Vale, 2002 Lawrence Vale explores the rise fall and redevelopment of three public housing projects in Boston Vale looks at these projects from the perspectives of their low income residents and assesses the contributions of the design professionals who helped to transform these once devastated places during the 1980s and 1990s Report of the National Housing Task Force United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs. Subcommittee on Housing and Urban Affairs, 1988 No Place Like Home Brian J. McCabe, 2016 In No Place Like Home Brian McCabe challenges the ideology of homeownership as a tool for building stronger communities and crafting better citizens McCabe argues that homeowners often engage in their communities as a way to protect their property values and this participation leads to the politics of exclusion A History of American State and Local Economic Development Ronald W. Coan, 2017-04-28 A History of American State and Local Economic Development relates the history of American local and state economic development from 1790 to 2000 This multi variable multi disciplinary history employs a bottom up policy making systems approach while exploring the three eras of economic development The American Economy Cynthia Clark, 2011-03-11 A compelling compilation of short entries longer topical essays and primary source documents that chronicles the historical development of the United States from an economic perspective Based on a work originally published in 2003 The American Economy A Historical Encyclopedia has been thoroughly updated with information on the accounting scandals of the early 2000s and the recession of 2008 including the government stimulus and bailout programs and the recession's impact on key markets With more than 600 short entries 31 longer essays and 32 primary source documents the encyclopedia spans American history from colonial times to the present Researchers will discover detailed information on people events and government actions that have shaped our economy with entries on such seminal issues as slavery migration patterns the welfare state the rise of the city and the development of financial institutions Throughout special attention is paid to the interdependence of economics with political social and cultural forces Covering everything from the national debt to monetary policy law unemployment inflation and government business relations this work is the ideal go to resource for quick answers in depth analysis or direction for further research An Historical and Baseline Assessment of HOPE VI , Unfair Housing Mara S. Sidney,2003 It is difficult to ignore the fact that even as the United States becomes much more racially and ethnically diverse our neighborhoods remain largely segregated The 1968 Fair Housing Act and 1977 Community Reinvestment Act promised to end discrimination yet for millions of Americans housing options remain far removed from the American Dream Why do most neighborhoods in American cities continue to be racially divided The problem suggests Mara Sidney lies with the policies themselves She contends that to understand why discrimination persists we need to understand the political challenges faced by advocacy groups who implement them In Unfair Housing she offers a new explanation for the persistent color lines in our cities by showing how weak national policy has silenced and splintered grassroots activists Sidney explains how political compromise among national lawmakers with divergent interests resulted in housing legislation that influenced how community activists defined discrimination what actions they took and which political relationships they cultivated As a result local governments became less likely to include housing discrimination on their agendas existing laws went unenforced and racial segregation continued A former undercover investigator for a fair housing advocacy group Sidney takes readers into the neighborhoods of Minneapolis and Denver to show how federal housing policy actually works She examines how these laws played out in these cities and reveals how they eroded activists capability to force more sweeping reform in housing policy Sidney also shows how activist groups can cultivate community resources to overcome these difficulties looking across levels of government to analyze how national policies interact with local politics In the first book to apply policy design theories of Anne Schneider and Helen Ingram to an empirical case Sidney illuminates overlooked impacts of fair housing and community reinvestment policies and extends their theories to the study of local politics and nonprofit organizations Sidney argues forcefully that understanding the link between national policy and local groups sheds light on our failure to reduce discrimination and segregation As battles over fair housing continue her book helps us understand the shape of the battlefield and the prospects for victory Liquor Store Theatre Maya Stovall,2020-10-09 For six years Maya Stovall staged Liquor Store Theatre a conceptual art and anthropology video project included in the Whitney Biennial in 2017 in which she danced near the liquor stores in her Detroit neighborhood as a way to start conversations with her neighbors In this book of the same name Stovall uses the project as a point of departure for understanding everyday life in Detroit and the possibilities for ethnographic research art and knowledge creation Her conversations with her neighbors which touch on everything from economics aesthetics and sex to the political and economic racism that undergirds Detroit s history bring to light rarely acknowledged experiences of longtime Detroiters In these exchanges Stovall enacts an innovative form of ethnographic engagement that offers new modes of integrating the social sciences with the arts in ways that exceed what either approach can achieve alone The Affordable Housing Reader J. Rosie Tighe,Elizabeth J. Mueller,2013 The Affordable Housing Reader brings together classic works and contemporary writing on the themes and debates that have animated the field of affordable housing policy as well as the challenges in achieving the goals of policy on the ground The Reader aimed at professors students and researchers provides an overview of the literature on housing policy and planning that is both comprehensive and interdisciplinary It is particularly suited for graduate and undergraduate courses on housing policy offered to students of public policy and city planning The Reader is structured around the key debates in affordable housing ranging from the conflicting motivations for housing policy through analysis of the causes of and solutions to housing problems to concerns about gentrification and housing and race Each debate is contextualized in an introductory essay by the editors and illustrated with a range of texts and articles Elizabeth Mueller and Rosie Tighe have brought together for the first time into a single volume the best and most influential writings on housing and its importance for planners and policy makers Clearinghouse Review ,1986 Public Law 100-198--the Veterans' Home Loan Program Improvements and Property Rehabilitation Act of 1988 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Veterans' Affairs. Subcommittee on Housing and Memorial Affairs,1988 Housing America in the 1980s John S. Adams,1988-05-16 Housing provides shelter in a variety of forms but it is also resonant with meaning on many other levels as a financial asset a status symbol an expression of private aspirations and identities a means of inclusion or exclusion and finally as a battleground for social change John Adams impressive new study explores this complex topic in all its dimensions Using census data and other housing surveys Adams describes the recent history of housing in America the nature of housing supply and demand patterns of housing use and selected housing policy questions Adams supplements this national and regional analysis with a remarkable set of small area analyses revealing how neighborhood settings affect housing use and how market forces and other trends interact to shape a neighborhood These analyses focus on a sample of over fifty urbanized areas including the nation s three largest cities New York Los Angeles and Chicago Special two color maps illustrate the dynamics of housing use in each of these communities Clearly and insightfully this volume paints a unique picture of the American housing landscape a landscape that reflects and regulates significant aspects of our national life A Volume in the Russell Sage Foundation Census Series 1973 Housing and Urban Development Legislation: July 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 23, 24, and 27, 1973 United States.
