I Like To Win:

Charlotte Walsh Likes To Win Jo Piazza, 2021-03-16 From bestselling author Jo Piazza comes one of People's Best Summer Books a comically accurate New York Post novel about what happens when a woman wants it all political power marriage and happiness Charlotte Walsh is running for Senate in the most important race in the country during a midterm election that will decide the balance of power in Congress Reeling from a presidential election that shocked and divided the country and inspired to make a difference she's left her high powered job in Silicon Valley and returned with her husband and three young daughters to her downtrodden Pennsylvania hometown to run for office in the Rust Belt state Once the campaign gets underway Charlotte is blindsided by just how dirty her opponent is willing to fight how harshly she is judged by the press and her peers and how exhausting it becomes to navigate a marriage with an increasingly ambivalent and often resentful husband When the opposition uncovers a secret that could threaten not just her campaign but everything Charlotte holds dear she must decide just how badly she wants to win and at what cost The essential political novel for the 2018 midterms Salon Charlotte Walsh Likes to Win is an insightful portrait of what it takes for a woman to run for national office in America today In a dramatic political moment like no other with more women running for office than ever before this searing suspenseful story of political ambition marriage class sexual politics and infidelity is timely engrossing and perfect for readers on both sides of the aisle

Built to Win Leslie Heywood, Shari L. Dworkin, Annotation The sculpted speed of Marion Jones The grit and agility of Mia Hamm The slam dunk style of Lisa Leslie The skill and finesse of these sports figures are widely admired no longer causing the puzzlement and discomfort directed toward earlier generations of athletic women Built to Win explores this relatively recent phenomenon the confident empowered female athletes found everywhere in American popular culture Leslie Heywood and Shari L Dworkin examine the role of female athletes through interviews with elementary and high school age girls and boys careful readings of ad campaigns by Nike Reebok and others discussions of movies like Fight Club and Girlfight and explorations of their own sports experiences They ask what if any dissonance is there between popular images and the actual experiences of these athletes Do these images really redefine femininity and contribute to a greater inclusion of all women in sport Are sexualized images of these women damaging their quest to betaken seriously Do they inspire young boys to respect and admire female athletes and will this ultimately make a difference in the ways gender and power are constructed and perceived Proposing a paradigm shift from second to third wave feminism Heywood and Dworkin argue that in the years since the passage of Title IX gender stereotypes have been destabilized in profound ways and they assert that female athletes and their imagery are doing important cultural work to that end Important refreshing and engrossing Built to Win examines sport in all its complexity
