Arrabal Ward, 2018-07-10 In Wartime Sexual Violence at the International Level A Legal Perspective Dr Caterina Arrabal Ward discusses the understanding of wartime sexual violence by the international tribunals and argues that wartime sexual violence often takes place without the explicit purpose to destroy a community or population and is not necessarily a strategic choice This research suggests that a more focused approach based on a much clearer definition of these crimes would help to remedy deficiencies at the different stages of international justice in relation to these crimes

Contesting the Politics of Genocidal Rape Debra B. Bergoffen, 2013-03-01 Rape traditionally a spoil of war became a weapon of war in the ethnic cleansing campaign in Bosnia The ICTY Kunarac court responded by transforming wartime rape from an ignored crime into a crime against humanity In its judgment the court argued that the rapists violated the Muslim women's right to sexual self determination Announcing this right to sexual integrity the court transformed women's vulnerability from an invitation to abuse into a mark of human dignity This close reading of the trial guided by the phenomenological themes of the lived body and ambiguity feminist critiques of the autonomous subject and the liberal sexual social contract critical legal theory assessments of human rights law and institutions and psychoanalytic analyses of the politics of desire argues that the court by validating women's epistemic authority their right to establish the meaning of their experience of rape and affirming the dignity of the vulnerable body thereby dethroning the autonomous body as the embodiment of dignity shows us that human rights instruments can be used to combat the epidemic of wartime rape if they are read as de-legitimizing the authority of the masculine autonomous subject and the gender codes it anchors

The Pluriverse of Human Rights: The Diversity of Struggles for Dignity Boaventura De Sousa Santos,Bruno Martins,2021-06-21 The impasse currently affecting human rights as a language used to express struggles for dignity is to a large extent a reflection of the epistemological and political exhaustion which blights the global North Since the global hegemony of human rights as a language for human dignity is nowadays incontrovertible the question of whether it can be used in a counter hegemonic sense remains open Inspired by struggles from all corners of the world that reveal the potential but above all the limitations of human rights this book offers a highly conditional response The prevailing notion of human rights today as the hegemonic language of human dignity can only be resignified on the basis of answers to simple questions why does so much unjust human suffering exist that is not considered a violation of human rights Do other languages of human dignity exist in the world Are these other languages compatible with the language of human rights Obviously we can only find satisfactory answers to these questions if we are able to envisage a radical transformation of what is nowadays known as human rights Herein lies the challenge posed by the Epistemologies of the South reconciling human rights with the different languages and forms of knowledge born out of struggles for human dignity

From the Enemy's Point of View Eduardo Viveiros de Castro,2020-05-02 The Arawet are one of the few Amazonian peoples who have maintained their cultural integrity in the face of the destructive forces of European imperialism In this landmark study anthropologist Eduardo Viveiros de Castro explains this phenomenon in terms of Arawet social cosmology and ritual order His analysis of the social and religious life of the Arawet a Tupi Guarani people of Eastern Amazonia focuses on their concepts of personhood death and divinity Building upon ethnographic description and interpretation Viveiros de Castro addresses the central aspect of the Arawete s concept of divinity consumption showing how its cannibalistic expression differs radically from traditional representations of other Amazonian societies He situates the Arawet in contemporary anthropology as a people whose vision of the world is complex tragic and dynamic and whose society commands our attention for its extraordinary openness to exteriority and transformation For the Arawet the person is always in transition an outlook expressed in the mythology of their gods whose cannibalistic ways they imitate From the Enemy s Point of View argues that current concepts of society as a discrete bounded entity which maintains a difference between interior and exterior are wholly inappropriate in this and in many other Amazonian societies
