Life After Doomsday A Survivalist Guide To Nuclear War And Other Disasters:

Life After Doomsday Bruce D. Clayton, 1981 Everything Must Go Dorian Lynskey, 2025-01-28 A rich captivating and darkly humorous look into the evolution of apocalyptic thought exploring how film and literature interact with developments in science politics and culture and what factors drive our perennial obsession with the end of the world As Dorian Lynskey writes People have been contemplating the end of the world for millennia In this immersive and compelling cultural history Lynskey reveals how religious prophecies of the apocalypse were secularized in the early 19th century by Lord Byron and Mary Shelley in a time of dramatic social upheaval and temporary climate change inciting a long tradition of visions of the end without gods With a discerning eye and acerbic wit Lynskey examines how various doomsday tropes and predictions in literature art music and film have arisen from contemporary anxieties whether they be comets pandemics world wars the Cuban Missile Crisis Y2K or the climate emergency Far from being grim Lynskey guides readers through a rich array of fascinating stories and surprising facts allowing us to keep company with celebrated works of art and the people who made them from H G Wells Jack London W B Yeats and J G Ballard to The Twilight Zone Dr Strangelove Mad Max and The Terminator Prescient and original Everything Must Go is a brilliant sweeping work of history that provides many astute insights for our times and speaks to our urgent concerns for the future The End of the World as We Know it Daniel Wojcik, 1999-05 Wojcik English folklore U of Oregon sheds new light on America s fascination with worldly destruction and transformation exploring the origins of contemporary apocalyptic beliefs and comparing religious and secular apocalyptic speculation He examines vision of the Virgin Mary the transformation of apocalyptic prophecy in the post Cold War era and apocalyptic ideas associated with UFOs and extraterrestrials Includes bandw illustrations and photos Educational and creepy for general readers Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists , 1983-06

A Global History of the Nuclear Arms Race Richard Dean Burns, Joseph M. Siracusa, 2013-04-23 Written by two preeminent authors in the field this book provides an accessible global narrative of the nuclear arms race since 1945 that focuses on the roles of key scientists military chiefs and political leaders The first book of its kind to provide a global perspective of the arms race this two volume work connects episodes worldwide involving nuclear weapons in a comprehensive narrative fashion Beginning with a discussion of the scientific research of the 1930s and 1940s and the Hiroshima decision the authors focus on five basic themes political dimensions technological developments military and diplomatic strategies and impact The history of the international nuclear arms race is examined within the context of four historical eras America s nuclear monopoly America s nuclear superiority superpower parity and the post Cold War era Information about the historical development of the independent deterrence of Britain France and China as well as the piecemeal deterrence of newcomers Israel India Pakistan and North Korea is also included as is coverage of the efforts aimed at the international control of nuclear weapons and the diplomatic architecture that underpins the global nuclear non proliferation regime The Knowledge Lewis Dartnell, 2014-04-17 How would you go about rebuilding a technological society from scratch If our technological society collapsed tomorrow what would be the one book you would want to press into the hands of the postapocalyptic survivors What crucial knowledge would they need to survive in the immediate aftermath and to rebuild civilization as quickly as possible Human knowledge is collective distributed across the population It has built on itself for centuries becoming vast and increasingly specialized Most of us are ignorant about the fundamental principles of the civilization that supports us happily utilizing the latest or even the most basic technology without having the slightest idea of why it works or how it came to be If you had to go back to absolute basics like some sort of postcataclysmic Robinson Crusoe would you know how to re create an internal combustion engine put together a microscope get metals out of rock or even how to produce food for yourself Lewis Dartnell proposes that the key to preserving civilization in an apocalyptic scenario is to provide a quickstart guide adapted to cataclysmic circumstances The Knowledge describes many of the modern technologies we employ but first it explains the fundamentals upon which they are built Every piece of technology rests on an enormous support network of other technologies all interlinked and mutually dependent You can't hope to build a radio for example without understanding how to acquire the raw materials it requires as well as generate the electricity needed to run it But Dartnell doesn't just provide specific information for starting over he also reveals the greatest invention of them all the phenomenal knowledge generating machine that is the scientific method itself The Knowledge is a brilliantly original guide to the fundamentals of science and how it built our modern world Film and the Nuclear Age Toni A. Perrine, 2019-01-22 Just as we generally pay scant attention to the potential dangers of nuclear power and nuclear war until quite recently scholars have made limited critical attempts to understand the cultural manifestations of the nuclear status quo Films that feature nuclear issues most often simplify and trivialize the subject They also convey a sense of the ambivalence and anxiety that pervades cultural responses to our nuclear capability The production of popular narrative films with nuclear topics largely conforms to periods of heightened nuclear awareness or fear such as the fear of fallout from nuclear testing manifested in the atomic creatures in science fiction movies of the late 1950s By their very numbers and through a set of recurring stylistic and narrative conventions nuclear films reflect a deep seated cultural anxiety This study includes detailed textual analysis of films that depict nuclear issues including the development and use of the first atomic bombs nuclear testing and the fear of fallout nuclear power the Cold War arms race loose nukes and future nuclear war and its aftermath Includes bibliographic references index filmography chronology Illustrated The Metanarrative of Suspicion in Late Twentieth-Century America Sandra Baringer, 2013-04-15 Narratives of suspicion and mistrust have escaped the boundaries of specific sites of discourse to constitute a metanarrative that pervades American culture Through close reading of texts ranging from novels Pynchon's Vineland Silko's Almanac of the Dead Pierce's The Turner Diaries to prison literature this book examines the ways in which narratives of suspicion are both constitutive and symptomatic of a metanarrative that pervades American culture Aberration in the Heartland of the Real Wendy S. Painting, 2016-04-19 Presenting startling new biographical details about Timothy McVeigh and exposing stark contradictions and errors contained in previous depictions of the All American Terrorist this book traces McVeigh's life from childhood to the Army throughout the plot to bomb the Alfred P Murrah Federal Building and the period after his 1995 arrest until his 2001 execution McVeigh's life as Dr Wendy Painting describes it offers a backdrop for her discussion of not only several intimate and previously unknown details about him but a number of episodes and circumstances in American History as well In Aberration in the Heartland Painting explores Cold War popular culture all American apocalyptic fervor organized racism contentious politics militarism warfare conspiracy theories bioethical controversies mind control the media's construction of villains and demons and institutional secrecy and cover ups All these stories are examined compared and tested in Aberration in the Heartland of the Real making this book a much closer examination into the personality and life of Timothy McVeigh than has been provided by any other biographical work about him American Apocalyptic Juli L. Gittinger, 2024-07-18 In this book Juli Gittinger argues that America's fascination obsession with the apocalypse is a synthesis of religion popular culture and politics in a way that is particular to the US and consonant with mythological historical narratives of America As a result we can identify American apocalypticism as a sort of religion in itself that is closely tied to civil religion that has a worldview and rituals that create identifiable communities and connects American mythology to apocalyptic anxieties Gittinger discusses how various cultures and groups form as a result of this obsession and that these communities form their own rituals and responses in various forms of prepping or survivalist practices She lays out an argument for a broad eschatology prevalent in the US that extends beyond traditional religious designations to form an apocalyptic worldview that is built into our narrative as a country as well as furthered by popular culture and media's contribution to apocalyptic anxieties Subsequently Gittinger uses case studies of apocalyptic events current or speculative that reveal how our anxieties about the end of the world as we know it inform our culture as well as religious narratives that emerge from such crises Toward Nuclear Disarmament And Global Security Burns H Weston, 2019-06-04 This text is designed to provide students and others with a theoretical and factual base for understanding the complex questions posed by continued reliance on nuclear weapons to protect geopolitical interests In Part One the authors examine the destructiveness and cost of modern nuclear arsenals and offer both normative and systemic explanations Existential Threats Lisa Vox, 2017-05-12 Americans have long been enthralled by visions of the apocalypse Will the world end through nuclear war environmental degradation and declining biodiversity Or perhaps through the second coming of Christ rapture of the faithful and arrival of the Antichrist a set of beliefs known as dispensationalist premillennialism These seemingly competing apocalyptic fantasies are not as dissimilar as we might think In fact Lisa Vox argues although these secular and religious visions of the end of the world developed independently they have converged to create the landscape of our current apocalyptic imagination In Existential Threats Vox assembles a wide range of media science fiction movies biblical tractates rapture fiction to develop a critical history of the apocalyptic imagination from the late 1800s to the present Apocalypticism was once solely a religious ideology Vox contends which has secularized in response to increasing technological and political threats to American safety Vox reads texts ranging from Christianity Today articles on ecology and the atomic bomb to Dr Strangelove and from Mary Shelley's The Last Man to the Left Behind series by Tim LaHaye and Jerry B Jenkins demonstrating along the way that conservative evangelicals have not been as resistant to science as popularly believed and that scientists and science writers have unwittingly reproduced evangelical eschatological themes and scenarios in their own works Existential Threats argues that American apocalypticism reflects and propagates our ongoing debates over the authority of science the place of religion uses of technology and America's evolving role in global politics
