I Can Write:

Forum ,2010 Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization Professor Helen C Scott,2013-04-28 Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization offers a fresh reading of contemporary literature by Caribbean women in the context of global and local economic forces providing a valuable corrective to much Caribbean feminist literary criticism Departing from the trend towards thematic diasporic studies Helen Scott considers each text in light of its national historical and cultural origins while also acknowledging regional and international patterns Though the work of Caribbean women writers is apparently less political than the male dominated literature of national liberation Scott argues that these women nonetheless express the sociopolitical realities of the postindependent Caribbean providing insight into the dynamics of imperialism that survive the demise of formal colonialism In addition she identifies the specific aesthetic qualities that reach beyond the confines of geography and history in the work of such writers as Oonya Kempadoo Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat Pauline Melville and Janice Shinebourne Throughout Scott s persuasive and accessible study sustains the dialectical principle that art is inseparable from social forces and yet always strains against the limits they impose Her book will be an indispensable resource for literature and women s studies scholars as well as for those interested in postcolonial cultural and globalization studies Learner-directed Assessment in ESL Glayol Ekbatani,Herbert DeLeon Pierson,2000 Examines the relationship between the language learner and language assessment process and promotes approaches to assessment that involve the learner in the testing process Gives particular attention to issues of reliability and validity Lippincott's Monthly Magazine ,1907 Words Is a Powerful Thing Brian Daldorph,2021 Brian Daldorph first entered the Douglas County Jail classroom in Lawrence Kansas to teach a writing class on Christmas Eve 2001 His last class at the jail for the foreseeable future was mid March 2020 right before the COVID 19 lockdown the virus is taking a heavy toll in confined communities like nursing homes and prisons Words Is a Powerful Thing is Daldorph s record of teaching at the jail for the two decades between 2001 and 2020 showing how the lives of everyone involved in the class but especially the inmates who came to class week after week benefited from what happened every Thursday afternoon in that jail classroom where for two hours inmates and instructor became a circle of ink and blood writing together reciting their poems telling stories and having a few good laughs Words Is a Powerful Thing brings into the light the works of fifty talented inmate writers whose work deserves attention Their poetry speaks of what really matters to all of us and gives the reader sustained insight into the role that creativity plays in aiding survival and bringing positive change for inmates and in turn for all of us Daldorph s account of his teaching experience not only takes the reader inside the daily life at a county jail but also sets the work done in the writing class within the larger context of inmate education is the US corrections system where education is often one of the few lifelines available to inmates Words Is a Powerful Thing provides a teaching guide for instructors working with incarcerated writers offering an extensive examination of both the challenges and benefits When Brian Daldorph decided the story of his classroom experiences and the great writing produced by the inmates deserved to be told to wider audiences he struggled with how to bring it all together Not long after an inmate wrote a poem titled Words Is a Powerful Thing offering Daldorph a title concept and purpose to show that the poetry of inmates speaks not just to other inmates but to all of us Southern Blakes Kate Blake Daus,1956
