The Sound of Silence Sumedho,2007-08-10 The sound of silence is like a subtlety behind everything that you awaken to you don t notice it if you re seeking the extremes Yet as we start to become more poised more present fully receptive of all this moment has to offer we start to experience it vividly and listening to it can draw us ever deeper into the mysteries of now Always skillful and good humored Ajahn Sumedho s teachings defy boundaries Anyone from laypeople looking to deepen their grasp of the Buddha s message to lifetime Buddhist monastics will appreciate the author s sparkling insights into to such key Buddhist themes as awareness consciousness identity relief from suffering and mindfulness of the body The Sound of Silence represents the best of Ajahn Sumedho s masterful work to help us all see each life with a new and sustaining clarity The Beast in the Mosquito ,2016-10-11 The correspondence between Sir Ronald Ross 1857 1932 and Sir Patrick Manson 1844 1922 is rich in both scientific and human terms It records in great detail Ross s research in India between 1895 and 1899 which elucidated the role of mosquitoes in the transmission of malaria work for which Ross was awarded the 1902 Nobel Prize for Medicine or Physiology Ross described the mosquito transmission theory as Manson s Grand Induction and he had returned to India where he was an officer in the Indian Medical Service having been primed by Manson Ross s regular letters to his mentor document the frustrations and false trails as well as the excitement of discovery Manson in turn acted as a kind of agent in London publicising his findings offering advice and seeking to use his influence to secure for Ross the working conditions he so desired These 173 letters plus 85 from the two decades after Ross s return to Britain also record the rise and fall of a relationship as Ross s preoccupation with his place in the history of malariology led to a breach between the two men Themes of priority nationalism and personal vanity punctuate this latter correspondence which also reveals new insights about the golden years of tropical medicine Ross included some of the correspondence in his Memoirs but most of it appears here fully annotated for the first time Mosquitoes and Political Madness Fouad Suleiman,2017-02-14 The lecture Kameela the Superpictus female mosquito stood on an oak coffee table where most of the light coming from the neon side lamp was focused the light was strong and sharp it was a kind of light Kameela fancied Mumbo a Bifurcatus Male Mosquito stood beside her looking at the black and white spots on the front edge of her wings then back at her eyes which were open wide Kameela then looked up at Mumbo who was more than five times her size You know I really don t understand why most humans consider us to be evil Said Kameela If only they knew how sophisticated we are they would probably change their minds Answered Mumbo The electro magnetic waves coming from Flinty a Sergenti female mosquito who s about the size of Kameela reached the antennas of Kameela and Mumbo Look at me guys look over here She shouted Kameela and Mumbo looked at her from a distance to see her standing on the shoulder of a man sucking out his blood and by the look on her face that was gradually turning red one could tell that she was enjoying every millisecond of it and that she saw no aggression in the act she was engaged in The man was lying on his single bed reading a romance novel totally unaware of Flinty s presence

He had no shirt on for it was one of the hottest days of October 1996 Kameela and Mumbo signaled to Flinty to come and join them Flinty took her time for she knew that the man was totally engaged in reading and had no idea what was going on and besides Flinty perfected the act of sucking blood to a point where she did it with full confidence and she was skilled to a degree that she could sense if a man noticed her or not by his perspiration rhythm which she could feel by her antennas When she finished her act she flew proudly and joined the couple who were standing there in the light Kameela shook Flinty's hand and said I'd like you to meet Mumbo my friend Nice to meet you Mumbo said Flinty and shook his hand in caution for he was a huge mosquito Where are you from continued Flinty I'm from down town Haifa the slums of down town replied Mumbo You're a local too like Kameela how nice I'm a Bifurcatus so watch out He said Oh I had a very close Bifurcatus friend back in Jerusalem when I was younger Said Flinty and because most mosquitoes were racist against Bifurcatus mosquitoes mostly because they are extremely clumsy Mumbo figured that by mentioning that she had a close Bifurcatus friend in a way she was hinting that she's not a racist character Mumbo was very sensitive to that issue Mumbo smiling So what do you do I am a student of economics Mumbo stepped away and said Oh you're into business What do you do then big guy said Flinty I stand and talk said Mumbo He's a stand up comedian followed Kameela Flinty smiled Reflecting Shekinah Barbara R Wieler, 2025-07-26 In Reflecting Shekinah Feminine Images of the Divine and Women's Sense of Self Barbara Wieler reflects on the nature and significance of the relationship between feminine images of the Divine and the sense of self for women from the Mennonite tradition Barbara Wieler approaches this question by interviewing six women with varied backgrounds and connections to the Mennonite church Their discussions cover a number of topics all revolving around the impact of imaging and experiencing the Divine as female as opposed to exclusively male on their relationships with themselves and others Parenting intimacy and faith are just some of the areas explored and the author derives implications not only for the women but also the church counsellors and feminist theory overall Through her methodology Ms Wieler presents her research in a personal and accessible way and her strength as a communicator makes this book a valuable read for academics and laypeople alike Outing, an Illustrated Monthly Magazine of Recreation (subtitle Varies), 1922
