Summer Solstice Journeys Lloyd Godman, 2023-07-06 Please note This ebook has been specifically designed as an epublication and is optimized for viewing on Thorium Reader Thorium Reader is the free EPUB reader of choice for Windows 10 and 11 MacOS and Linux <https://www.edrlab.org/software/thorium-reader/> Summer Solstice Journeys chronicles photographer Lloyd Godman's eight photographic expeditions on the summer solstice from 1988 to 2008 Six of these captivating journeys take place in Otago New Zealand while the remaining two unfold in Victoria Australia Each expedition traces the trajectory of the sun or a shadow from the break of dawn to twilight Captured through the lens of a square format 120 film camera the frame is deliberately tilted at a 45 degree angle creating a distinctive diamond shaped image that captivates the viewer Just as the sun teeters on the precipice of the summer solstice poised to transition into shorter daylight hours and the arrival of winter the camera frame itself delicately balances on a visual fulcrum The resulting photographs showcase a mesmerizing interplay of intense natural chiaroscuro lighting presenting stunning black and white landscapes that transcend the ordinary clichés of sunrise and sunset photography Instead they evoke a sense of performance art with a camera reminiscent of Richard Long's exploratory walks Throughout these journeys the artist immerses himself in silent meditation forging a deep connection with the planet's natural rhythms and the profound influence of solar forces The ebb and flow of the tide the elongation and contraction of shadows in the early morning and at sunset all unfold as part of this evocative visual odyssey Initially Godman invites the reader to delve into the project's conception through a series of enigmatic preliminary landscape photographs capturing the beach near his residence at that time The first expedition in 1988 unfolds at Ocean View Beach looking out to Green Island near Dunedin New Zealand The triangular silhouette of the island occupies the upper section of the image mirroring the corner of the camera frame Waves gently caress the shore leaving behind glistening patches of wet sand that reflect the sun Journey Two in 1990 centers around the rock formations of the Rock and Pillar range where Godman tracks the sun's movement in relation to a striking rock formation occasionally concealed by ethereal fog Subsequent solstice journeys take us to Akatore Creek in 1996 Moturata in 1999 Bull Creek in 2002 Wilsons Promontory in 2005 and finally St Andrews in 2008

I Want to Get On](#) Graham Hutchins, 2014-08-01 Graham Hutchins fell in love with trains at an early age As a youngster growing up in the railway town of Te Kuiti he would gaze on the steaming monsters as they thundered through the King Country Before long train travel became more than a pastime more than a fascination he was hooked As he recounts in this book he was just ten years old when he undertook a journey alone on the night train to Auckland From then on he travelled as much as he could and later as a young man searched out the smaller forgotten lines to experience what they had to offer Stop the Train I want to get on describes his experiences travelling throughout New Zealand on regular passenger trains railcars goods trains and work trains The routes he traverses include the Central Otago line the Gisborne Railcar the Southerner to Invercargill a mixed train through rural Taranaki a workers train from Greymouth on the Rewanui Incline the Endeavour to Hawke s Bay the Silver Fern Railcar and more Many services have now been axed but he vividly recalls their delights from the scenery outside to the often primitive conditions inside and the people he encounters along the way He also tells many engaging tales about the history of the lines and what makes each so distinctive Sometimes alone on other occasions with his wife Jenny or his mate Russell he conveys the unique experience and sheer pleasure of rail travel in every corner of New Zealand from the 1950s to the present day Some people take to the bottle others go shopping I jump on a train if I can find one and wait for the swish and sway to take me away Away from the down times For me the diversion comes as much from the rhythm as the passing landscapes from the train window Graham Hutchins remembers the incredibly varied journeys he has taken by train throughout New Zealand They have given him a lifetime of pleasure Night trains and The Northerner The Midland Line Christchurch to the West Coast The Gisborne Railcar The Central Otago Line Alexandra to Dunedin The Picton Christchurch Railcar The Silver Star Auckland to Wellington Greymouth to Rewanui and back By mixed train on the Stratford to Okahukura Line Hamilton to Mount Maunganui The Silver Fern Railcar on the Main Trunk Line The Endeavour Wellington to Napier The Southerner Christchurch to Invercargill The Northern Explorer Journeys and Destinations Alex Norman, 2013-07-16 Journeys and Destinations Studies in Travel Identity and Meaning brings together scholarship from diverse fields all focused on either practices of journeying or destinations to which such journeys lead Common across the contributions herein are threads that indicate travel as a core component as a concept or a practice of the fabric of identity and meaning In-between Two Worlds Béatrice Bijon, Gérard Gacon, 2009 Fourteen essays provide a challenging outlook on narratives by women explorers and travellers from five different continents spanning nearly one century from 1850 to 1945 The map thus drawn enables one to revisit restore and reassess the content and the originality of these narratives by women The essays are relevant to the fields of travel writing and gender studies and all draw from referential contemporary theoretical and critical works Michel Foucault Homi Bhabha Edward Said Roland Barthes Michel de Certeau Gilles Deleuze Sara Mills Kristi Siegel and Jane Robinson The main interest and originality of the volume result from the perspectives adopted by the different authors The text oriented analyses rely on close reading thus definitely providing accurate and perceptive critical insights into the narratives Such perspective precludes erasing the differential features characterizing each geographical space and each travelling subject It also moves away from any temptation at creating a naturalized mythical image of these women
