal accounts with strategic assessments Preston explores themes of bravery camaraderie and the harsh realities of warfare navigating both the physical and psychological landscapes faced by the troops Much of the literary context draws upon contemporary military histories reflective of the resurgence of interest in the often overlooked contributions of the Australian forces during the Great War R M P Preston influenced by his own background and the rich heritage of Australian military history embarked on this work to honor and elucidate the sacrifices made by the Desert Mounted Corps His passion for the subject is evident throughout the narrative as he combines a historian's objectivity with a storyteller's flair Preston's extensive research spans archival documents and firsthand interviews providing a comprehensive depiction of the challenges faced by these mounted troops This book is essential reading for both historians and general readers interested in military history Australian heritage and narratives of bravery Preston's lucid prose and insightful commentary make The Desert Mounted Corps not only a tribute to those who served but also a compelling exploration of the evolution of warfare during one of history's most tumultuous periods

Our Times, Our Lives Eve Otto, Jozef Otto, 2004-11 Eve Otto explains When I began writing this book I had in the back of my mind that those who are young now might someday be interested in what life was like when their grandparents were growing up how life changed drastically with the coming of World War II in Europe and the turbulent years that followed the traumas of our emigration to America with our three young children and the difficult adjustments we had to make My book then is sort of a legacy to them Legends of Our Times Morgan Baillargeon, Leslie Tepper, 2011-11-01 Throughout the world the cowboy is an instantly recognized symbol of the North American West Legends of Our Times breaks the stereotype of cowboys and Indians to show an almost unknown side of the West It tells the story of some of the first cowboys Native peoples of the northern Plains and Plateau Through stories poetry art and reminiscences in this lavishly illustrated work Native people invite the reader on a fascinating journey into the world of ranching and rodeo The book also presents the special relationship between Native people and animals such as the horse buffalo deer and dog which have always played an important role in Native spiritual and economic life By the mid nineteenth century Native people were highly valued for their skills in horse breeding and herding and could take advantage of new economic opportunities in the emerging ranching industry Faced with limited resources competition for land and control by governments and Indian agents many Native people still managed to develop their own herds or to find work as cowboys As the ways of the Old West changed new forms of entertainment and sport evolved Impresarios such as Buffalo Bill Cody invented the Wild West show employing Native actors and stunt performers to dramatize scenes from the history of the West and to demonstrate the friendly competitions that cowboys enjoyed at the end of a long round up or cattle drive The popularity of rodeos also grew within Native communities and arenas were built on many reserves Native rodeos are still held while many Native competitors ride in professional rodeos as well Today Plains and Plateau peoples proudly continue a long tradition of cowboying Legends of Our Times is a celebration of their rich contribution to ranching and rodeo life A Life in Our Times John Kenneth Galbraith, 2019-07-31 In his memoirs John Kenneth Galbraith recalls amusingly even brilliantly the important and low moments in his life the men and women he met who were great only interesting entertaining or even absurd Galbraith studied agriculture in his native Canada and agricultural economics at UC Berkeley He taught at the University of California served briefly in FDR s administration and went on to Harvard In Cambridge England he discovered the new economics of John Maynard Keynes During World War II in Washington he held the key job of organizing and administering the system of wartime price controls After the war Galbraith directed the survey that interrogated former Nazi leaders to assess the effects of the air war on the German economy He then worked for the State Department as administrator for economic affairs in the occupied countries and served as an editor of Fortune when the magazine employed some of the best writers around Galbraith returned to Harvard in 1948 and wrote three of the most influential books on economics of his time The Affluent Society The New Industrial State and Economics and the Public Purpose In these lively memoirs the author relates all of this and more his two major political campaigns with Adlai E Stevenson for whom he was adviser and speech writer and John F Kennedy for whom he campaigned across the country his years as ambassador in India and his long opposition to the Vietnam war And he shares the lessons learned from these experiences On every subject Mr

Galbraith is succinct and witty The book is full of strong opinion and proceeds by the vehicle of anecdote The serious business of the book is to trace the steps of its author s astonishingly varied and useful life Mr Galbraith s vigor of expression as well as an account of a period of gloom and psychotherapy prevents the writing from ever sounding impersonal That serious business is also to set the record straight on what his books were about and how he evolved his theory of The Affluent Society and The New Industrial State as two of his most important works were named on why the bombing of Germany during World War II was less than useless why it was patently unnecessary to wage atomic warfare on Japan and why he came to be a dissenter on the war in Vietnam On inflation On the secular priesthood that once presided at the State Department And enchantingly on such movers and shakers he came to know well as the New Dealer Leon Henderson Paul Baran the most interesting economist I have ever known Bernard M Baruch Adlai E Stevenson John F Kennedy and Lyndon B Johnson Christopher Lehmann Haupt The New York Times As a raconteur and a literary stylist Galbraith stands with the best As entertainment the book is a total success Its charm comes from the combination of Mr Galbraith s smooth comic timing and his not always charitable wit James Fallows The New York Times Galbraith ranks with the most entertaining and provocative political writers in America in this century Without Galbraith the political literature of our time would be far drearier Gaddis Smith Foreign Affairs Galbraith has assembled a well nigh complete record of what he has been up to professionally at least since leaving his family s Ontario farm The account is fascinating The narrative consistently holds the distinctive Galbraith style that makes all his books read like a nippy breeze Geoffrey Colvin Christian Science Monitor Absorbing and irresistible The New Yorker An enjoyable book full of fun full of wisdom and full of rare insights into the history of our times The New Republic A delightfully teeming book Galbraith s comic voice is a distinctive and durable literary achievement Atlantic Monthly A highly perceptive commentary on all our yesterdays anecdotal amusing animated and above all illuminating John Barkham Reviews
