Libraries A To Begin On:

The Public Library Start-Up Guide Christine Lind Hage, 2004 Hage is the director of a public library in Michigan has worked in libraries for some 32 years and has experience in creating new libraries and library facilities She offers a practical manual for library practitioners civic organizations and community leaders seeking step by step guidance on starting libraries from the ground up Coverage includes building the project team securing financing selecting a director and the staff establishing personnel and service policies creating a long range plan participating in collaborative arrangements building furnishing and equipping the library developing the collection planning and developing services and promoting the library Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com New Hampshire Public Libraries, 1922 How to Start a Public Library ... James Ingersoll Wyer, 1900 Open Source Library Systems Robert Wilson, James Mitchell, 2021-09-11 Open source software and applications are all around us and it's no different in today's libraries Knowing about the open source alternative to integrated library system and being able to make accurate comparisons can save a library tens to hundreds of thousands of dollars a year while more closely matching the library's functional needs The fact is that the foundational software in place in nearly every industry is being built with open source components Where software applications are still proprietary or closed those systems are themselves often built upon open source applications like open source web services database management systems programming languages and operating systems It's the same story in the library world Library software providers offering the latest and greatest software solution for many thousands of dollars a year are building these solutions with open source software However full fledged open source applications built with the same underlying technologies are available to libraries at no cost for the software itself Each of these applications have their own unique and interesting history and communities supporting them For the reader unfamiliar with open source software or apprehensive about using these applications in their library this guide introduces the history of open source demonstrate the global upward trend of adopting open source technologies in general and within libraries in particular debunk various myths about implementing and using open source technologies discusses several different types of library information systems including Integrated Library Systems Institutional Repositories Digital Asset Management Systems Online Public Access Catalogs Resource Sharing Electronic Resource Management and lastly shares real world experiences in getting started with open source solutions including discussing what systems and services are available and best practices for implementation and use Wisconsin Library Bulletin, 1911 Independent School Libraries Dorcas Hand, 2010-06-11 The first book published about independent school libraries since 1985 this work offers both the independent school library community and the broader school library community a wealth of insights into excellence in library practice Independent School Libraries Perspectives on Excellence offers readers insights into best practices in library services for school communities using examples drawn from independent schools of various sizes descriptions and locations across the United States Two overview essays introduce a statistical analysis of independent schools Each of the remaining essays provides perspective on a different aspect of library practice including staffing advocacy assessment technology collaboration programs beyond the curriculum intellectual freedom and privacy budgeting accreditation disaster planning and more Because independent school librarians work across divisions and without a mandate to adhere to state or national standards they have the freedom to explore and refine best practice in a school library setting Fortunately the ideas and methods they have developed many of which are on display here can be applied in any school library
