Liberation Technology Larry Diamond, Marc F. Plattner, 2012-07-30 The revolutions sweeping the Middle East provide dramatic evidence of the role that technology plays in mobilizing citizen protest and upending seemingly invulnerable authoritarian regimes A grainy cell phone video of a Tunisian street vendor's self immolation helped spark the massive protests that toppled longtime ruler Zine El Abidine Ben Ali and Egypt's Facebook revolution forced the ruling regime out of power and into exile While such liberation technology has been instrumental in freeing Egypt and Tunisia other cases such as China and Iran demonstrate that it can be deployed just as effectively by authoritarian regimes seeking to control the Internet stifle protest and target dissenters This two sided dynamic has set off an intense technological race between netizens demanding freedom and authoritarians determined to retain their grip on power Liberation Technology brings together cutting edge scholarship from scholars and practitioners at the forefront of this burgeoning field of study An introductory section defines the debate with a foundational piece on liberation technology and is then followed by essays discussing the popular dichotomy of liberation versus control with regard to the Internet and the sociopolitical dimensions of such controls Additional chapters delve into the cases of individual countries China Egypt Iran and Tunisia This book also includes in depth analysis of specific technologies such as Ushahidi a platform developed to document human rights abuses in the wake of Kenya's 2007 elections and alKasir a tool that has been used widely throughout the Middle East to circumvent cyber censorship Liberation Technology will prove an essential resource for all students seeking to understand the intersection of information and communications technology and the global struggle for democracy Contributors Walid Al Saqaf Daniel Calingaert Ronald Deibert Larry Diamond Elham Gheytanchi Philip N Howard Muzammil M Hussain Rebecca MacKinnon Patrick Meier Evgeny Morozov Xiao Qiang Rafal Rohozinski Mehdi Yahyanejad

Crime and the Internet David Wall,2003-09-02 Is the internet really powerful enough to allow a sixteen year old to become the biggest threat to world peace since Adolf Hitler Are we all now susceptible to cyber criminals who can steal from us without even having to leave the comfort of their own armchairs These are fears which have been articulated since the popular development of the internet yet criminologists have been slow to respond to them Consequently questions about what cybercrimes are what their impacts will be and how we respond to them remain largely unanswered Organised into three sections this book engages with the various criminological debates that are emerging over cybercrime The first section looks at the general problem of crime and the internet It then describes what is understood by the term cybercrime by identifying some of the challenges for criminology The second section explores the different types of cybercrime and their attendant problems The final section contemplates some of the challenges that cybercrimes give rise to for the criminal justice system
