I Come In Peace:

I COME in PEACE Sylvia A. Craig, 2025-01-22 In this book you will see that our life doesn't belong to us. It belongs to God. He is the potter and we are the clay. When mistakes are made and we as believers stumble and fall, God wants us to get up and keep striving for greatness. We all learn through things that we suffer and come through our trials and tribulations. Making mistakes will build a path of righteousness for you and a pathway for others to see and know how God can truly work things out in their life. He can also put true love in your life along the way. So read and find out how God put Thomas T. Tucker's life back on his rightful path of purpose for he was called and chosen to lead people to God and do his will. Experience the adventures and glory of God when God sent an angel of peace to help a homeless guy, Thomas Tee Tucker, put on his rightful path. Restoration, deliverance, love, crooked places are made straight when Thomas stumbles on a little lady that's been missing for a few weeks.

From the Moon, I Come in Peace Paul Nelson, 2023-03-03 Marcus is a young autistic man living with his father. He faces many challenges as he begins his adult life in a world of non-acceptance, bigotry, friendship, love, loss, and great challenges in trying to fit into the workplace. His adventures are full of laughter, sadness, and a touch of romance. Marcus and his father share a rare bond. It is the bond known by many disabled people and their caregivers. This bond is also a key character in the story. It is a balance of great strength and fragility wrapped in love. Few people ever experience this type of bond. Come and experience it with Marcus in From the Moon, I Come in Peace. Trambu Donna Louise, 2004-11-06 What if your planet's first contact with Earth was a mistake and you were it? Trambu never meant to crash land on Earth. He was only supposed to observe from afar. But one wrong move in his tiny Pinderbay spacemobile and suddenly he's face first in a swirl of blue and green, helplessly spiraling toward an unknown world. Stranded, invisible, and very much alone, Trambu's first encounter with Earth is windy. Then he meets Katie, a curious Earthling who can't see his ship or his favorite color, jule. What begins as a clumsy introduction soon grows into a cross-planet friendship full of surprising discoveries. But when Trambu's home planet contacts him with a surprising offer: stay on Earth and become a Prodee, a teacher of his people, he must decide: go home or explore a new world filled with danger, pizza, invisible spaceships, and very strange Earth customs. Can one small alien learn enough about Earth to change the future of two planets?

The Roof Garden Commission: Huma Bhabha, We Come in Peace Shanay Jhaveri, Ed Halter, Sheena Wagstaff, 2018-04-17 Often described as post-apocalyptic, the work of sculptor Huma Bhabha responds to the violence and turmoil in the world around her through depictions of anthropomorphic figures or characters as Bhabha calls them that often appear to be dismembered, melted, or dissected. This book, accompanying a site-specific installation at the Metropolitan Museum, features an interview with the artist that provides new insights into her diverse influences from historic sculptures to science fiction movies and elaborates on how art, history, politics, and socioeconomic issues inform her work. In his incisive essay, curator Shanay Jhaveri explores Bhabha's working process and her oeuvre over the last twenty years. A second essay by film critic Ed Halter delves into the impact of cinema on Bhabha's sculpture This beautifully illustrated publication is the sixth edition in a series that documents and contextualizes The Met's annual rooftop commissions

The Genesis Mission B.R. Miller, 2022-05-04 In the late twentieth century we saw on television the first man to ever walk on the Moon my great great grandfather Neil Armstrong And then as the years went by there were movies and television shows that depicted space travel out in the universe Other solar systems were visited and other intelligent life forms were encountered most of them unfriendly It was very exciting and allowed our imagination to run free It was as if we were there and things were really happening It was an amazing thought But that allowed for a giant leap forward from walking on the Moon But what happened between walking on the Moon and visiting other solar systems There would have to be a first time a first mission out of our solar system The Genesis mission was that first time A lot was learned and tragedy narrowly escaped Future missions will rely on what we found out there and in some ways they will know what to expect
