

5 Strategies for Inclusive Classrooms

OFFER STUDENTS VOICE & CHOICE

- Provide students with a sense of autonomy in learning, this allows them to develop greater ownership over their work.
- Empower students by including them in decisions about what they learn (ex: choose topics within an Inquiry project that meets a number of learning outcomes).

USE COLLABORATIVE LEARNING

- Learning needs to be about social interaction AND academic instruction.
- Use different learning arrangements (think-pair share, small groups, group projects) for students to discuss, share and listen to one another.
- Collaborative learning requires clarity. Ensure you explicitly lay out the goals & purpose of the learning- and students role(s) within it.

PRESUME COMPETENCE (Warm Demanding)

- Presuming competence, in its simplest form, is believing that ALL students are capable, and asks educators to focus more on students strengths, interests and abilities, rather than deficits.
- Warm demanding asks educators to: build relationships deliberately, learn about students' cultures, communicating an expectation of success, provide learning supports, clear & consistent expectations.

DYNAMIC INSTRUCTION

- Dynamic instruction refers to the manner in which an educator delivers content. This delivery method starts with high expectations for students & asks students to: think critically, reflect, discuss, make conceptual connections, & problem solve through exploration, discussion & hypothesizing.
- The learning environment should respect: diverse ways of knowing, thinking, considering & interpreting material.

CREATE MEANINGFUL PARTNERSHIPS WITH FAMILIES

- Connecting with families provides valuable insights into: culture, values, & communication pathways used at home.
- Possible Communication ideas:*
- Introductory video sent home at the beginning of the year (flipgrid, TikTok) and asking parents/caregivers to send a video back. Repeat this process throughout the year on different topics.
  - Send home an "intake form" (ex: needs, triggers, sensitivities etc)
  - Establish dedicated, confidential classroom-home communication channels.

difficulties across a range of settings      Professional Development and Knowledge of Mathematics Teachers Stefan Zehetmeier, Despina Potari, Miguel Ribeiro, 2020-12-21 Mathematics teaching and professional development of mathematics teachers are areas where research has increased substantially in recent years In this dynamic field mathematics teaching practices pedagogical knowledge of mathematics teachers and professional development via collaboration between mathematics teachers have emerged as vital domains of inquiry Professional Development and Knowledge of Mathematics Teachers addresses the underlying characteristics of mathematics teacher education and those professional development contexts that have a positive impact on teachers professional learning Recognizing the impact of broader institutional settings on mathematics teaching and teacher professional development the editors suggest bridging the gaps between theoretical practices and methodological approaches in the field by focusing on and conceptualizing the following relational factors The study of mathematics teaching and classroom situations Researching teacher and teacher educator knowledge since these issues inform the quality of mathematics teaching directly Mathematics teacher education and professional development focusing on design principles and the impact they have on teacher professional learning Combining central issues of mathematics teaching knowledge and professional development the chapters in this volume address each of the above factors and provide profound considerations on both theoretical and practical levels This book will be an essential resource for researchers teachers and students working in the fields of mathematics teaching and mathematics teacher professional development      Becoming a Teacher through Action Research Donna Kalmbach Phillips, Kevin Carr, 2010-05-26 Becoming a Teacher through Action Research skillfully interweaves the stories of pre service teaching with the process of action research This engaging text focuses specifically on the needs of pre service teachers      Resources in Education, 2000      Dialogue and Difference in a Teacher Education Program Marilyn Johnston-Parsons, 2012-05-01 This book is a longitudinal study of a 10 year experimental teacher education program Follow up studies and writing continued for 6 years after the program closed This case study describes a search for effective and socially just practices within a long term reform initiative intended to prepare teachers for urban schools The program was run through a Professional Development School a collaboration between a university program and a diverse group of practicing teachers and the book was written collaboratively by many of the participants faculty mentor teachers doctoral students and teacher candidates graduates There are few longitudinal studies of teacher education programs especially ones that focus on what was learned and told by those who did the learning The narratives here are rich diverse and multivocal They capture the complexity of a reform initiative conducted within a democratic context It s difficult messy and as varied as is democracy itself The program was framed by a sociocultural perspective and the focus was on learning through difference Dialogue across difference which is more than just talk was both the method for doing research and the means for learning The program described here began in the ferment of teacher education reform in the early 1990s responding to the critics of the mid 1980s and this account of it is finished at a time when teacher education is again under attack from a different direction Criticized earlier for being too progressive teacher education is now seen as too conservative The longitudinal results of this program show high retention rates and ground the argument that quality teacher preparation programs for teaching in urban schools may well be cost effective as well as provide increased student learning This is counter to the current move to shorten teacher preparation programs at a time of low teacher retention in our under resourced urban schools The book does not advocate a model for teacher education but it aims to provide principles for practice that include school university collaboration democratic dialogue across differences and inquiry as a way to guide reform

Leading for Powerful Learning Kevin Fahey, Carl Glickman, 2012-08-17 Supporting teacher learning is a complicated and challenging task This much awaited book offers a practical research based framework for thinking about instructional leadership along with the necessary resources and tools for improving practice The authors identify specific structures formats and strategies that an instructional leader can use to support new and veteran principals and teacher leaders They then discuss ways to think about which structures are most appropriate for particular settings offering suggestions on the most effective way to work with these structures This unique book combines theory with best practices to create a vision of how 21st century instructional leaders can improve education for all students

Uncovering the Cultural Dynamics in Mentoring Programs and Relationships Frances K. Kochan, Andrea M. Kent, André M. Green, 2014-12-01 Although cultural issues have a powerful influence on the failure and success of mentoring programs and relationships there is scant research on this area and little in the way of guidelines that practitioners can use to help assure mentoring success This book seeks to expand our knowledge and understanding of this topic and to foster the use of this information to enhance practice and research The book is unique in a number of ways and will be an important resource for all those engaged in mentoring endeavors and for those conducting research in this area First it presents research findings on the cultural impact of mentoring at the individual relational level at the organizational level and within the structures of the society Secondly the chapters describe mentoring from an international perspective including programs from Africa Australia Canada Finland India Ireland Korea Scotland Sweden and the United States Third the book is research based and yet can be easily applied to practice Chapters provide information on lessons learned and also include reflective questions to enable the reader to delve more deeply into the constructs and findings in order to apply them to their own practice and research This makes the book an ideal resource for training mentors and mentees for designing mentoring programs for teaching about mentoring and for establishing and maintaining mentoring relationships It also will be of value to those who are engaged in conducting research on how to create and maintain successful mentoring relationships and programs Endorsements All mentoring relationships are diverse Indeed it is the difference between mentor and mentee that creates the potential for co learning Mentoring that bridges cultural gaps opens the way to an exchange of understanding about both internal and external assumptions and perspectives how each of us thinks and how the world functions for each of us In this book the editors and contributors demonstrate the diversity of diversity with particular focus on education in different societies I recommend it as essential background reading for anyone designing mentoring programmes in which cultural diversity will be a significant dynamic Dr David Clutterbuck Special Ambassador European Mentoring and Coaching Council In this boundary spanning volume the authors pull back the curtain on the latest evolution of mentoring theory and practice revealing that all mentoring relationships are intrinsically cultural Not only that the researchers present creative empirically sound ideas for mentoring at different scales personal encounters networked communities and loose collectives This book is robustly inclusive of structural layers of mentoring differentiated by context whether higher education schools or collegial communities making meaning of cultural diversity as part of one s inner core of relational and systematic mentoring Practitioners of mentoring and researchers of mentoring alike should find this work important for understanding the breadth and depth of mentoring in different cultural contexts while allowing its essence to remain unfolding rather than simply told All mentoring professionals can gain insight and value from the diversity of theoretical orientations that capture as well as map the impact of global and cultural influences of mentoring in everyday worlds A must read for all who care about the quality of educational relationships and about making a difference in learning settings Dr Carol A Mullen Professor of Educational Leadership Virginia Tech University Council for Educational Administration UCEA Plenary Session Representative PSR

Improving Teacher Education Practice Through Self-study
 John Loughran, Tom Russell, 2004-11-23 Self study in teacher education is a growing field and a natural progression from the concept of reflective practice for pre service teachers This book is designed to introduce teacher educators to the theory and practice of self study in order to explore understand and improve their teaching about teaching With studies from an international range of contributors this book illustrates a variety of approaches to self study It describes the issues that teacher educators have chosen to study how they carried out their research and what the learning outcomes were Throughout the emphasis is on placing teacher educators knowledge and practice at the centre of their academic work This book will be of interest to all teacher educators wishing to improve their knowledge and practice

Developing Engaged Readers in School and Home Communities
 Linda Baker, Peter Afflerbach, David Reinking, 2012-12-06 This book comprises a synthesis of current directions in reading research theory and practice unified by what has been referred to as the engagement perspective of reading This perspective guides the research agenda of the National Reading Research Center NRRC a consortium of the University of Georgia University of Maryland and affiliated scholars A major goal of the book is to introduce reading researchers to the engagement perspective as defined by the NRRC and to illustrate its potential to integrate the cognitive social and motivational dimensions of reading and reading instruction Engaged readers are viewed as motivated strategic knowledgeable and socially interactive They read widely for a variety of purposes and capitalize on situations having potential to extend literacy The book is organized into four sections representing key components of the NRRC research agenda and the engagement perspective This perspective emphasizes contexts that influence engaged reading Accordingly the first section of the volume focuses on the social and cultural contexts of literacy development with chapters devoted to examining home influences home school connections and the special challenges facing ethnic minorities The engagement perspective also implies greater attention to the role of motivational and affective dimensions in reading development than traditional views of reading Therefore the second section examines motivational theory and its implications for reading engagement with special attention to characteristics of classroom contexts that promote motivation in reading The engagement perspective embraces innovative instructional contexts that address the cognitive social and motivational aspects of reading Thus the third section includes chapters on current directions in promoting children s learning from text on the value of an integrated curriculum in promoting reading engagement and on the challenges of assessing students development as engaged readers Finally the broader conception of reading implied by the engagement perspective requires an expanded array of research approaches sensitive to the complex and interacting contexts in which children develop literacy The concluding section focuses on these important contemporary issues in literacy research and educational research with chapters examining the variety of alternative modes of inquiry gaining prominence in literacy research teacher inquiry and ethical issues of collaboration between university and teacher researchers Intended for university based researchers graduate students and classroom teachers this volume brings together researchers who think about students and their literacy development in school and home communities in distinctly different ways The cooperative and collaborative inquiry presented contributes to a richer understanding of the many factors influencing engaged reading Home-School

Relations Yan Guo,2018-07-06 This book examines new directions in home school relations from an international perspective Unlike other current literature that concentrates on traditional models of family school partnerships in Western countries it focuses on the contributions of immigrant and minority parents especially those in Asia and South America This book brings together international scholars who explore home school relations in Australia Brazil Canada China Hong Kong South Korea Mongolia Sweden and the United States Engaging Youth in Critical Arts Pedagogies and Creative Research for Social Justice Kristen P.
