Job Safety and Health IT'S THE LAW!

all workers have the right to:

- A safe workplace
- Know exactly what health concern with your workplace or OSHA, or report a work-related injury or illness, without being retaliated against.
- Receive information and training on job hazards, including all hazardous substances in your workplace.
- Request an OSHA inspection of your workplace. After inspection, there are several workplace conditions OSHA will keep your name confidential. You have the right to have a representative contact OSHA on your behalf.
- Participate (or have your representative participate) in an OSHA inspection and speak in private to the inspector.
- File a complaint with OSHA within 30 days (by phone, online or by mail). If you have been retaliated against for raising your rights.
- See any OSHA citations issued to your employer.
- Request copies of your medical records, tests that measure hazards in the workplace, and the workplace injury and illness log.

Employers must:

- Provide employees a workplace free from recognized hazards. It is illegal to retaliate against employees for raising any of their rights under this law, including raising a health and safety concern with you or with OSHA, or reporting a work-related injury or illness.
- Comply with applicable OSHA standards.
- Report to OSHA all work-related fatalities within 8 hours, and all important hospitalizations, amputations and losses of an eye within 24 hours.
- Provide required training to all workers in a language and vocabulary they can understand.
- Prominently display this poster in the workplace.
- Post OSHA citations at or near the place of the alleged violations.

FREE ASSISTANCE to identify and correct hazards is available to small and medium-sized employers, without citation or penalty, through OSHA's assisted consultation program in many states.

Contact OSHA. We can help.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Employment Opportunity
The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) enforces laws that make it illegal to discriminate against a job applicant or an employee because of the person's race, sex, religion, age, national origin, or disability. It also prohibits retaliation against a person for filing a complaint or asserting a claim under these laws.

Disability
A person has a disability if he or she has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, has a record of such an impairment, or is regarded as having such an impairment.

Religious
Religion includes all major world religions, as well as lesser-known religions, such as Rastafarianism, Buddhism, and others. It also includes non-religious beliefs, such as atheism and agnosticism.

National Origin
National origin refers to a person's place of birth, ancestry, and cultural background. It includes discrimination based on a person's accent or language.

Age
The Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA) prohibits employers from discriminating against employees who are 40 years of age or older.

Sex
Sex discrimination includes discrimination based on a person's sex, gender, and sexual orientation.

Race
Race discrimination includes discrimination based on a person's race, ethnicity, and ancestry.

Retaliation
Retaliation occurs when an employer takes adverse action against an employee for filing a complaint or asserting a claim under these laws.

Disability Minimum Wage

Disability Minimum Wage
The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) sets the minimum wage for most workers. However, there is an exception for workers with disabilities. The FLSA allows employers to pay a lower minimum wage to workers with disabilities if the lower wage is necessary for the worker to be able to perform the job.

Eligibility
To be eligible for the disability minimum wage, a worker must be a full-time employee, be at least 18 years old, and be unable to perform the job at the standard minimum wage due to a physical or mental impairment.

Calculation
The disability minimum wage is calculated as a percentage of the standard minimum wage. The percentage is determined by the worker's disability and the nature of the job.

Documentation
Employers must keep records of the worker's disability and the calculation of the disability minimum wage.

Federal Minimum Wage

Federal Minimum Wage
The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) sets the minimum wage for most workers. As of 2025, the federal minimum wage is $15.00 per hour.

Exceptions
There are several exceptions to the federal minimum wage, including tipped workers, students, and workers in certain industries.

Enforcement
The Department of Labor enforces the FLSA. Workers can file a complaint with the Department of Labor if they believe their employer is not paying them the minimum wage.
