Life Ball 1998:

Racial Dimensions of Life Writing in Education Lucy E. Bailey, KaaVonia Hinton, 2022-09-01 This collection presents life writing projects that explore or represent the racial dimensions of life writing research in diverse educational spaces using diverse methodologies and inquiry approaches We believe this collection is long overdue To quote Melva R Grant and Signe E Kastberg s succinct phrasing this volume racialized inquiry matters While some rich texts explore the racial aspects and anti racist potential of social science research Blee 2018 Lopez Sefa Dei Twine Warren 2000 and include examples from educational contexts there are no collections which focus on the intersections of life writing inquiry as educative projects that highlight racial dimensions of the work and lives under study Drawing from Toni Morrison s enduring wisdom a visionary writer whose work has explored the racial dimensions of culture and lived experience we centralize race in life writing in this collection rather than obscuring it or leaving it as a lurking absent presence in the craft Racial Dimensions of Life Writing Research offers a wealth of ideas and perspectives from which scholars teachers and students can draw to support their work The 14 chapters in this collection attend to national international and local concerns include varied theoretical and methodological approaches and reflect a range of ethnic and racial heritages Chapters consider practical theoretical ethical and educational issues involved in projects concerning under represented educational actors important for the terrain of life writing The authors include established and emerging scholars university researchers directors and professors academic advisors graduate and undergraduate students activists and former elementary and secondary school teachers It is our hope that this volume will spark conversation debate and reflection and will be a valuable resource that inspires scholarship about how race and its intersections shape the life writing inquiry process ENDORSEMENT This is an exceptionally important volume interrogating intersections of race racism and life writing Authors recenter life narrative as a necessary anchor for studying teaching about and learning through complex racial dynamics This book should be read by any of us serious about studying and advancing knowledge on race and writing Richard Milner Vanderbilt University

Shaping Wise Futures, 2021-10-25 We are poised at a crossroads between a past that is outgrown and a future we must choose This book examines the multiple ways that wisdom grounded in life experience science and theoretical knowledge can contribute to positive and sustainable local and global futures The authors in this book have brought their thinking to various aspects of this existential challenge using the lenses of Wisdom and Wise Practice in an effort to explore ideas by which society might make choices in planning and acting for a wiser future Wisdom practices have developed over millennia to assist people in approaching and managing life experiences and difficulties While such practices were originally considered the purview of academic and religious scholars at this important time in history it must become everyone s responsibility to wisely look ahead if we are to achieve a sustainable future for society The authors of this book comprise international future oriented leaders scholars practitioners community members and commentators with a commitment to social justice human service and development

The book explores the place of wisdom and wise living practices alongside other ways of knowing and acting for shaping positive futures for people and the world we inhabit The chapters examine major challenges across political physical and social life worlds aiming to promote a quantum shift in discourse and decision making to address current and future challenges The four parts of the book follow forward thinking ideas of wise professional practice Facing future challenges Exploring practice pathways Examining options and Future possibilities

Measuring Up Vickie Rutledge Shields, 2013-03-01 The mute gestures of advertising images are frozen for posterity by photographers and illustrators gestures that for better or worse perpetuate a certain aesthetic and eventually become emblematic of a period The images of today display the values of a society that has more interest in the body than the mind They are technoenhanced labyrinths of unattainable appearances that leave women and men feeling horrified estranged and restricted by unrealistic silent mandates Measuring Up looks at advertising as more than just a way to extract money from unsuspecting people but as a vehicle for conveying the larger views of a confining body obsessed culture By weaving theoretical and textual insights from feminist and cultural studies with the voices of real women and men Measuring Up offers a unique reception analysis of the effects of repetitious exposure to advertisements of perfect bodies in our everyday lives Shields examines a particular complex relationship between the idealized images of gender we see in advertising and our own thoughts feelings and behavior in relation to these images The study is unique in presenting audience reception in terms of ethnographic data not textual interpretations alone Measuring Up engages with and informs current theoretical debates within these sometimes complementary and sometimes contradictory literatures feminist media studies feminist film theory critical social theory cultural studies and critical ethnography This is an important work that explores the forms and channels of power used in one of the most insidious and overt means of mass influence in popular culture
