Exiting war Romain Fathi, Margaret Hutchison, Andrekos Varnava, Michael Walsh, 2022-01-18 Exiting war explores a particular 1918-20 moment in the British Empire's history between the First World War's armistices of 1918 and the peace treaties of 1919 and 1920 That moment we argue was a challenging and transformative time for the Empire While British authorities successfully answered some of the post war tests they faced such as demobilisation repatriation and fighting the widespread effects of the Spanish flu the racial social political and economic hallmarks of their imperialism set the scene for a wide range of expressions of loyalties and disloyalties and anticolonial movements The book documents and conceptualises

this 1918 20 moment and its characteristics as a crucial three year period of transformation for and within the Empire examining these years for the significant shifts in the imperial relationship that occurred and as laying the foundation for later change in the imperial system

War is a man's game or so goes the saying Whether this is true or not patriarchal capitalism is certainly one of the driving forces behind war in the modern era So can we end war with feminism This book argues that this is possible and is in fact already happening Each chapter provides a solution to war using innovative examples of how feminist and queer theory and practice inform pacifist treaties movements and methods from the international to the domestic spheres The contributors propose a range of solutions that include arms abolition centring Indigenous knowledge economic restructuring and transforming how we count civilian deaths Ending war requires challenging complex structures but the solutions found in this edition have risen to this challenge By thinking beyond the violence of the capitalist patriarchy this book makes the powerful case that the possibility of life without war is real

Waging War Wayne E. Lee, 2016

Waging War Conflict Culture and Innovation in World History provides a wide ranging examination of war in human history from the beginning of the species until the current rise of the so called Islamic State Although it covers many societies throughout time the book does not attempt to tell all stories from all places nor does it try to narrate important conflicts Instead author Wayne E Lee describes the emergence of military innovations and systems examining how they were created and then how they moved or affected other societies These innovations are central to most historical narratives including the development of social complexity the rise of the state the role of the steppe horseman the spread of gunpowder the rise of the west the bureaucratization of military institutions the industrial revolution and the rise of firepower strategic bombing and nuclear weapons and the creation of people's war

Ethics Beyond War's End Eric Patterson, 2012-03-02

The wars in Afghanistan and Iraq have focused new attention on a perennial problem how to end wars well What ethical considerations should guide war's settlement and its aftermath In cases of protracted conflicts recurring war failed or failing states or genocide and war crimes is there a framework for establishing an enduring peace that is pragmatic and moral Ethics Beyond War's End provides answers to these questions from the just war tradition Just war thinking engages the difficult decisions of going to war and how war is fought But from this point forward just war theory must also take into account what happens after war ends and the critical issues that follow establishing an enduring order employing political forms of justice and cultivating collective forms of conciliation Top thinkers in the field including Michael Walzer Jean Bethke Elshtain James Turner Johnson and Brian Orend offer powerful contributions to our understanding of the vital issues associated with late and post conflict in tough real world scenarios that range from the US Civil War to contemporary quagmires in Afghanistan the Middle East and the Congo

War and Punishment H. E.

Goemans,2000-08-20 What makes wars drag on and why do they end when they do Here H E Goemans brings theoretical rigor and empirical depth to a long standing question of securities studies He explores how various government leaders assess the cost of war in terms of domestic politics and their own postwar fates Goemans first develops the argument that two sides will wage war until both gain sufficient knowledge of the other s strengths and weaknesses so as to agree on the probable outcome of continued war Yet the incentives that motivate leaders to then terminate war Goemans maintains can vary greatly depending on the type of government they represent The author looks at democracies dictatorships and mixed regimes and compares the willingness among leaders to back out of wars or risk the costs of continued warfare Democracies according to Goemans will prefer to withdraw quickly from a war they are not winning in order to appease the populace Autocracies will do likewise so as not to be overthrown by their internal enemies Mixed regimes which are made up of several competing groups and which exclude a substantial proportion of the people from access to power will likely see little risk in continuing a losing war in the hope of turning the tide Goemans explores the conditions and the reasoning behind this gamble for resurrection as well as other strategies using rational choice theory statistical analysis and detailed case studies of Germany Britain France and Russia during World War I In so doing he offers a new perspective of the Great War that integrates domestic politics international politics and battlefield developments

an Angry God Puritan revivalist Jonathan Edwards shaped predominating American theology with a vision of God as angry violent and retributive Three centuries later Brian Zahnd was both mesmerized and terrified by Edwards's wrathful God Haunted by fear that crippled his relationship with God Zahnd spent years praying for a divine experience of hell What Zahnd experienced instead was the Father's love revealed perfectly through Jesus Christ for all prodigal sons and daughters In Sinners in the Hands of a Loving God Zahnd asks important questions like Is seeing God primarily as wrathful towards sinners true or biblical Is fearing God a normal expected behavior And where might the natural implications of this theological framework lead us Thoughtfully wrestling with subjects like Old Testament genocide the crucifixion of Jesus eternal punishment in hell and the final judgment in Revelation Zahnd maintains that the summit of divine revelation for sinners is not God is wrath but God is love American Presidents - A Curious Look at a Unique Cohort V.S.
