Life Disturbed My Pacific War Revisited:

A Life Disturbed Merrel D. Clubb, Jr., 2011-06-01 An exceptional storyteller with an analytical eye Merrel Clubb has gathered the letters he sent his parents from the Pacific Theater of World War II and his subsequent reflections on that war and on his life into a kind of then and now memoir The letters are a treasure trove of humor anxiety and hope revealing a young man thrust into a war that he does not understand Through this exceptional portal on the past we learn of the tragic absurdity of war of a soldier trained for naval warfare but sent into land battle with weapons he'd never before fired of command post latrines at which even commanding officers were sitting ducks of the ghoulish trophies and mementos that soldiers collected from the battlefields The letters describe a vivid cast of characters from Clubb's childhood friend who instilled a love of poetry in his comrades to the hillbilly singer and the prostitute with whom the young Clubb had varied amorous adventures But the most compelling figure in this narrative is of course Clubb himself an intellectual who carried Jane Austen and Joseph Conrad along with his tommy gun who used books as a fortification for his foxhole discovering upon waking one morning that Ouspensky stopped a bullet and who in a darkly humorous moment wrote home that Plato is pretty consoling because I can always think that somewhere there is a perfect hell of a navy of which this is but an imitation or representation Returning to these letters years later prompts Clubb to look again at the Second World War and at the atomic bomb that ended it In an analysis as useful to understanding our own historical moment as it is to reconsidering the past Clubb counters the conventional wisdom shared by veterans and civilians alike particularly regarding the concept of a just war For Clubb as for so many veterans the war does not end with the victory over Japan Despite the intervening years Clubb finds that the haunting episodes experienced over half a century ago echo still Even in the solitude of the forest in the hunting parties he meets in the animals he himself kills he hears again the sound of battle sees again the faces of the victims of war Part letters part memoir and part scholarly analysis this volume ranges over a vast colorful and weighted territory From the battles and respites in the Pacific Islands to the night clubs and call girls of mainland San Francisco and San Diego from the relative quiet of his aptly named hometown Stillwater to the similarly quiet Montana backcountry Clubb's narrative explores the psychological terrain of a life disturbed and forever changed by war America's Wars in Asia , Even though the cultural approach concerns itself with the local and the particular rather than with the abstract and universal it is inherently comparative Moreover it also relocates each war in the historical and cultural experiences of Asian countries themselves rather than seeing the war as merely a conflict between the United States and Asian nations Mothers' Darlings of the South Pacific Judith A. Bennett, Angela Wanhalla, 2016-03-31 Over the course of World War II two million American military personnel occupied bases throughout the South Pacific leaving behind a human legacy of at least 4 000 children born to indigenous mothers Based on interviews conducted with many of these American indigenous children and several of the surviving mothers Mothers' Darlings of the South Pacific explores the intimate relationships that existed between untold numbers of U S servicemen and indigenous women during the war and considers the fate of their mixed race children These relationships developed in the major U S bases of the South Pacific Command from Bora Bora in the east across to Solomon Islands in the west and from the Gilbert Islands in the north to New Zealand in the southernmost region of the Pacific The American military command carefully managed interpersonal encounters between the sexes applying race based U S immigration law on Pacific peoples to prevent marriage across the color line For indigenous women and their American servicemen sweethearts legal marriage was impossible giving rise to a generation of fatherless children most of whom grew up wanting to know more about their American lineage Mothers Darlings of the South Pacific traces these children s stories of loss emotion longing and identity and of lives lived in the shadow of global war Each chapter discusses the context of the particular island societies and shows how this often determined the ways intimate relationships developed and were accommodated during the war years and beyond Oral histories reveal what the records of colonial governments and the military have largely ignored providing a perspective on the effects of the U S occupation that until now has been disregarded by Pacific war historians The richness of this book will appeal to those interested the Pacific World War II as well as intimacy family race relations colonialism identity and the legal structures of U S immigration Pacific Northwest Quarterly ,2003 America's Wars in Asia Philip West,Steven I. Levine,Jackie Hiltz,1998 Even though the cultural approach concerns itself with the local and the particular rather than with the abstract and universal it is inherently comparative Moreover it also relocates each war in the historical and cultural experiences of Asian countries themselves rather than seeing the war as merely a conflict between the United States and Asian nations United States and Asia at War: A Cultural Approach Philip West,Steven I. Levine,Jackie Hiltz,2015-06-03 This text examines the Pacific War the Korean War and the Vietnam War from the perspective of those who fought the wars and lived through them The relationship between history and memory informs the book and each war is relocated in the historical and cultural experiences of Asian countries Montana ,2006 The Publishers Weekly ,2005 The Journal of Military History ,2006 Book Review Index ,2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation THE JOURNAL OF ASIAN STUDIES: VOL. 58, NO 2, MAY 1999 ,

Life Is a Wonderful Experience Marie Ueda,2018-06-30 Educated during the American Army occupation in Japan the author begins with her childhood memories describing the postwar era of Japan how General Douglas MacArthur saved a doomed nation and reformed it to a democratic state Being raised in a traditional society the author exclaims the womens role from her own experiences an insiders view Having lived in Tokyo she saw Japans political social and economic transformations During 1970s after leaving Japan she became an expatriate and studied Western Civilization in three different universities Australia Spain and Portugal which resulted in her speaking four languages While in Portugal she began her career as a photojournalist and covered political uprising known to the world as Portuguese Revolution 1974 1976 Upon moving to the United States residing in San Francisco California as a foreign correspondent photojournalist the book recounts her life journey of personal and professional experiences covering numerous major social news events and one of them was a different kind of uprising the gay revolution of the late 1970s to early 1980s which is now the one of the most controversial and politicized movements in the United States today During 1980s she became a world travelogue photographer and traveled the major parts of the globe extensively and has documented her experiences in different countries and candidly expresses what she saw and what she thought including many close calls she encountered Having experiencing deaths of her loved ones as well as having her own death dreams and also miraculously surviving a near fatal automobile accident she opened up her mind to a different dimension the life beyond the death and raised questions regarding our connection with the universe the paranormal phenomenon that occur on our planet Concerning the coming future this autobiography book is written to inform any readers to contemplate and understand our peoples our planet and our human awareness in the 21st century Joyce in the Belly of the Big Truck; Workbook Joyce A. Cascio,2005-05

The Emperor's Guest John Fletcher-Cooke,2012-05-20 Seen through the eyes of John Fletcher Cooke the horrifying but by now often told story of the treatment meted out by the Japanese to their prisoners of war takes on an entirely new light His is a book written without bitterness but at the same time a book which does not look back on suffering shared in the self congratulatory spirit of an old comrades reunion For Sir John has two remarkable advantages one possible unique and the other certainly very rare Firstly throughout his captivity he kept a diary on which this book is based and which as the reader will discover he was almost unbelievably lucky to preserve Secondly as the reader will discover by reading between the lines he never for one moment gave way to despair During his years as a prisoner of war he witnessed and was subjected to a wider spectrum of man s inhumanity to man than he could have expected to experience had Torquemada himself been his tutor To say the he emerged from his descent into hell a wiser and better man is not to condone is suffering It only emphasizes the fact that indomitable courage and great strength of character are often revealed only in adversity Sir John subsequently revisited Japan and the places where he was imprisoned He also met some of the men who had once been his persecutors The final chapters of this very remarkable book reveal once again the humanity compassion and understanding which enabled him to survive when so many others died Civil Liberties Act of 1985 and the Aleutian and Pribilof Islands Restitution Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Administrative Law and Governmental Relations,1987 Pacific Rural Press ,1889 Global Journalism Vera Slavtcheva-Petkova,Michael Bromley,2018-10-09 Providing a truly comprehensive overview of international journalism and global news reporting in the digital age this new introductory textbook surveys the full variety of contexts that journalists around the world operate in the challenges and pressures they face their journalistic practices and the wider theoretical and social implications Analysing key scholarship in the field Vera Slavtcheva Petkova and Michael Bromley explore not just journalism as a single entity but equally the multiple cultures which host journalism and the variety of journalisms which exist across the world Clear and accessible this is an ideal companion for undergraduate and postgraduate students of international and global journalism on journalism or media and communication studies degrees The Pacific Underwriter ,1905 Life Interests of a Geographer, 1861-1944 Hugh Robert Mill,1945 The Fleet at Flood Tide James D.
