Reimagining the Sacred Richard Kearney,Jens Zimmermann,2015-12-15 Contemporary conversations about religion and culture are framed by two reductive definitions of secularity In one multiple faiths and nonfaiths coexist free from a dominant belief in God In the other we deny the sacred altogether and exclude religion from rational thought and behavior But is there a third way for those who wish to rediscover the sacred in a skeptical society What kind of faith if any can be proclaimed after the ravages of the Holocaust and the many religion based terrors since Richard Kearney explores these questions with a host of philosophers known for their inclusive forward thinking work on the intersection of secularism politics and religion An interreligious dialogue that refuses to paper over religious difference these conversations locate the sacred within secular society and affirm a positive role for religion in human reflection and action Drawing on his own philosophical formulations literary analysis and personal interreligious experiences Kearney develops through these engagements a basic gesture of hospitality for approaching the question of God His work facilitates a fresh encounter with our best known voices in continental philosophy and their views on issues of importance to all spiritually minded individuals and skeptics how to reconcile God's goodness with human evil how to believe in both God and natural science how to talk about God without indulging in fundamentalist rhetoric and how to balance God's sovereignty with God's love

The Goal Is Life Michael Mavromatis,2016-02-24 If the gospel is intended to set us free help us discover life and become more than who we are right now then why is it that many men struggle with Christianity Why do so many good men find church so unattractive Why can't I as a man find my place in this life Forget about tips and techniques they are fine if you want to create a spreadsheet bake a cake or fix your engine What we need is to rediscover our design What was God thinking when He created you as a man What is His offer And once we find it how do we become the men God intended us to be from the very beginning The gospel is a message of restoration What we need most is to see our relationship restored with our true Father if we are ever to become the men God sees in us We must learn to hear His voice Christianity was never intended to be a religion However it was always meant to be a relationship originating from the heart
