Boundaries of Touch Jean Halley, 2007-06-25 A history of the shifting and conflicting ideas about when where and how we should touch our children Discussing issues of parent child contact ranging from breastfeeding to sexual abuse Jean O Malley Halley traces the evolution of mainstream ideas about touching between adults and children over the course of the twentieth century in the United States Debates over when a child should be weaned and whether to allow a child to sleep in the parent s bed reveal deep differences in conceptions of appropriate adult child contact Boundaries of Touch shows how arguments about adult child touch have been politicized simplified and bifurcated into naturalist and behaviorist viewpoints thereby sharpening certain binary constructions such as mind body and male female Halley discusses the gendering of ideas about touch that were advanced by influential social scientists and parenting experts including Benjamin Spock Alfred C Kinsey and Luther Emmett Holt She also explores how touch ideology fared within and against the post World War II feminist movements especially with respect to issues of breastfeeding and sleeping with a child versus using a crib In addition to contemporary periodicals and self help books on child rearing Halley uses information gathered from interviews she conducted with mothers ranging in age from twenty eight to seventy three Throughout she reveals how the parent child relationship far from being a private or benign subject continues as a highly contested politicized affair of keen public interest

The Myth of Repressed Memory Elizabeth Loftus, Katherine Ketcham, 2013-06-25 According to many clinical psychologists when the mind is forced to endure a horrifying experience it has the ability to bury the entire memory of it so deeply within the unconscious that it can only be recalled in the form of a flashback triggered by a sight a smell or a sound Indeed therapists and lawyers have created an industry based on treating and litigating the cases of people who suddenly claim to have recovered memories of everything from child abuse to murder This book reveals that despite decades of research there is absolutely no controlled scientific support for the idea that memories of trauma are routinely banished into the unconscious and then reliably recovered years later Since it is not actually a legitimate psychological phenomenon the idea of recovered memory and the movement that has developed alongside it is thus closer to a dangerous fad or trendy witch hunt back into the mind the obscene back into the sacred and vice versa Ecofeminism and Environmental Justice argue for the significance and reality of the Earth Mother Caputi engages specifically with the powers of that Mother ones made taboo and even obscene throughout heteropatriarchal traditions Jane Caputi rejects misogynist and colonialist stereotypes and examines the potency of the Earth Mother in order to deepen awareness of how our relationship to the Earth went astray and what might be done to address this Drawing upon Indigenous and African American ecofeminism ecowomanism green activism femme queer and gender non binary philosophies literature and arts Afrofuturism and popular culture images Call Your Mutha contends that the Anthropocene is not evidence so much of Man s supremacy but instead a sign that Mother Nature Earth faced with disrespect is turning away withdrawing the support systems necessary for life and continuance Caputi looks at contemporary narratives and artwork to consider the ways in which respect for the autonomous and potent Earth Mother and a call for their return has already reasserted itself into our political and popular culture

The Abuse of Power James Newton Poling,1991 Pastoral care instruction and observation from a therapist of survivors of sexual abuse The Abuse of Power is must reading for clergy and denominational officials Weaving case stories with theory Poling demonstrates that sexual abuse of children is not a private matter but very much a matter for society and church a question of structure and ideology not just of individual character He is not afraid to tackle the tough question Does the image of God sacrificing Jesus on the cross contribute to abusive parent child relationships If pastors and church officials read this book the church will change Karen Lebacqz Pacific School of Religion For the exploitation of women and children to stop men must be willing to break ranks with all forms of privilege that sanction male dominance James Poling does so by deconstructing his own sense of male entitlement by refusing to distance himself from perpetrators by allowing survivors of sexual and domestic violence to speak with their own voices by giving us profound words of hope and by articulating a powerfully healing theology wrought through the depths of his own struggle with one of the worst evils in our society His courageous and compassionate work reveals the love and hope that is born of solidarity across the boundaries of gender sexual orientation race and economics The psychological political spiritual and theological power of this book is such that all educators ministers therapists and Christians must read it Rita Nakashima Brock Hamline University Chapter titles are 1 Hearing the Silenced Voices 2 Power and Abuse of Power 3 Karen Survivor of Sexual Violence 4 Stories of Recovering Perpetrators 5 The Schreber Case Methods of Analysis 6 The Search for Self 7 The Search for Community 8 The Search for God 9 Ministry Practice and Practical Theology Incarnating Grace Julia Feder, 2023-11-07 Prioritizes survivors of abuse by reexamining Christian ideals about suffering and salvation More than half of women and almost one in three of men in the United States have experienced sexual violence at some time in their lives Yet our Christian tradition has failed survivors of sexual violence who have been taught to believe that traumatic suffering brings us closer to God Incarnating Grace attempts to save our broken ways of talking about God's grace by unearthing liberating resources buried in the Christian tradition Christian ideas about salvation have historically contributed to sexual violence in our communities by reinforcing the idea that suffering is salvific But a God worth worshipping does not want human beings to suffer Drawing on the sixteenth century Spanish mystic Teresa of Avila as well as contemporary political and feminist theologians philosophers and legal scholars author and Associate Professor of theology Julia Feder offers an account of Christian salvation as mystical political Feder begins by describing the breadth of traumatic wounding and the shape of traumatic recovery as articulated by psychologists Since the fullness of post traumatic healing requires reserves deeper than those which can be articulated by the secular field of psychology alone the book then introduces the Spanish Carmelite Saint Teresa of Avila and her theological insights which are most helpful for constructing a post traumatic theology of healing Arguing that God stands against violence and suffering the book also examines the notion of senseless suffering a technical term that comes from Edward Schillebeeckx a Catholic twentieth century Flemish priest and theologian The suffering of sexual violence serves no higher purpose or greater human value and pushes against all ways of making sense of the world as good and orderly In the following chapters Feder turns to two Christian virtues that animate post traumatic recovery courage and hope and explores how Christian hope can provide a language to empower courageous activity undertaken toward healing Incarnating Grace opens a new dialogue about salvation and violence that does not allow evil to have the last word
