Liberating Eschatology:

Liberating Eschatology Letty M. Russell, Margaret A. Farley, Serene Jones, 1999-01-01 This volume addresses a theme long essential to feminist and liberationist theology in what can we hope and what role should hope play in our actions and our lives It provides a constructive set of proposals and fills a crucial gap in theological resources as well known contributors address the theme from their different contexts and fields

The Greenie's Guide to the End of the World Theodore McCall, 2011 There is an old fundamentalist argument that the world will eventually be destroyed in the Apocalypse so there is no point in caring for it When one reads about the delicate balance of the first moments of the cosmos one can only marvel at the process which brought about the existence of the earth and the creatures that inhabit it One of Theo McCall's joys in life is cycling He lives in the city of Adelaide South Australia a perfect city for cycling When he first began this project once or twice a week he would cycle in the early morning The last part of the return trip would involve riding eastwards into the rising sun Whenever he felt the warmth of the sun on his face and was aware of its sheer power and energy he was convinced that the universe is an overwhelmingly beautiful place which God would never abandon or destroy It is with this complete faith in God's love for creation that he set out to write an account of how this creation with all its beauty and fragility as well as its flaws and scars might be transformed into God's new creation Given the ecological crisis that we face how can we meaningfully talk about the consummation of all things without removing the impetus for ecological action In other words is it possible to develop an ecological eschatology

Unborn Bodies Margaret D. Kamitsuka, 2023-10-17 The afterlife continues to influence Christian faith and is a concern during fragile moments of reproductive loss However a doctrine of resurrection that speaks to death in the womb has yet to be considered Ignoring fetal death began early in Christian history The church has struggled for settled meaning regarding issues of personhood in the womb and whether unbaptized infants are saved Believers today deserve to know the basis for a Christian hope of heaven They deserve a nontoxic eschatology that sustains an embodied sense of self which is fractured by the experience of reproductive loss They deserve to know whether assenting to the resurrection of the body including unborn bodies requires them to sacrifice their reproductive self determination The dominant Christian narrative of postmortem survival hinges on the concept of an immaterial soul that continues after death However the soul's apparently contented communing with God during its interim existence makes a final bodily resurrection superfluous A soul based approach to postmortem survival may save souls but it does not resurrect bodies If one can secure the plausibility of the resurrection of unborn bodies whose personhood is in doubt then one dispenses with ensouled personhood as a requirement of resurrection Christian materialist thought provides a metaphysical alternative to soul based resurrection A materialist approach to resurrection echoes the apostle Paul's powerful seed metaphor in 1 Corinthians 15 Medieval Christianity embraced metaphors of sprouting grain and budding plants Returning to these images carries promise for rethinking resurrection in ways not dependent on an immaterial soul Modern minds are more inclined to think of persons not as souls in bodies but as bodies that emerge into being evolutionarily and gestationally. Philosophical theories of emergence are capturing the attention of Christian thinkers. This book's budding emergence approach to the resurrection aims to speak concretely to the reality of death including the death of unborn beings. Hope and Community Veli-Matti Karkkainen, 2017-10-23. The culmination of Karkkainen's multivolume magnum opus. This fifth and final volume of Veli-Matti Karkkainen's ambitious five-volume systematic theology develops a constructive Christian eschatology and ecclesiology in dialogue with the Christian tradition with contemporary theology in all its global and contextual diversity and with other major living faiths: Judaism, Islam, Buddhism, and Hinduism. In Part One of the book Karkkainen discusses eschatology in the contexts of world faiths and natural sciences including physical, cosmological, and neuroscientific theories. In Part Two on ecclesiology, he adopts a deeply ecumenical approach. His proposal for greater Christian unity includes the various dimensions of the church's missional existence and a robust dialogical witness to other faith communities. Celebrating God's Cosmic Perichoresis Bryan Jeongguk Lee, 2011-08-05. In the face of today's unprecedented ecological crisis, Christianity is often seen not only as sharing in the guilt of causing this crisis but also as unwilling and incapable of providing any help in re-envisioning the required new way of life on earth. This view is justified when we consider how modern Christian theology has tended to denigrate the natural world and how the prevalent world deserting Christian eschatology forms a spirituality that is fundamentally insensitive and indifferent to nature. In light of this, a meaningful Christian contribution to today's world of enormous ecological suffering must lie in envisioning a fundamentally new ecological vision of humanity's relationship to nature as well as providing an ethical energy to transform our current path of self-destruction. In this book, Bryan J. Lee finds in Jürgen Moltmann's eschatological panentheism a viable pathway toward a Christian ecological re-envisioning of the relationship between God and humanity and between humanity and nature. Furthermore, Lee demonstrates in a persuasive way how Christian worship can and should be the epicenter of ecological transformation of the society, emphatically interpreting Christian worship as an ecological eschatological anticipation of God's cosmic perichoresis. The Dialogic Evangelical Theology of Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen Peter Goodwin Heltzel, Patrick Oden, Amos Yong, 2022-02-21. In this book, established scholars from different religions, regions, and disciplines continue the dialogue that Veli-Matti Karkkainen began in his A Constructive Christian Theology for the Pluralistic World series and respond to his work in light of their diverse expertise and context. Each of the three parts focuses on a key area of Karkkainen's engaging work: 1. highlighting how his method shaped each volume; 2. highlighting his commitment to global perspectives; and 3. highlighting his interreligious and interdisciplinary dialogue partners. Together, these essays seek to deepen and extend the impact of Karkkainen's work, taking it seriously as a substantive model for contemporary systematic theology in listening and engaging with this world. The Cambridge Companion to Christian Political Theology Craig Hovey, Elizabeth Phillips, 2015-11-20. This volume explores contemporary Christian political theology, discussing its traditional sources, its emergence as a discipline and its key issues The Didache Aaron Milavec,2003 In this study Aaron Milavec comprehensively examines how the first century pastoral manual known as the Didache enumerated the step by step training of converts for the full active participation in the earliest Jewish Christian communities Milavec shows how the Didache can in turn illuminate our understanding of how these first Christian men and women organized their community life socially religiously and politically in order to safeguard its members from the challenges of the surrounding Roman pagan society of the first century Mediterranean basin He argues not only that the Didache s textual and contextual clues demonstrate the document s organic unity from beginning to end but also that it dates from a period before the gospels were written and had gained acceptance BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Full of Hope Magdala Thompson,2003 Six well known feminist theologians express their hope for a future of equality for men and women in many fields religion education family society and the realm of the heart Ex Auditu - Volume 20 Klyne Snodgrass,2005-02-12 Ex Auditu began as the journal incorporating the papers of the Fredrick Neumann Symposium of Princeton Theological Seminary After the first four volumes the journal began publishing the papers from the North Park Symposium on the Theological Interpretation of Scripture The intent from the first has been to provide a forum for doing interdisciplinary theology from a biblical perspective for the benefit of the Church Each annual publication focuses on a topic crucial to the life of today s Church Additionally each issue contains an annotated bibliography and a sermon which makes it a practical guide for pastors EDITOR Dr Stephen Chester Associate Professor of New Testament North Park Theological Seminary EDITOR EMERITUS Dr Klyne R Snodgrass Paul W Brandel Professor of New Testament Studies at North Park Theological Seminary ASSOCIATE EDITOR Dr D Christopher Spinks Acquisitions Editor at Wipf and Stock Publishers EDITORIAL BOARD Terence E Fretheim Luther Seminary St Paul MN Richard B Hays Duke Divinity School Durham NC Jon R Stock Wipf and Stock Publishers Eugene OR Miroslav Volf Yale Divinity School New Haven CT John Wipf Wipf and Stock Publishers Eugene OR SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION Individuals U S A and all other countries in U S funds 20 00 Students 12 00 Institutions 30 in the U S and 40 for international shipments in U S funds To subscribe Send pertinent information to Wipf and Stock Publishers at orders wipfandstock com and indicate your preferred method of payment Back issues are available through Wipf and Stock Publishers Symposium on the Theological Interpretation of Scripture at North Park DETAILS For more information about the symposium click here INQUIRIES Other inquiries should be addressed to one of the following Dr Dennis Edwards Associate Professor of New Testament North Park Theological Seminary 3225 W Foster Ave Chicago IL 60625 Telephone 773 244 6238 Email sdredwards northpark edu Chris Spinks Acquisitions Editor Wipf and Stock Publishers 199 W 8th Ave Ste 3 Eugene OR 97401 Telephone 541 344 1528 Fax 541 344 1506 Email chris wipfandstock com Aging, Spirituality, and Religion Melvin Kimble,Susan H. Richter,2012-07-18 Matthew s Gospel contains material unique to it among the canonical Gospels What is the background for this material Why does the writer of Matthew s Gospel tell the story of Jesus in the way he does including women in his genealogy telling the story of the birth of Jesus in his particular way and including the visit of the magi led by a star Enoch and the Gospel of Matthew shows that the writer of Matthew was familiar with themes and traditions about the antediluvian patriarch Enoch including the story of the fall of the angels called watchers who transgress their heavenly boundaries to engage in illicit relations with women and teach them forbidden arts The Gospel writer shows that Jesus brings about the eschatological repair of the consequences of the watchers fall as told in the Enochic legend This study focuses on Matthew s genealogy and infancy narrative and also has implications for the study of women in Matthew since it is often through the stories of women in Matthew that the repair of the watchers transgression takes place The Cambridge Companion to Feminist Theology Susan Frank Parsons,2002-07-04 Feminist theology is a significant movement within contemporary theology The aim of this Companion is to give an outline of feminist theology through an analysis of its overall shape and its major themes so that both its place in and its contributions to the present changing theological landscape may be discerned The two sections of the volume are designed to provide a comprehensive and critical introduction to feminist theology which is authoritative and up to date Written by some of the main figures in feminist theology as well as by younger scholars who are considering their inheritance it offers fresh insights into the nature of feminist theological work The book as a whole is intended to present a challenge for future scholarship since it critically engages with the assumptions of feminist theology and seeks to open ways for women after feminism to enter into the vocation of theology Rage in the Belly Luzia Sutter Rehmann,2021-02-03 How is rage related to hunger Hunger is a liminal experience connected to powerlessness shame and violence Hunger does not issue into speech It cannot therefore be easily found in the biblical texts written by and about people who knew hunger It hides behind the words in these texts Rage conversely finds expression and in the texts it can alert readers to hidden experiences of hunger But rage is not just a response to the lack of food It is also a transformative force reaching towards a justice that is not yet real The experience of hunger and the fear of famine often go hand in hand with anger a rage that can bring whole populations to their feet Luzia Sutter Rehmann develops a biblical hermeneutic that centers on the fire in the belly of the hungry their rage that leads to protests and uprisings Her reading shows the poor or the many as those with whom Jesus cooperates and as subjects acting on their own initiative The book also highlights key socio historical information on the food situation of ancient Rome and Palestine on poverty political dependence and unrest droughts and famines Changing the Questions Margaret Farley, 2015-03-01 Theology as Construction of Piety

David T. Ngong, 2013-12-10 This book argues that a primary purpose of theological discourses is to construct piety or spirituality If this is the case theologians need to constantly inquire into the kind of piety or spirituality which their work may construct Drawing from some important moments in the development of Christian theology such as the development of the Christian doctrine of God in the early church the role of material things in the Christianity of medieval Europe some elements of contemporary postliberal theology and the theology of inculturation in Africa the book argues that theological discourses that appear to be orthodox and innocuous may actually construct forms of piety that may diminish human flourishing The book therefore calls for an ethics of theology intended to ensure that the theologies we construct help in developing a piety that is conducive to human flourishing in the modern world especially for Africans who have suffered and continue to suffer unspeakable dehumanization The book proposes that a theology that may contribute to the flourishing of Africans in the modern world is one that constructs an interdisciplinary spirituality that takes both the spiritual and the scientific seriously

August 1945 the US dropped the second atomic bomb on Nagasaki Of the dead approximately 8500 were Catholic Christians representing over sixty percent of the community In this collective biography nine Catholic survivors share personal and compelling stories about the aftermath of the bomb and their lives since that day Examining the Catholic community's interpretation of the A bomb this book not only uses memory to provide a greater understanding of the destruction of the bombing but also links it to the past experiences of religious persecution drawing comparisons with the Secret Christian groups which survived in the Japanese countryside after the banning of Christianity Through in depth interviews it emerges that the memory of the atomic bomb is viewed through the lens of a community which had experienced suffering and marginalisation for more than 400 years Furthermore it argues that their dangerous memory confronts Euro American centric narratives of the atomic bombings whilst also challenging assumptions around a providential bomb Dangerous Memory in Nagasaki presents the voices of Catholics many of whom have not spoken of their losses within the framework of their faith before As such it will be invaluable to students and scholars of Japanese history religion and war history
