Crossing Borderlands Andrea Lunsford, 2012-01-12 On the surface postcolonial studies and composition studies appear to have little in common However they share a strikingly similar goal to provide power to the words and actions of those who have been marginalized or oppressed Postcolonial studies accomplishes this goal by opening a space for the voices of others in traditional views of history and literature Composition studies strives to empower students by providing equal access to higher education and validation for their writing For two fields that have so much in common very little dialogue exists between them Crossing Borderlands attempts to establish such an exchange in the hopes of creating a productive borderland where they can work together to realize common goals

Uumajursiutik unaatuinnamut / Hunter with Harpoon / Chasseur au harpon Markoosie Patsauq,2021-01-20 Fifty years ago Markoosie Patsauq then a bush pilot in his late twenties living in the tiny isolated High Arctic community of Resolute spent his spare time quietly writing a story that effectively emerged as the first Indigenous novel released in Canada Published in English under the title Harpoon of the Hunter in 1970 by McGill Queen s University Press that version of the story was Patsauq s own adaptation In the years that followed the widely acclaimed English edition was translated into many different languages but what has remained obscured until the present day is the Inuktitut text originally produced by the author In collaboration with Patsauq Valerie Henitiuk and Marc Antoine Mahieu have foregrounded the original Inuktitut text to inform their translations into both English and French This critical edition complete with the story in both Inuktitut syllabics and Latin script utilizes the author s handwritten manuscript as well as interviews with Patsauq to produce a new rigorous examination of this literary and cultural milestone This work also includes the first comprehensive account of the critical response to his writing while underscoring the way the much altered English adaptation from 1970 shaped that response. A momentous achievement that situates a new classic in the twenty first century, Hunter with Harpoon brings readers back to the roots of Markoosie Patsauq's Inuit story to experience it as it was originally written. Stories in a New Skin Keavy Martin, 2012-12-15. In an age where southern power holders look north and see only vacant polar landscapes, isolated communities and exploitable resources, it is important to note that the Inuit homeland encompasses extensive philosophical, political and literary traditions. Stories in a New Skin is a seminal text that explores these Arctic literary traditions and in the process reveals a pathway into Inuit literary criticism. Author Keavy Martin considers writing, storytelling and performance from a range of genres and historical periods: the classic stories and songs of Inuit oral traditions, life writing, oral histories and contemporary fiction, poetry and film, and discusses the ways in which these texts constitute an autonomous literary tradition. She draws attention to the interconnection between language, form and context, and illustrates the capacity of Inuit writers, singers and storytellers to instruct diverse audiences in the appreciation of Inuit texts. Although Eurowestern academic contexts and literary terminology are a relatively foreign presence in Inuit territory, Martin builds on the inherent adaptability and resilience of Inuit genres in order to foster greater southern awareness of a tradition whose audience has remained primarily northern. Tusaayaksat - 2021-2 Tusaayaksat Magazine, From Canoe to Computer John Raymond Gunson, 2017-01-11. The life ways of Native and other northern Canadian inhabitants and the animals they live with, respect and use are featured in this book. The author describes the aboriginals, First Nations people and other northern peoples' historical and current involvement in the use, studies and management of wildlife. Recommendations for the accelerated involvement of Native peoples in wildlife management are presented. In addition, interesting observations of the ways of life of northern animals and their populations are described. Details of long term studies and management of problems with bears, wolves, beaver, elk and other species and their diseases and parasites are highlighted, as well as the resulting human politics. The continuation of recreational subsistence and commercial hunting are recommended, and the need for development of complex management techniques are presented. Changes to wildlife management education are suggested. Dossier - Musée National de L'homme, Service Canadien D'ethnologie, 1984. The Native American Renaissance Alan R. Velie, A. Robert Lee, 2013-11-11. The outpouring of Native American literature that followed the publication of N. Scott Momaday's Pulitzer Prize winning House Made of Dawn in 1968 continues unabated. Fiction and poetry, autobiography and discursive writing from such writers as James Welch, Gerald Vizenor and Leslie Marmon Silko constitute what critic Kenneth Lincoln in 1983 termed the Native American Renaissance. This collection of essays takes the measure of that efflorescence. The contributors scrutinize writers from Momaday to Sherman Alexie, analyzing works by Native women, First Nations Canadian writers, postmodernists and such theorists as Robert Warrior, Jace Weaver and Craig Womack. Weaver's own examination of the development of Native literary criticism since 1968 focuses on Native American literary nationalism.

Alan R Velie turns to the achievement of Momaday to examine the ways Native novelists have influenced one another Post renaissance and postmodern writers are discussed in company with newer writers such as Gordon Henry Jr and D L Birchfield Critical essays discuss the poetry of Simon Ortiz Kimberly Blaeser Diane Glancy Luci Tapahonso and Ray A Young Bear as well as the life writings of Janet Campbell Hale Carter Revard and Jim Barnes An essay on Native drama examines the work of Hanay Geiogamah the Native American Theater Ensemble and Spider Woman Theatre In the volume s concluding essay Kenneth Lincoln reflects on the history of the Native American Renaissance up to and beyond his seminal work and discusses Native literature s legacy and future The essays collected here underscore the vitality of Native American literature and the need for debate on theory and ideology
