ultimate failure of the Gallipoli campaign are legendary even among the holocaust of the First World War The man ultimately held responsible for the failure was General Ian Hamilton the officer in charge of the operation criticism has been heaped on him since the last Allied soldier left the Turkish peninsula in 1915 His diaries however paint a different picture that of a General struggling with a task that was night on impossible to begin with Thrust in to a mad cap operation he was given the scantest of details But my knowledge of the Dardanelles was nil of the Turk nil of the strength of our own forces next to nil Although I have met K almost every day during the past six months and although he has twice hinted I might be sent to Salonika never once to the best of my recollection had he mentioned the word Dardanelles Short of men supplies and most all ammunition his failure was not from a lack of effort Fighting uphill against an entrenched enemy the ground that he and his men fought over was some of the toughest on Earth to attack Always too close to the fighting line he was out of his depth with the strategic thinking necessary in an army commander There is much in his diaries that is of interest the serious student of the Gallipoli campaign and the casual reader of the story of the First World War     The Selected Works of Robert Owen Vol I Gregory Claeys,2021-02-25 Robert Owen 1771 1858 was the founder of British socialism and one of the most influential reformers in Britain and America in the first half of the 19th century This book contains all Owen s key writings on the ideal community socialism religion and the capitalist economic system     A Bibliography of Bertrand Russell: Separate publications, 1896-1990 Kenneth Blackwell,Harry Ruja,1994 Provides for the first time a full descriptive bibliography of Russell s writings Textually orientated it will guide the scholar collector and the general reader to the authoritative editions of Russell s works     Reports of Cases Decided by the English Courts Nathaniel Cleveland Moak,1875
